The fire gong which announces the beginning and the end of recitation periods in Memorial Hall should be disabled during the convocation hour. Yesterday morning it blurted out in the midst of a soft harmony from Mendelssohn's Italian Symphony. The effect was most distressing. The bell, being more sensational, attracted more attention, while the soft strains of the symphony went unnoticed. But personally we would much prefer to hear the music alone, unpunctuated by shrill metallic shocks from the east wall.

"Athletic Managers Report Here" directs the sign on the west side of Administration Building. This is certainly a new method of campus decoration; it is neither cubist, futurist, post-impressionist or ordinary everyday art. The managers have all gone home over a week ago, but directions to them emblazoned on a decorative banner some six by ten feet in size still yell at us every time we pass. Why not haul in the colors? We have longer no use for them.

Few More Parties.
 There will be only a few more Girls' Club parties this year, as it is not deemed advisable to hold them after the picnic season opens. The regular party will be held Saturday afternoon at 2:30. The last party of the year will probably be held the 26th of April.

PHARMACY WEEK

Dean Teeters of the Iowa College of Pharmacy and A. V. Pease of Fairbury. The committee is also planning on a few musical numbers and several additional will respond to toasts.

Special Convocation.
 In securing a man to give the principal address at the Pharmaceutical Convocation, which will be held Thursday morning, Professor Lyman was particularly fortunate. His selection of Dean Teeters of the Iowa College of Pharmacy has met the hearty approval of all those connected with the department. His talk will be along general lines and will be rendered in such a way that all students can understand it.

"We are going to make a special effort to get the students of all colleges to attend this convocation," said Professor Lyman yesterday. "We want them to obtain a more complete appreciation of what the work in the Pharmacy department is."

Dean Teeters is a man with a national reputation. He is the author of a number of articles on pharmaceutical subjects, and has also published several books. He is at present secretary and treasurer of the American Conference of Pharmaceutical Faculties, of which Nebraska is a member. Last year he was president of the section on Education and Legislation of the American Pharmaceutical Association.

Annual Picnic.
 The big social event of the week will be the annual picnic, which will be held at Capital Beach on Friday. The history of past functions of this order assures the success of the coming event. A minstrel show is being prepared, rich and abundant with local color. It is also rumored that there will be a touching scene enacted on the water's edge which bears the name of a recent famous painting. The usual athletic events will also be contested.

Special Pharmacy Edition.
 To give expression to all their numerous ideas and inspirations, the students of the Pharmacy department will put out a special number of the Rag during the week. The chief scribe has not as yet been made public, but as there is plenty of available material, no difficulty is expected in this direction.

People We Know.

Mr. Robert F. Gilder, archaeologist of the State Museum, in company with Prof. L. C. Wright, visited the Museum this week. Mr. Gilder has just shipped an important consignment of archaeological specimens to the Museum and has arranged to ship another lot during the coming week. Mr. Gilder, representing the University of Nebraska, and Mr. Sterns, representing Harvard University, have been making extensive explorations among the mounds and old Indian sites in Sarpy, Douglas and Washington counties.

Lieut. C. C. Culver, class of '94, later engaged in the Philippine military service, and now first lieutenant, is now on three months' leave of absence and visited the University and various members of the faculty during the week.

The Sigma Xi lecture will be held in the Geological lecture room in the University Museum, Saturday evening. The address will be given by Professor Barbour on "Some of the Greater Discoveries of Evolution."

Mrs. Runge and daughter Elsie, of Madison, Wis., are visiting with Miss Lulu Runge at the Alpha Xi Delta house.

J. A. Thompson, a leading pharmacist of West Point, was in Lincoln recently visiting his son, H. L. Thompson, an instructor in the College of Pharmacy.

N. W. Bixby of Hardy, Nebr., spent a few days this week with his son, a student in the Pharmacy department.

Prof. F. D. Barker of the Zoology department will return today from the Ozark mountains, where he has been recuperating from a nervous breakdown.

MANY UNIVERSITY CADETS TO MEET IN MICHIGAN

All Western Schools Being Considered—Wood, Chief of Staff of U. S. Army, in Charge.

For five weeks next summer, commencing July 6, Lincoln Fields, Ludington, Michigan, will be dotted with military tents. A thousand or more university and college men will camp there in the summer camp of the United States Government. The purpose of the camp is to give military instruction to college men. It will be under the personal supervision of Major F. D. Webster, commandant of cadets in the University of Illinois.

Ludington will be the camp for the middle states. Students from Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, Indiana, Kansas, Michigan, Wisconsin and Nebraska will be taken. In addition to the students, there will be at least one company of regular United States infantry and a troop of cavalry from Fort Sheridan, and a battalion from Fort Snelling.

Army officers have already visited most of the schools in this section getting up a bit of enthusiasm over the project. Interest has become very keen at the University of Michigan, due to a visit paid there by Major General Leonard Wood, chief of staff of the United States army. Indications are that several hundred students will take advantage of the low rates and good time offered. The government will furnish all equipment except clothing, and the only charges will be for board.

Little has been said about the camp at Nebraska. Perhaps the officers in charge have not got around to us yet. If anyone is interested they can obtain any additional information and literature from Mr. K. B. Matthews, Attorney, Ludington, Michigan.
