COM. TALKS CAMP

OLD PETITIONS A THING OF THE PAST—NEW ONES OUT SOON.

YORK OFFERS GOOD BONUS

Cadets Are Beginning to Look Favorably on the Proposition Because of Liberal Terms—Afternoon and Evening Off.

Lieutenant Bowman outlined the proposed cadet encampment to half of the companies last night. He will talk to the others tonight. The Commandant wished it to be well understood that he took no part in the circulating of the former petitions. These petitions, secured under criticised methods, have been declared null and void. Entirely new petitions will be circulated after the cadets become familiar with the proposal. Lieutenant Bowman urged the cadets to take a stand definitely on one side or the other, to sign or not to sign according to individual convictions, and then to everlasting keep their peace.

If 85 per cent of the cadets sign the petition Lieutenant Bowman will present the petition in person to the University Senate. Camp will then be compulsory. If less than this number sign, he will drop the matter for this year.

The Commandant paints a rosy picture concerning camp. It will be either at Leavenworth, Kansas, or at York. York offers favorable location and a good bonus besides. Camp will have many attractions. There will be but one "hike," in the morning. Afternoons and evenings will be left to the pleasure of the soldier boys. Shower baths will be installed for each company and for the officers.

Regular military discipline will be the rule. There will be no running the guard lines, and no howling and yelling all night long. If anyone feels that he must stay out later than "taps" he will be allowed to do so—on permission, but not otherwise. And if anyone feels that he must fire off a gun or yell all night he may do so—on permission only. But woe be unto him that doeth aught he shouldn't without permission.

From the general sentiment expressed by the cadets it seems that the proposal is meeting with their entire approval. The proposed camp certainly "listens' good" to the men. It looks as if the petitions would easily be filled to the required limit.

JUNIOR PLAY TICKETS GOING VERY SLOWLY

Business Manager Northrup States Plainly That the Junior Class Must Get Busy.

Owing to the fact that the Junior Play is forced to enter into competition with Otis Skinner, Eva Tanguay, and the formal season, "The Man From Home" promises to be a financial failure unless the Junior class comes forward to back the thing with the support they owe it. The play that bids fair to be one of the greatest artistic successes of years is walking straight into financial failure because the student body as a whole, as well as the Junior class, who ought to be especially interested, are giving their support to professional companies rather than to their own University talent.

"The Man From Home" is an exceptional play, the cast is, as everyone knows, composed of some of the best talent in the University. Only one man in a secondary part had to be dropped from the cast after the play was under rehearsal, and no effort has been spared to give the play an adequate setting. Yet, in spite of all this, the lethargy on the part of the student body in supporting this performance has been appalling. Up to last night scarcely a hundred dollars worth of tickets had been sold.

Ralph Northrup, the business manager, says: "I want to put this matter fairly and squarely before the Junior class, and I want them to realize that it is not upon the cast, or the play committee, or the business manager that the success of this play depends, but upon the members of the class themselves. I want them to know beforehand what they can expect if they do not take it upon themselves to make this thing a financial success. It means a debt, and a big one, that will merely have to be shouldered later."

"GENETICS IN FORESTRY" DISCUSSED BY MARKWOOD

Regular Meeting of Forestry Club Held Last Night—Speaker Well Up on His Subject.

The Forestry Club held its regular meeting last night in N. 2. H. W. Markward, '13, talked on "Genetics in Forestry." Mr. Markward pointed out how plants inherit the characteristics of the plants from which they sprung. An interesting thing which was pointed out by the speaker was that we inherit the characteristics of our grandfathers more than those of our fathers. Mr. Markward stated that we really are our father's half-brothers. The inheritance of trees was pointed out very clearly by the speaker, who has made a careful study of the subject.

CO-EDS TO EDIT AN EDITION OF THE "RAG"

Five Young Ladies to Head the Work—Various Features for the Surprise of Subscribers.

The spirit of the suffragette invaded the Nebraskan office yesterday. The young ladies of the staff had held a dark and secret meeting and had decided to take the paper into their own hands. Down they came in a body upon the hapless men. But the men stood their ground. A battle royal ensued, arguments were hurled, sharp as spear points, back and forth. It seemed as if both sides would win, both be defeated.

Miss Squires and Mr. Spencer drew away from the thick of the fight and arranged a compromise. The main provision was that the young ladies be allowed to edit one issue of the

SENIOR PROM AT LINDELL HOTEL MARCH 28

Extensive Preparations Being Made—Only Ninety Tickets Validated—Grand March to Begin Early.

The Senior Prom, said by the committee to be the most elaborate function of its kind yet to be held at the University, will be held in the new Lindell Hotel ball room Saturday evening, March 28. The dance has been planned carefully and the committee has been busy for the past two weeks figuring with caterers, decorators and program manufacturers in an effort to make the affair the one function held at the University this year to always be remembered.

By placing the concessions for the Prom on a competitive basis the committee has secured the lowest possible prices for the cost of the dance and it will not be necessary to crowd the ball room with dancers in order to pay the expenses of the dance. Accordingly only ninety tickets have been validated for the Prom and no more will be issued, as it is the desire of the committee to afford the dancers plenty of room for dancing and do away with the stepping on feet and bumping that has prevailed at several of the dances this year. A number of tickets have already been sold, while others have been reserved with the assurance that they will be taken up immediately upon the return of the purchaser after the spring recess, when he will have the necessary consideration.

The dance will begin earlier than has been the custom, the grand march beginning at 8 o'clock sharp. Four hours of dancing will thus be given, where formerly the dancing was limited to three hours, with the last four dances run together as one. The programs are promised to be original in every detail and will be unlike anything yet seen on the campus. The

PLANTS FOR THE UNI.

FORESTRY STUDENTS TO RAISE SHRUBS FOR CITY CAMPUS.

GROUND TO BE BROKEN SOON

Place to Be Selected for the Study of Trees—Pen Woods Being Seriously Considered—Work to Be Practical.

The Forestry department has established a nursery at the Farm for the purpose of carrying on practical study. As soon as ground can be broken seeds of various decorative shrubs and commercial trees will be planted. It is believed that the nursery will afford much which can not be gotten by no other means than practical study. The work on this nursery is to be done wholly by students in the department. The nursery will not only benefit the University in that it offers a place where students may get practical knowledge, but will also be a place where the campus gardener may procure decorative trees and shrubs for the campus. It is expected that by the time the campus location is settled there will be enough shrubs at the nursery so that the new campus may be decorated with "home-grown" material.

The Forestry department has been somewhat hampered because it had no place to carry on practical study. In addition to the nursery, a place where study of other forest problems is being looked for by the professors of the department. A place which is forested and can be wholly devoted to forestry is the kind the professors would like to secure. It is thought that the state owns the kind of land desired in the vicinity of some of its institutions located here in Lincoln. Professors Morrill and Childs expect to make an exploring trip this week to see whether the state owns such land as is desired by the Forestry department.

RUBBER GAME AT THE AUDITORIUM TONIGHT

Wesleyan Very Confident—Huskies to Work Hard—Stiehm Quiet After Steady Training.

Tonight, in the City Auditorium, Wesleyan and Nebraska will decide the state basketball championship. To date each team has won one game. This is to be the rubber.

According to the "dope," Wesleyan expects to walk away with the game and humble Nebraska in her home, such as never before has been done. But our boys say that it "can't be did." Anyway, there is going to be some lively scramble from whistle to whistle.

Inquiries have been made if season tickets will be good for tonight's game. Manager Reed announces that season tickets will not be accepted tonight. The admission will be 50 cents.
