STUDENT COUNCIL

Have you read the article on the student council movement in this issue? If not, turn to it at once. It contains enough of the constitution of the Michigan Student Council to give you an idea of its working principles. A similar council is advocated for Nebraska. Familiarize yourself with the skeleton of all such bodies, well represented by this one.

This is the first of a series of articles on the student council movement to be published in the Nebraskan. We are going to print many more selections from constitutions, and many letters from people who have seen, first-hand, similar systems at work. It is your duty to understand this proposal. You must say whether or not we are to adopt it. It is of vital importance to the University. We give you the facts. Make your own conclusions.

CADET ENCAMPMENT

Officers in the cadet regiment are circulating petitions among the men for the reinstatement of cadet encampment. We understand that this custom was discontinued last year because of certain unpleasant happenings at Crete the year before. No matter now who was right and who was wrong, the question is, Will there ever be another camp? It is practically up to the cadets. If they sign the petition there is little doubt about it.

Encampment is a good thing. Of course, there are excesses both on the part of the commanded and the commanders which are bad. But, in the main, camp is one of the best influences in student life. Outside of the mere fact that the boys always have the "time of their lives," there are positive merits to be considered. It is the "melting pot" of University life. "Barb" and "Greek" lie down together. There is no distinction other than military rank. It is at camp that a true University spirit is formed. It is here that all of us have a common interest, a common bond to hold us together. It is at camp that we come to know more men than at any other—yes, at all other events of the year. Cadets, vote for camp.

TODAY IN NEBRASKA'S HISTORY

February 6, 1913.

Inter-Sorority Council abolishes present rules. Decide that fair competition is impossible and give up bad job for this semester.

February 6, 1904.

Sophomore election will be influenced by Junior Annual. Interest greatly increasing. W. H. Smith of Tobias, C. M. Mathewson of Winnebago, and C. G. Hrubesky of Geneva have announced themselves as candidates. President Stein will not run again.

February 6, 1912.

Freshmen trying to prove themselves not so sophisticated by means of more moonlight dances. Also limiting their dances to 100 couples.

The exercise of these powers shall be limited to the academic year, exclusive of the Summer Session.

Section 2. Legislative.—The Student Council may make rules and regulations affecting student customs, elections, celebrations, ceremonies, special games and contests not under the control of the Athletic Board, and the general behavior of the student body, except insofar as the regulation of such matters is now, or hereafter may be, provided for by the University authorities.

Section 2. Executive.—The Student Council shall administer its rules and regulations, or provide for their administration.

Section 4. Judicial.—Upon written request of the President of the University, or of the Dean of any department thereof, the Student Council may, at its discretion, make an investigation into any matter of concern to student life and report in writing the facts ascertained to the officer making such request, with or without recommendation as the request shall state.

The Student Council may decide, subject to an appeal to the Senate Council, any dispute referred to it by any undergraduate organization, not otherwise provided for. No member of the Student Council who is personally interested in the result may sit in such trial, said question of interest to be decided by the Student Council without debate.

All official communications from the University authorities to the Student Council or from the Student Council to the University authorities shall be in writing.

Article VI.—Veto.

The authority of the Senate Council to veto any action of the Student Council is hereby recognized. . . . In emergency cases the action of the Student Council may be made effective immediately with the consent of the President of the University.

Article V.—Membership.

Section 1. Number of Members.—The Student Council shall consist of not less than twenty nor more than thirty members.

Section 2. Departmental Representation.—Representation shall be apportioned among the seven departments of the University according to the number of undergraduates enrolled in each department on the first of November of each year.

Section 3. Qualifications.—Only men from the Junior and Senior classes who have been members of their classes for at least three semesters may be elected to membership in the Student Council.

Article VI.—Elections.

Section 3. Nominations and Elections.—No solicitation for support for any candidate, or electioneering of any kind, shall be carried on by candidates or by any other person.

This gives a person a fair idea of what is going on at Michigan. We are about to consider such a plan. Watch the Rag for more material.

SENIORS HOLD MEETING
FOLLOWING CONVOCATIONMid-Year Graduating Exercises to Be Held at St. Paul's Church.

Yesterday morning at 11:50 o'clock just half of the forty mid-year graduating class assembled to discuss and decide some important remaining details. L. T. Skinner acted as chairman of the meeting and ably conducted the business of selecting announcements, ordering gowns, etc.

Mid-year graduating exercises have usually been held in Memorial Hall, but this year's class is fortunate in having the privilege of holding commencement in the St. Paul's Methodist church.

All orders for announcements must be in by Saturday of this week in order to have everything in readiness by February 16th. The advertisement of the printer will be found in another part of this paper.

A RUSHEE'S FATE.

Rushing days have come at last. The strangest of the year. Some folks are glad and some are sad. Pledge day is drawing near.

The halls are filled with maids and men. In classes three divided. The first are those whose fate is still By others undecided.

The second class of worried souls, You know, are those who rush And try with might and main to make A frat pal of their crush.

The third are those who merely watch The ways they seem to know, And when the pledges are announced They'll say: "We told you so." GENEVA SEEGER.

Utah Freshmen Get Too Fresh With the Green Paint.

Freshmen at the University of Utah who painted their numerals on a large boulder on the campus were tried by the Student Council. To right the misdemeanor they were compelled to scrub off every bit of paint and also to make humble apology before the student body of that institution.

Wouldn't that have been a good stunt for the folks who painted up the campus the week before the Ames game? Of course not. We need school spirit, and lots of it.—Drake Daily Delphic.
