LUCKY ONES WILL BE GIVEN CORNHUSKERS

Manager Swift Inaugurates Contest—One De Luxe Edition Free in Every Hundred.

The manager of the Cornhusker is offering a prize contest to which everybody who buys a Cornhusker will be eligible. Orders will be taken from 7:30 until 8 o'clock Wednesday morning at the Cornhusker office, and out of each one hundred copies subscribed for at this time a de luxe book will be given away free. This book will have the lucky persons name on it in gold and will be the same as all the other de luxe books. Each person ordering a book will be given a number and the winner will be drawn out and the winners announced later.

After 8 o'clock tables will be stationed around the campus and out of every 100 copies sold one person will be given a de luxe book in place of a standard which they might order. These names will be drawn out and the winner's name announced in the Rag and on the Cornhusker bulletin board in front of the office.

SENIOR PROM MEETS WITH GENERAL APPROVAL

Financially and Socially a Success—Light Effects Excellently Produced.

The Senior Prom was a glorious success. Everybody was as merry as a marriage bell, and the dance was on. From the programs and the punch down to the minute details of lights and good floor, the dance was strictly "A No. 1." The finances are truely O. K. Chairman Alonzo Frederick Kieth issued a statement at 1:07 a. m., Sunday morning, in which he declared that the party would, in all probability, stand on its own feet—though personally he was very, very tired and preferred a soft bed. This statement has later been borne out by detailed statistics. Mr. Claibourne Peery, the master of ceremonies super par excellence, declared that from his point of view the grand march was the best ever. And he certainly knows. The common rabble unite in praise of the affair. It was SOME party.

Chicago.

The class of 1914 has voted to present to the university as their class gift a bronze miniature of the campus mounted on a stone pedestal.

Scene from the International Success, "WITHIN THE LAW," which comes to the OLIVER THEATRE, MONDAY and TUESDAY, March 30 and 31, with SPECIAL MATINEE TUESDAY.

Foresters Return.

The foresterys who made the trip to Halsey returned Sunday night. All report a fine time, as well as a lot of work done. The boys are well satisfied with the trip and believe that much good was gotten from the experience they had.

CAPTAIN HASKELL LEADS THE TEAM.

Final Record for the Season of 1913-14—All Huskers Make More Field Goals Than Their Opponents—Low Free Goal Average.

Captain Haskell led his crew in the number of goals from field in the basketball season just closed. Milo Hanzlik made the most marvelous record in holding his opponents to only three goals. It will be noticed that every Cornhusker made more goals from field than his rival. This is an excellent showing.

The miserable showing in free throws cannot be excused. The record is indeed miserable. It is to be hoped that this will be the low record for all time.

Following is the individual basketball records for the past season:

ANNOUNCEMENT

During the remaining weeks of the school year the Daily Nebraskan will issue several special numbers in supplement form. It has been the custom in previous years for various school organizations to ask the management of the Daily Nebraskan to allow one issue of the paper to a certain organization. These special issues have always been successful from the editorial standpoint but nearly always a financial burden to the paper. In the future special editions will be issued in supplement form only as this method allows plenty of time to get news and advertising matter into shape and will not cause a delay in the issue of the daily edition.

During the next five weeks several special editions will be issued as follows:

SPRING OPENING EDITION early in April.

GIRL'S NUMBER early in May.

PHARMACEUTICAL NUMBER second week in May.

Other EDITIONS will be arranged for during the next few weeks.

Heads of organizations contemplating a special edition as in previous years will kindly consult with the business manager.
