The DAILY NEBRASKAN purposes to be the free voice of student sentiment; to be fair, to be impartial; to seek advice as well as offer it; to truthfully picture college life; to go further than the mere printing of news by standing for the highest ideals of the University; in short, to serve the University of Nebraska.

UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

University extension plans are well under way. Phi Alpha Tau stands sponsor of the movement. The success of a similar work in Minnesota is the provocation.

The Nebraskan wants to see this proposal carried through. We feel that one of the most needed of all movements in this state is the bringing into closer relationship of the University and the people. At present, they are far apart. The University means little more to the average out-state man than a place to send young people to spend some money, acquire a few college habits, and perhaps some knowledge of practical value. But they don't see the practical side. They see—through colored glasses, perhaps—only the extravagant, the ultrasocial, side of college.

University extension work plans to show the people the other side of the institution. It will give them firsthand evidence of what we are doing for their sons and daughters.

Furthermore, it will educate and amuse. It will cause our people, as it caused the Minnesota people, to depend upon the University for their advice and instruction on important questions. They will realize at once on their investment. They will be made to realize what the University can and is willing to do for them.

WE ARE IN FAVOR OF EXTEN-SION.

People We Know.

Please note that the phone number of the Daily Nebraskan has been changed and is now L-7451.

E. L. Abbott, varsity football '13, is in school this week doing some forestry work.

Professor Hoffman, head of the Mechanical Engineering department, will talk tonight before the engineers of the Kansas Agricultural College at Manhattan on "Fundamentals of Heating and Ventilating."

The following out-of-town visitors are here for the Achoth formal and banquet: Edith Shrum of Omaha, Eva Rosenbaum of Harvard, Inez Valle of Norfolk, Kathleen Morgan and Mrs.
Mable Alesworth of Aurora, Mrs. A. E.
Bedner and Hazel Fishwood of Swanton, and Frances Chaburn of Beaver Crossing.

GIRLS' CONVOCATION

made the means of livelihood. They may be pursued as vocations, but other methods of self-support must be adopted. Some of the professions other than teaching offer a means of livelihood as well as the satisfying of our highest ambitions and deepest purposes.

The first of these professions is nursing. College women are needed to fill the positions of superintendents of hospitals which nurses of mediocre ability are unable to fill. Such positions require a nurse's training as well as a college education. Medicine is another calling to which women might profitably devote themselves. This is caused by the great shortage of women physicians in the missionary fields.
Opportunities of this sort in our country are, however, slightly limited.

There is also a lack of college women to fill the positions of business secretaries of the large corporations.
Library work offers a wide field for college-trained women. The college women who are acquainted with the large cities will find excellent opportunities to become superintendents of the model tenements. This requires a great business ability. Women who are also familiar with cities often become interested in the work of charity organizations, which supply ample opportunities. There are, on the other hand, great opportunities for the country-bred women in regard to the country life movements.

There is also a field open to college women in the Young Women's Christian Association work. Such are some of the opportunities which may be a means of livelihood for college women.

TODAY IN NEBRASKA'S HISTORY

February 20, 1902.

Dean Reese of the law school last night took occasion to score heavily those students who have been guilty of bringing obnoxious chemicals into lecture rooms. He said that if the guilty ones were known to him he would not hesitate to suspend them from the privileges of the University.

February 20, 1911.

Athletic Manager Eager announces that a two-year contract with Minnesota is closed. First game is to be played October 19, next, at Minneapolis; the second, in 1913, at Lincoln.
Negotiations with both Michigan and Wisconsin are still pending.

HAWKEYES TO MEET
NEBRASKA HERE TODAY

team has been working hard under the coaching of Owen Daily, the champion Nebraska wrestler, since the Christmas holidays and are in fairly good shape, although three members of the team will make their initial bow in this sport next Saturday evening.
Gunther, a veteran of two years, will come to the mat in excellent shape, free from physical injuries and with the third year determination to win which undoubtedly will spell a big letter "N" for him. Gunther will wrestle in the 145-pound class.

Art Balls, the football wizzard, is also expected to make good at this new game, and the practice he secured on Nebraska field last fall will prove the winning element for him in his contest for the middle weight.

Frank Kruse, of track fame, will defend the title to the heavy weight for Nebraska, and if he goes over his opponent like he is known to go over the hurdles he will have no difficulty in winning his fall.

Henry Pascale, a new man in Nebraska athletics, will wrestle at 125 pounds, and from the showing he made in the tryouts he will soon have his opponent on a "hog train going south."

Captain Ganz will "rattle" (that's what Farmer Burns calls it) the 140-pound class. Ganz is fast and an aggressive grappler. Owen Daily says he is the class.

It is urged that all loyal Nebraskans, co-eds included, turn out for this meet.
It is an annual affair and one that deserves the loyal support of every Nebraskan. At Iowa last year, when Nebraska met the Hawkeyes on their home floor, some several co-eds greeted the men, to say nothing of the men.
Can't we do as well at Nebraska as they do at Iowa? A good crowd is all that is necessary to make the team win and no one can ever tell but what old Number One will be just what is necessary for a Nebraska man to get a half nelson and a crotch hold that will touch Iowa's shoulders to the mat.

WILLIAM E. KAVAN MARRIED IN OMAHA

Was It Our "Bill"?—Politics Might Have Proved Too Much—Taken From Omaha Bee.

Did "Bill" Kavan celebrate the election of Roswell Haskell by taking unto himself a wife? Rumor has it that 'tis sad but true. In yesterday's Omaha Bee we see the following:

HYMNEAL
Kavan—Hendrix
"Miss Dollie Hendrix of Council Bluffs and William E. Kavan of Omaha were married by Rev. Charles W.
Savage at his residence Tuesday evening at 8:30. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nicholson of South Omaha."

"Bill" doesn't say one way or the other. When questioned he merely grins—nothing more.
