BUSINESS MEN INTERESTED IN UNIVERSITY EXTENSION

Sorenson Explains University Week Plan to Convention of Nebraska Retailers.

The University Week plan made great progress yesterday. Merchants to the number of 700 heard C. A. Sorenson, an ardent advocate of the plan, in a short, spicy and convincing talk explain the purpose and possibilities of University Week. Applause greeted the statement that "the University should reach all the people all the time." By their close attention and applause these business men showed their hearty support of the plan.

Mr. Sorenson spoke in part as follows:
"Our University, supported by the dollars of the people, supplied with students from the people, exists primarily and all the time to serve the people. The University exists not merely for the few who can send their sons and daughters to Lincoln, but to reach and serve every individual in the state.

"How? By taking the University to the people. We call it University Extension. Some one has said that in Wisconsin the University is as close to the intelligent farmer as his pigpen or tool house.

"Nebraska is not far behind. Our Agricultural College, through the use of microscope and test tube, is laying the foundation for scientific farming.

"Professor Condra is doing much in calling attention to the great resources of the state.

"Professor Fogg, through his High School Debating League, is causing hundreds, if not thousands, of high school students to think and express themselves on public questions.

"These are but a few examples of the contact of the faculty with the people of the state. It is real, genuine service.

"What are the students doing in University Extension? So far, nothing. But we are eager to do our share. That is why I am here. Here is our plan. We call it 'University Week.' (Here follows a description of the plan.)

"Minnesota has this plan, and likes it. Observers declare it raises the 'pep' and enthusiasm in a town 20 per cent.

"We speak of democracy. This is democracy—sharing with the people that which has been produced indirectly through their sacrifice.

"The students want to show the people what an excellent University they have. The students want to show the people that the University is an ideal place for young men and women to develop mentally and morally; that the students do not come here, as some think, to waste their money and damn their souls. The students want to show the people that they appreciate the confidence and interest of the people in equipping and maintaining so great a school for them.

"The old idea of a University was that of a great institution above and beyond the people; a kind of scholastic cloister. The new idea is that of service to all the people all the time."

MUST PAY FOR THEIR SPACE

All organizations desiring to be represented in the Cornhusker must pay for their space before vacation. All but a few of the cuts have been sent to the engravers and the last bunch must be sent this week in order to conform with the contract and get the book out on May 1.

BAND GOES INTO THE STATE NEXT MONDAY

Six Dates Settled—May Extend Trip Two Weeks—Band Furnishes Half of Necessary $1,000.

On Monday, March 16, the University Cadet Band starts on its first annual tour, which is to cover at least one and possibly two weeks.

Prof. C. B. Cornell, instructor of the band, outlined the origin of the plan to a Rag reporter as follows:

"The idea was conceived in the minds of members of the band two or three years ago, but at that time we were unable financially to put the plan into execution. Our appeal to the University authorities for financial support was useless, and so we set out to make our own money. We now have about $200 to start out with, every cent of which has been earned by the boys themselves.

"From the money thus made by the band enough was withdrawn a few weeks ago to send a booking agent out to make the dates. The schedule as it stands so far is as follows:

- "March 16—Wahoo.
- "March 17—Fremont.
- "March 18—Schuyler.
- "March 19—Central City.
- "March 20—Ravenna.
- "March 21—York.

"The contracts as made by Mr. Lane, the advance agent, provide a guarantee of entertainment for the band, and at least $25. If the proceeds from the entertainment exceed that amount the organization gets half.

"The total expense will amount to practically $1,000, of which the band will have to furnish half."

Besides the forty members of the band, there will be Helga Larssen Cornell, Norwegian soprano, who will render several solos at each entertainment. She is known all over Europe and the south and eastern part of the United States, and according to a Chicago critic, she is the greatest singer of folk songs since Jennie Lind.

Mr. Gordon Beck will render trombone solos at each entertainment and will also play with the famous Nebraska Trombone Sextette. Gordon's wife will accompany him on the trip.

GREAT BENEFIT DERIVED BY ALL PARTICIPANTS

Schwab Made Trip to Malcolm on Debating Team—Ease of Delivery by the Gophers in Debate.

In discussing the benefits to be derived from a University Week there are many viewpoints to be taken. One of the most important, perhaps, is from the standpoint of the students who will represent the University. At least one hundred students will go out into the state every year with the various attractions. Every one of them will be benefited in many ways. In the first place, it gives each one a chance to meet the people of the state and to see about fifteen towns in all parts of the state. This is certainly broadening, and will stand one in good stead when the time comes to go out into the state to make a living.

Another benefit that is very evident is the practice the students will get in their various lines of work. As an example of the benefit derived from this practice, take the Minnesota debating team that debated Nebraska last fall. These men were polished speakers and showed an ease and smoothness that Nebraska had not attained, simply because of this lack of training. As another example, take the Wesleyan Glee Club. This club has taken extensive trips every year and their reputation is enviable. This reputation was gained simply through the excellence gained through practice in many entertainments.

So, looking at this proposition from a selfish standpoint alone, every University student should heartily favor it and try to do all he can to put this plan over.

Cabaret Dinner for Students' Union
A cabaret chicken dinner is to be given by the members of the Michigan Union, at which the tables will be arranged in restaurant style and performers will do their acts about the tables instead of on the platform, as was the custom before the inauguration of the cabaret idea.—Daily Californian.
