HOUSES RULES DISCOURSUS

Report From Inter-Sorority Meeting Held Tuesday Night to Discuss House Rules.

In the matter of house rules, For girls far and wide 'Tis best get a standard And by that abide.

But it is not so easy With nine sororities To suit the fair damsels And all of them please.

The ten-thirty rule, A mistake from the first, Of all the crazy ideas That is the worst.

To think that when spoofing With jesting and laugh, One could finish a job In two hours and a half.

No, we want it later, You must have fair play To do the good work What you can't do by day.

At night on the porch We think it a shame, If you hang out too much, That you get all the blame.

We advise no restriction On time, place or date; Just your good judgment On what is too late.

In the matter of quiet, We just wish to say, It's a cruel hard condition And wrong every way.

The quiet hour business Is just one big bluff To let those girls study Who can't get enough.

In fact, we advise, No studying be done Until good and ready— And you've had your fun.

Make study a minor, And pleasure the gain; Because, after all, that's True scholarship's aim.

Now, if you'll truly follow This good advice clear through 'Twill end with much success, Phi Beta Kappa for you. —Who's Afraid.

STATE PROHIBITION ORATORICAL CONTEST

Will Be Held at Wesleyan University Next Week—State Interested in the Subject.

Orators from thirteen colleges throughout the state will meet at Wesleyan University on April 17th for their annual State Oratorical Contest of the Intercollegiate Prohibition Association. Mr. Elliott of Wesleyan is making preparations for the entertainment of the contestants when they arrive.

The contest was to have been held at the University of Nebraska, but through special arrangements the event is to be staged at the neighboring institution. President Proudft of Grand Island has been pushing preparations for the event and everything will be in readiness by the time of the contest.

Coming just at this time the oratorical contest along these lines is very opportune. A large number of the towns of the state are voting on the "wet" and "dry" proposition at their municipal elections and interest in the subject is very keen. The prohibitionists throughout the state have their organized forces in full working order and the meeting at Wesleyan next week ought to be a hummer.

SENIOR PLAY PLANNED TO BE GIVEN IVY DAY

Announcement of Cast to Be Made Tomorrow—Joint Meeting for Planning of Senior Week.

The cast for the senior play will be announced tomorrow morning. Several complications in the selection makes an earlier announcement impossible. Eighteen young people are to receive parts—fifteen men and three girls.

The date of the play has been almost definitely decided. The only requisite necessary being the sanction of the Student Organization Board, which will meet this noon. The plan is to have the play on Ivy Day night, instead of the Dramatic Club play which has usually been given at this time.

Extensive plans are also on foot for a Senior Week, which will consist of a convocation program, the play, the Ivy Day program and a "sneak day." The senior play, the senior convocation, the Ivy Day and the "sneak day" committees will meet at 11 o'clock today in joint conference.

ANNOUNCEMENT

During the remaining weeks of the school year the Daily Nebraskan will issue several special numbers in supplement form. It has been the custom in previous years for various school organizations to ask the management of the Daily Nebraskan to allow one issue of the paper to a certain organization. These special issues have always been successful from the editorial standpoint but nearly always a financial burden to the paper. In the future special editions will be issued in supplement form only as this method allows plenty of time to get news and advertising matter into shape and will not cause a delay in the issue of the daily edition.

During the next five weeks several special editions will be issued as follows:

- GIRL'S NUMBER early in May.
- PHARMACEUTICAL NUMBER second week in May.

Other EDITIONS will be arranged for during the next few weeks.

Heads of organizations contemplating a special edition as in previous years will kindly consult with the business manager.
