appears at least once," according to the information from inner circles. The gliding on the de luxe books is done through a secret process. One man must do the entire work in a locked room and therefore will require more than the ordinary length of time to finish his task.

More organizations will appear this year than ever before. More individual pictures and advertising will also appear. The important feature, especially to the business staff, is that all of the organizations have made their payments.

Last, but not least, the business manager announced the following as the winners of the prize Cornhuskers:

- Bob Harley—Ag.
- C. C. Keirle—Eng.
- Merrill Rourbough—Law.
- Carrie Spaulding—A. and S.
- Ted Sullivan—Eng.
- Ramona Troup—A. and S.

All of the de luxe books have been sold, but a few standard copies are still on sale. These may be obtained at T. A. Williams' office or the Cornhusker office up until and during the distribution, while they last.

EXTENSIVE MEDIC PROGRAM FOR THIS WEEK

Physicians Are Throwing Out Their Chests—Will Spend Latter Part of Week in Omaha.

This is "Medic Week." The medics will desert the labs and will abandon their "stiffs" for the ball diamond and the picnic grounds.

Convocation was devoted to the "medics" yesterday. Dr. F. R. Milroy of Omaha gave the annual "medic" address. Last evening the boys held a smoker. Thursday the "medic" edition of the Nebraskan will appear. The big picnic at the Beach will be held that afternoon also.

The program includes a tug-of-war, class relay between the sophomores and the freshmen, one hundred yard dash, sack race, three-legged race, and rescue race. A ball game between the sophomores and the freshmen will take up the remainder of the afternoon. Two famous umpires have been secured for the game, Dr. R. A. Wolcott and Dr. Barker.

Friday morning the "medics" will leave for Omaha, where they will be welcomed by the medical school and will take lunch at the Happy Hollow Club after an auto ride about the city. On Friday afternoon the tennis tournament will be staged, and a number are going to try out for the Stokes trophy.

Saturday will be given over to hospital clinics and the senior reception in the evening. The Nu Sigma Nu will give a hop Friday evening at the Happy Hollow Club and Saturday the Phi Rho Sigma will give a dance at the Rome Hotel.

Those little buttons that you see some of the boys wearing are not dangerous, nor do they mean that the individual flaunting them is poison. No. He is just a "Medic" and is advertising his college.

The officers of the Medical Society who have charge of "Medic Week" are as follows: President, Wm. R. Deiselt; vice president, Kenneth Thompson; secretary, K. R. Davis; treasurer, Rudolph Johnson; special committee, Gene Liebendorfer, Guy Weigand.
