CONDRA AND STIEHM ARRANGE FACULTY FOOT BALL GAME

Contest to be Staged Christmas Day on Nebraska Field.

When two heroes of the gridiron meet on the athletic field there is usually something doing. And when two former heroes of the gridiron meet on the campus there is usually something stirring. That's how it comes about that a most wonderful pipe dream was indulged in yesterday by two faculty men well known to the student body.

The principles in our little drama were Coach Stiehm and Dr. Condra. They met out in front of U. hall. Says Doc to Coach:

"Say, Jumbo, let's start something by getting up a faculty football game on Christmas day."

"Agreed," said Jumbo, "who'll we pick for the two elevens?"

"Well," said the doctor, "I'll be one side, and you and ten other former heroes can be the other. Betcha box of seegars I can beatcha."

"All right," returned the coach, "but who'll furnish the seegars?"

"Prof. Frye," asserted the doctor. "If we agree to stage the game on the campus, Frye will come loaded down with choice Havanas, and then he'll have his pet hobby granted by being allowed to smoke them in front of the envying and admiring students."

Doctor and Coach thereupon parted in a happy frame of mind, both satisfied that they were to be the chief figures in the biggest stunt pulled off at the Uni in many a day.

O. J. Fee Will Speak at Temple.

Tonight O. J. Fee will speak in the Temple Music hall on the subject uppermost in the minds of students at this time, "A Profitable Vacation." The talk commences at 7 o'clock and lasts an hour. Better be there for this is the last meeting before the holidays.

Women Students Govern With More Success Than Men

Chicago, Dec. 17. Student government among women undergraduates has been in existence longer, is better organized and is more successful than among men students at universities, according to conclusions reached on this subject at the sixth biennial conference of deans of women of state universities in session here today. Dean Mathews of Wisconsin and Dean Jordon of Michigan were the principal speakers.

Cooperation with women's clubs will be sought, it is said, as a means of meeting the problems of the deans in dealing with the thousands of women undergraduates.

Chaperonage, regulation of dormitories, social life of students, sororities and educational problems are among topics to be discussed. Are men favored in the curriculum plans and do professors pass women on a lower standard than that required of men? are questions to be considered. The conference will close tomorrow.

SCHOOL OF AGRICULTURE IS PLANNING FOR BASKETBALL

"Skinny" Hiltner of Past Season's
Fame Will Coach Prep-School Boys.

Since the close of the football season interest and activity have developed in basketball. Much enthusiasm has been exhibited as is shown by the large number trying out for the team, which is about forty.

"Skinny" Hiltner, U. of N., '13, and for three years Nebraska's brilliant basketball center and now assistant in the registrar's office, is coaching the boys, and in his hands the school is expected to turn out a winning team this year. They are handicapped, however, in being able to practice only two evenings a week.

Principal Bradford is attempting to schedule a full week of games for the week of Organized Agriculture which begins January 19, there being no classes in the school during that time.

Thirteen "A's" were awarded to men on the football team, those receiving the "A" having participated in at least thirteen quarters. The following men received the "A": Thurbur, Capt.; Scofield, captain-elect; Osborn, Knapp, Richard, Bull, Parker, Rogers, Wallace, Bush, Rouse, White and Thompson.

ARE THIRD IN LEAGUE

NEBRASKA IN THIRD PLACE AS RESULT OF TWO STRAIGHT VICTORIES.

LAST YEAR OF THE CIRCUIT

Completes Round of Debates in Central League—Conditions Satisfactory—
Will be Renewed.

The last year of the central debate circuit ends with Nebraska in third position. Iowa heads the list with a total of ten debates won and only six lost. Minnesota is a close second with nine and Nebraska, Illinois and Wisconsin follow in order with eight, seven and six victories. Nebraska won both debates this year with five votes out of a possible six, enabling them to slip up a notch from a tie with Illinois.

This is the last year of the league, but it is highly probable that it will be renewed as all conditions have been satisfactory to the members.

Everything points to another successful year for Nebraska. Some of the old men will be back and it is generally admitted that they have the best coach in the middle west.

I. P. A. ESTABLISHES NEW SOCIETY AT NEBRASKA

Organization of Students Formed as Part of Nation-wide Movement on the Part of College
Men and Women.

The organization of a Nebraska society of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association was announced last night, following a meeting of students interested on Tuesday night. As a result of the meeting the following officers were elected to superintend the organization of the society: Walter A. Hixenbaugh, president; J. C. Beard, vice president; Miss Vance, secretary-treasurer.

An executive council was chosen as follows: Stanhope Pier, J. C. Beard, H. G. Hewitt, Miss Vance, C. S. Holcomb, C. A. Sorenson.

The impetus for the organization of the society was given by the arrival of R. M. J. E. Elder, traveling secretary for the I. P. A. Mr. Elder has been making a tour of his western territory, stopping in Nebraska, and adding the state society to those already operating. Other Nebraska societies are found at Cotner, Wesleyan and Doane.

The meetings of the society are to be held semi-monthly, and speakers are being secured in advance for the rest of the year. Professor Howard has already signified his intention of making one address. Later in the year the society will enter representatives in the state prohibition declamatory contest. Interstate contests with the universities and colleges of neighboring states are also a probability.

Mrs. Cora Brown Freitag is visiting friends in Lincoln.
