

"MESSIAH" PLEASURES CROWD AT ANNUAL CONVOCATION

Large Audience Hears the Musical Masterpiece at Last Program Given Before Holidays.

Before a crowd which filled the chapel to the doors, Mrs. Raymond's university chorus yesterday morning gave its annual rendition of Handel's "Messiah." Throughout the program the audience was unusually enthusiastic, and when, at the close of the entertainment the Halleluah was given, the applause was deafening. It was noted that while the girls were in the majority in the audience, the number of men present was much larger than usual on such occasions. The program was as follows:

Tenor Solo—Comfort Ye My People. Every Valley Shall be Exalted. Mr. Reuben Walt
Chorus—And the Glory of the Lord
Pastoral Symphony
Soprano Recitatives—There were Shepherds. And Lo the Angel of the Lord. And the Angel said Unto Them. And Suddenly there was with the Angel
Miss Winifred Hyde
Chorus—Glory to God in the Highest
Contralto Solo—Then shall the eyes of the blind. He shall feed His flock

Mrs. Arthur Kutzner
Soprano Solo—Come unto Him
Miss Winifred Hyde
Chorus—Hallelujah

A stringed quintet, piano and chorus accompanied the chorus. The quintet was composed of Mr. Ed. J. Walt, first violin; Mrs. August Molzer, second violin; Mr. Wm. T. Quick, viola; Miss Lillian Eiche, cello. Miss Mariel Jones was at the piano and Miss Zumwinkle at the organ.

AWGWAN BREAKS LOOSE AGAIN

Christmas Edition of the Clever Publication Moves Many to Tears.

The "famous" Awgwan, in all its singular splendor, made its occasional appearance for public praise or criticism yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. Teeming with jokes of all varieties, some unusually acute, others ridiculously obtuse, the running mate of "Life" rapidly found its way into the hands of its subscribers and the patrons of Ed Young. The simple, tasty Christmas cover and one or two clever, significant "cuts" catch the eye of the casual reader as he glances through the distinctive pages of the edition. For that particular style, originality and ingenuity is expressive of this fifth number of the Awgwan.

Results of Girls' Tag Week Not as Good as Originally Hoped For

The results that the girls obtained from the sale of the Christmas tags on the campus, were not as good as had been hoped for, according to Miss Geniveve Lowry, who is the chairman of the committee in charge of the work. This is the first attempt at such an idea on the campus and the next will no doubt meet with greater success. The sum that has been handed in to the chairman up to date from the sale is about one hundred and twenty-five dollars.

This sum will be used to enable the poor families of the city to enjoy Christmas, the older members of the families will be given clothing and other useful articles, while the youngsters will receive toys and various playthings that the juvenile heart longs for at this season of the year. The committee has on its list some twenty families, including eighty children which will be cared for from the money obtained from the sale of the tags upon the campus.

The committee has been promised automobiles to use while purchasing and distributing the presents. They will begin the purchase of the gifts Monday and will deliver them the day before Christmas.
