

LEONORA ALLEN WITH SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

Selected by Manager Heighten as Excellent soloist—Debutante in Musical Circles of Chicago.

Among the hundreds and more of sopranos singing in this country it is difficult to imagine that there should be any difficulty in finding any number of sopranos who could fill the requirements necessary for a soloist appearing with an orchestra, yet such is the case. Mr. Heighten, manager of the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra, which is to appear here on May 25, discovered this fact when trying out applicants, and while he heard many beautiful voices, he also discovered a great lack of experience, a quality which is so essential in a singer about to make a tour of eight weeks with an orchestra, during which time the soloist is not only called upon to sing concert arias, but also the various oratorios. Mr. Heighten finally found such a soprano in the person of Miss Leonora Allen, a young American artist at present making Chicago her headquarters while filling concert engagements. Miss Allen has had considerable experience in both the concert, operatic and oratorio field. One of her most important and recent engagements was with the Apollo Club of Chicago in their concert of February 23d, when they gave Elgar's new work, "The Music Maker," and Dvorak's "Stabat Mater." The other artists assisting were Miss Mildred Potter, contralto; George Harris, Jr., tenor, and Gustav Holmquist, baritone, the Chicago Symphony Orchestra furnishing the accompaniment. Eric Delamarter, critic for the Inter-Ocean, writes of Miss Allen's work as follows: "Miss Allen was practically a debutante in these circles. Her tone is of beautiful timbre, pure and clear. Her phrasing and her technical feats generally, proved real skill. Her success adds another soprano of great promise to a band none too numerous."

Maurice Rosenfeld, in the Examiner, says, in part: "Leonora Allen, the soprano, made a very successful debut with the Apollo Club. She has a high soprano of fine quality and sang her music with distinction."

INSPECTION POSTPONED TILL FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Cadets Working Hard—Many Extra Hours Necessary to Get in Trim—Showing Good.

The inspection of the cadet regiment has been postponed from this afternoon to Friday afternoon. First call will be blown at 1:00 p. m. and assembly at 1:10 p. m. The inspection comes exceedingly early this year and the department has been working under a great disadvantage. On this account many extra drills have been called and a great deal of work has been done during the last few weeks. The cadets have taken a great interest in these drills and, a better showing is expected than was thought of a few weeks ago. Last year the military standing of the school was placed rather low as a result of the inspection, but it is expected this year's inspection will raise the standard greatly. Each company has been assigned certain work and they have been working on these things for some time. Below is given the program for the inspection as it will be carried out Friday:

1. Regimental review and inspection.
2. Company guard posted, Company G.
3. Company close order drill, Companies C and D.
4. Company extended order drill, Companies I and K.
5. Bayonet exercise, Second battalion.
6. Battalion close order drill, First battalion.
7. Company guard inspected and relieved, Company G.
8. Battalion rifle drill to music, Third battalion.
9. Battalion advances to attack, Third battalion.
10. Advance guard marching north on Tenth street toward Oak Creek. First battalion acting as advance guard for the remainder of the regiment.
11. Outpost in open field beyond Hayward school. Second battalion acting as outpost for a regiment or larger force.
12. Combat problem in open field beyond Hayward school.

The entire regiment will take part in this latter movement, which will be very similar to those which they have worked out at different times during the past year.

The government inspector is Capt. H. L. Laubach, General Staff, U. S. Army.

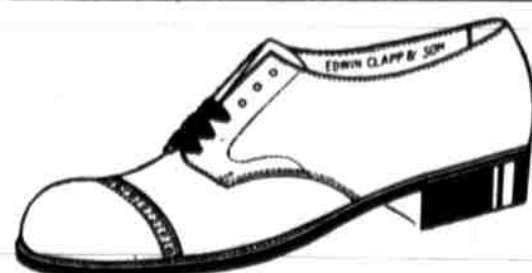

IRRIGATION IN NEBRASKA TO BE INVESTIGATED

Doctor Condra, F. H. Newell and D. D. Price to Go on Tour—Western Part of State.

Mr. F. F. Newell of the United States Reclamation Service, Dr. G. E. Condra of the Nebraska Soil Survey, and State Engineer D. D. Price are this week making a survey of Phelps county and other parts of the Platte valley, where there has recently been much talk of the possibility of irrigation with the flood waters of the Platte river.

While Doctor Condra was in Denver for the recent Irrigation Congress he requested Mr. Newell to go over this part of Nebraska with a view to its irrigation possibilities. Doctor Newell promised to do so agreeing to address the North Platte Valley Conservation Congress at Scotts Bluff, and to go from there through the Platte valley.

The trip will be made in one of the automobiles belonging to the State Soil Survey, driven by Mr. L. T. Skinner of that department.
