

CAMP PETITIONS MEETING WITH SOME SUCCESS

Spring Days and Visions of Vacation at Home Puts Damper on the Signers Just Now.

The camp petitions are out and are being circulated among the cadets. When interviewed by a staff reporter several company captains admitted that the petitions were not being signed by the cadets as fast as had been expected. Nevertheless they seemed optimistic and believed that the required number of signatures would soon be on hand. Probably the students during the last week have been thinking more of vacation and home than they have of an outing in June. When they get back from their week's vacation and have nothing to think about it is prophesied that they will be more eager to affix their names to these petitions.

True to his recent position, Commandant Bowman is taking an absolutely neutral attitude in the matter and is leaving the question wholly to the decision of the students. When interviewed by a Rag reporter yesterday, he referred him to the captains of the different companies, with the statement that it was up to the cadets.

Those who have charge of the petitions and who are in favor of the camp expect to push them after vacation, as the time is drawing near when some definite decision must be reached.

SPRIG! SPRIG! SPRIG! VACATION NEXT WEEK

Suggested That Spring Vacation Comes Too Early—Interferes With Exams.

Spring vacation commences officially next Monday morning and continues for a week. The greater part of the students will pack their suit-cases and leave for the countryside tomorrow afternoon and evening. Of all the vacations during the year, the week at spring time is perhaps the most popular with students. There's something in the breeze that seems to breathe "The Call of the Wild," and even students like to forget their work and enjoy it for a few days.

Information is being secured from the faculty members and from the students regarding the feasibility of a change in the spring vacation week. There has been some dissatisfaction expressed on account of its coming so early, and others have complained that it comes too close to the mid-semester exams. It has been suggested that it would be best to postpone it until the first week after mid-semester. It is urged that this would be later in the season and would be more conducive to good grades at the mid-semesters.
