THREE PLAYS SUBMITTED

MANUSCRIPTS ENTERED FOR KOSMET CLUB PRIZE BY STUDENT DRAMATISTS.

FICTITIOUS NAMES ARE USED

Contest Closed Last Night, with Plays in and Lyrics Yet to be Entered—Club Will Now Make Decision.

Student playwrights, to the number of three, jumped at the hundred and fifty dollar offer of the Kosmet club and submitted plays for the annual production of the club. These were due yesterday afternoon, to be left in The Daily Nebraskan office, and by evening it was evident that the three would be the sole contestants for the prize money and the honor. The club will meet in judgment over the manuscripts during the week, and announcements will be made as to the winner as soon as possible, probably the first of next week.

Fictitious names were prescribed by the rules governing the contest. Consequently, the names of the contestants will not be made public until the final decision has been made. Fictitious names evidently had no terrors for the competitors for they submitted famous ones and common ones alike, such as Henry W. Savage, Jr., Hiram Pathe, and Harry B. Smith.

Try-outs for the cast and the actual work of the presentation of the play will not begin until after a thorough drafting and revision of the manuscripts.

Lyrics accompanied one of the plays. By the rules of the contest, lyrics may be submitted later than the date for the plays, but a notification by letter should be sent the Kosmet club, care of Harold Miller, by the ones intending to compete for the music prize.

given the best possible chance to secure all the seats together which they may desire. These reservations will be held till Wednesday night, January 15, when they will be sold to all-comers.

Rehearsals started again last night after the holiday vacation. John T.

Prince, Jr., who is directing the production, is back from a trip to New York and is full of enthusiasm for his work. From now on, the cast will be put through their paces every evening with no regard for anything but actual illness.

AT THE MAGNET THEATER.

Dramatic critics have agreed that "The Third Degree" is one of the strongest plays to go on the boards in recent years. Although much of its strength lies in the dialogue, a great percentage of its gripping intensity is in the dramatic situations. This fact allows an exceptionally strong presentation in pantomime, and the play has been completely reproduced in motion pictures.

These films have been procured by the Magnet theater and will be produced at that play house, 1511 O street, for three afternoons and evenings beginning Tuesday afternoon. Although many motion picture houses in the east have raised prices during the days that this picture was featured the Magnet prices will remain the same while the film is on exhibition.
