

SENATOR LEE S. OVERMAN

This is a new photograph of Senator Overman of North Carolina, who is chairman of the senate rules committee and member of six other committees, including that on appropriations.

MATERIAL ACCUMULATING FOR GIRLS' EDITION

Co-eds Claim They Have Started Over Three-fourths of the Reforms at Nebraska.

All the material for the girls' edition is being collected and the "write ups" of the various girls' activities will be submitted in a few days.

The Black Masques are preparing a very complete list of all of the movements that have been instituted by the girls this year. The boys will be surprised to learn that three-fourths of all of the proposed reforms for the school and classes have been originated by the co-eds.

The girls on the regular staff of the Nebraskan are working on special departments of the paper, and some "brand" new jokes are promised. Fussers and noted politicians will receive honorable mention.

The special edition will be printed in magazine form and each department will have a separate section.

SENIOR CLASS HAS NO NATURAL BORN POETS

Men in Charge Greatly Agitated—Even Freshies Urged to Help—Must Be in This Week.

The Senior class is now facing such a crisis in its existence that make all their financial troubles fade into mere insignificance. The awful reality now obscuring the light can be stated briefly—a class poem is sorely needed. So far none of the embryonic bards who are wont to commune with the muse have offered very tangible evidence of their art. Up to the present time the number of poems submitted have been less than few. The class poem which is to be inserted in the invitations must be turned in at once, as the time is past due when the invitations should have been printed. The committee is almost frantic. Barney Gill and Johnny Cutright have been nailing every senior, junior, soph and freshie who would lend a sympathetic ear and imploring them to get busy and invoke their talent to uphold the honor and glory of the class of 1914, et cetera ad libitum.

Start to work, you jinglers; wrap a wet towel around your throbbing dome of thought and don't stop until the "poem" is finished. The committee is ready to consider anything you have. The "poems" may be handed to Barney Gill or sent to his address, 1025 J street. The poem must be in this week.

GEORGE ADE

The Progressives of Indiana are trying to persuade George Ade, playwright and author, to enter the race for the United States senatorship against Senator Shively, Democrat. If he refused he probably will be nominated for representative.

DATE FOR INTER-FRAT MEET HAS BEEN SET

Freshmen Are Promising Material—Each Team Confident—Are Working Out Daily in Gymnasium.

The date of the inter-fraternity track meet has finally been set for April 4. The meet will consist of eight events. It promises to be very closely contested, as nearly every bunch has some very good representatives on the track and in the field. Many men have been working out, and although they may not be quite varsity material, yet many of them are doing fine work. Some of the freshmen are doing especially good work. Some of the best records are expected from the freshmen, since they are excluded from the varsity teams.

Chimes After Victories.

The chimes of the University of Syracuse rang out the other night, telling the story of a victory over Colgate. Hereafter the chimes will be rung after all Syracuse varsity victories, athletic or otherwise, at home or abroad.

JAMES A. FREAR

James A. Frear, Republican, who represents Wisconsin's Tenth district in congress, was born in the Badger state fifty-two years ago. He is a lawyer and has held many public offices.

dents have acquired the position of seniors they should give a play with some dignity—and classic value. This production would require about forty people, which its supporters claim would give more of the graduates an opportunity to participate. It would also require some very elaborate costumes.

The objection to "The Fortune Hunters" is that it will require an expenditure of a one hundred dollar royalty. It is a modern play and will require about a dozen players. Many of those who have read claim it would take well with the student body and that it would be easily dramatized. The playwright's tax is the chief objection which is raised concerning this production.

The committee plans on having the play ready during the latter part of April. If the members of the class decide today that they will give the play, tryouts will be held at once and the work of preparation will commence.

Student Council Convention.

The Senior class is going to take the initiative in the choosing of delegates to the student council convention, and it is expected that the other classes will follow suit.

Athletic Department Complete.

The Athletic department of the 1913-14 Cornhusker will be more complete than the same department in any similar issue. Numerous snap shots were taken during the football season. The camera men were fortunate enough to catch the scoring play in every game. Every play is practically told in pictures.

PROFESSOR FRYE SHARES IN TROWBRIDGE ESTATE

Ten Thousand Dollars of the Million and a Quarter Legacy is Professor's Share.

Professor Frye of the Rhetoric department was fortunately considered to the extent of $10,000 in the will of his relative, Mrs. Minnie Hackett Trowbridge. The entire estate runs over the million mark and its distribution is a surprise to many relatives. James K. Hackett, the famous actor, was disinherited, much to his astonishment.

Although the will may be contested by some of the disappointed relatives, the professor does not feel that he will be effected in any way.

ANNOUNCEMENT

During the remaining weeks of the school year the Daily Nebraskan will issue several special numbers in supplement form. It has been the custom in previous years for various school organizations to ask the management of the Daily Nebraskan to allow one issue of the paper to a certain organization. These special issues have always been successful from the editorial standpoint but nearly always a financial burden to the paper. In the future special editions will be issued in supplement form only as this method allows plenty of time to get news and advertising matter into shape and will not cause a delay in the issue of the daily edition.

During the next five weeks several special editions will be issued as follows:

SPRING OPENING EDITION early in April.

GIRL'S NUMBER early in May.

PHARMACEUTICAL NUMBER second week in May.

Other EDITIONS will be arranged for during the next few weeks.

Heads of organizations contemplating a special edition as in previous years will kindly consult with the business manager.
