The DAILY NEBRASKAN purposes to be the free voice of student sentiment; to be fair, to be impartial, to seek advice as well as offer it, to truthfully picture college life; to go further than the mere printing of news by standing for the highest ideals of the University; in short, to serve the University of Nebraska.

CONVOCATION

Audience Enraptured by Real Music—
Carl Steckelberg at Convocation.

Perhaps one of the most appreciated musical programs ever heard at a Nebraska Convocation was the one rendered yesterday morning by Carl Steckelberg, violin soloist of the University School of Music, accompanied by Mrs. Steckelberg. It was hard for his enthusiastic listeners to detect their favorite. After the program had been completed the students and members of the faculty refused to go, but insisted upon an encore.

Senior Laws held another meeting yesterday for purpose of electing remaining officers, who were not elected last Tuesday because of lack of time. The following were elected: First vice president, L. B. Fuller; secretary, H. Thomas; class senator, Rotruck.

RUSSIAN PROGRAM GIVEN AT COSMOPOLITAN CLUB

presented a few Russian and Italian folk dances. Mr. Ksenotofontof also gave a few musical selections on the "balalaika," a Russian instrument. The music was Russian and well received. Several pieces were required to satisfy the audience.

Chancellor Avery was called upon to give an address. The Chancellor stated that one of the purposes of the club was to promote race pride and decrease race prejudice. He stated that race prejudice was the lowest thing in humanity. The Chancellor concluded his address by giving a short review of the good old days in New England, the place of his birth, with no regrets that his parents moved to Nebraska.

The program of the evening was closed by singing "America." This is customary in all Cosmopolitan Club meetings. The reason is obvious. Guy Reed, as chairman, called the business meeting to order. Mr. Reed read a few extracts from different magazines on the work the clubs are doing. He also read the following section from the constitution of the Cornell University club, which states very clearly their object:

"The object of this club shall be to unite for their mutual benefit, socially and intellectually, men of all nationalities and to promote the organization of chapters in other universities in the United States of America and in other countries."

Miss Hrbek reported on the national convention she attended. She informed the club that Mrs. Beatrice Mekota, a former student here, is a member of the national executive committee.

After the business meeting a two course luncheon was served. The novelty of the luncheon was the genuine Russian tea prepared by Mr. Newton. The tea was prepared in a "samovar," and was very good and stimulating.

With the luncheon the meeting was closed. Anyone who is interested in this work may attend the meetings and programs, which are very interesting.

men. He is a member of Delta Upsilon.

Juniors.

Two prominent juniors are in the race, Will Bauman and Herbert Reese. Will Bauman is an engineer and a soldier—first lieutenant of Cadet Company "E." Bauman was chairman of the recent successful Junior Prom. He is a member of the Komensky Club and of Silver Lynx fraternity. "Herb" Reese is a Y. M. C. A. man and an athlete. He is the holder of the indoor record for the fifty-yard dash. He is the chairman of the Y. M. C. A. finance committee and in charge of their work at the State Farm. The fur is flying thick. Both men have been working for some time, and have the class well lined up, pro and con.

Silas Bryan is opposing the election of Leon Samuelson to the editor-in-chief position of the Cornhusker for next year. Here again the fight is a hot one. Both men are well known and both are fraternity men. Samuelson has precedent, and Bryan has originality. There is bound to be some fight here.

Sophomores.

The Sophomores have the most pluma to give—and here the fight is the hottest. Enthusiasm has not yet been dampened, every man sees an opportunity to become a college "Bath House John." So everybody is out, sleeves rolled way up, working for the man who can do the most for him.

Fred Wells and Harold Schwab are filling for the junior managing editor of the Cornhusker. Both these men are very prominent. Both are fraternity men. Wells has been chairman of a class hop, an associate editor of the "Rag," and a member of Alpha Theta Chi. Schwab is a debater, representing his class last year, and making an alternate on the team that beat Iowa this year. "Jake" is a Delta Tau.

Marcus Poteet and Willard Folsom are out for business manager. Here once more a fine old fight is expected. Both of these men have long had the "bug" and they have been "working" the class since long before Christmas. Folsom is well known about school, and is a Beta. Poteet is not a fraternity man. He is now circulation manager of "Awgwan."

For class president, J. F. Liebendorfer and Roy F. Cameron have announced themselves. "Lieby" is the hero of last year's Olympics, and Cameron is the same who last year played right tackle on the invincible Cornhusker eleven. Liebendorfer is not a fraternity man. Cameron is an Alpha Sigma Phi.

Freshmen.

So far as we are able to learn, "Shorty" Allen, of football fame, is the only "fros" out for the president job. But there are many rumors afloat that more men will come out before tonight. These freshmen are rather bashful, but with sufficient inducement they will file.

A number of University girls composing the alumni of the Girls' Debating Society of the Lincoln High School, held a luncheon in the faculty rooms at the Temple yesterday. It was in the nature of a reunion for the girls who belonged to this society in high school and who are now in the University.

Helen Sawyer, '13, is now assisting in the sewing department at the State Farm.

Helen Thomas has gone to her home in Tecumseh because of the illness of her aunt.
