FRATS AT IT AGAIN

BUCK'S ABSENCE GIVES FRATERNITIES FREE REIN RUSHING.

AGREEMENT BROKEN BY ALL

Freshman Pledging Will Soon be Past History at the University of Nebraska According to Agreement Signed by Frats.

Professor Buck, President of the Interfraternity Council, is in Europe and will not be back before October 1. Meanwhile the rush of the fraternities for new members goes merrily on. Apparently by common consent the rules as to "spiking," keeping men at the houses, meeting students at the trains, are more honored in their breaking than in their observance.

Registrar Vancil K. Greer is looking after part of Prof. Buck's duties. The fraternities are required to send to William Richie, secretary of the Interfraternity Council, the names of the candidates they wish to pledge. Mr. Richie will then submit the lists to Mr. Greer for approval.

DR. LUCILLE EAVES BACK FROM CALIFORNIA

Taught in Summer School and Wrote for the Social Science Department of a New Encyclopedia.

Dr. Lucille Eaves, associate professor of Sociology, returns to the University after a year on the Pacific Coast. Her time was devoted chiefly to research and writing. Substantial progress was made with her special work in the field of labor problems, the University of California publishing an elaborate syllabus of one of the handbooks which she is preparing. Miss Eaves is the editor of and chief contributor to the social science department of a new encycloedia. This work, which is designed specially to meet the needs of high schools, will have contributors from Yale, Harvard, Columbia and Stanford Universities, and will be edited by the U. S. Commissioner Claxton. In addition to her writing Miss Eaves filled a lectureship at the University of California.

Miss Eaves declares that the California educators are very enthusiastic about the prospects for next summer when the meeting of the National and International Educational Associations and of many learned bodies will bring together prominent educators from all over the world. Three thousand students attended the recent summer session of the University of California, and it seems probable that there will be a registration of several times this number at the 1915 session. Miss Eaves is greatly pleased with her opportunity for inspiring work as a member of the summer session faculty.

Palladian Literary Society.

Palladian Literary Society will conduct a reception for students old and new in their rooms, third floor of the Temple, Friday evening, September 25, at 8:15 o'clock. All cordially invited. Short program arranged.

ONE MORE BENEDICT ADDED TO THE LIST THIS FALL

Law Professor and Nebraska Graduate Are Married in Defiance of High Cost of Living.

Prof. George N. Foster and Miss Esther Barnett were united in marriage September 2 at four o'clock p. m. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Hilton at the home of the bride. Friends and relatives of both parties from Tecumseh and Sterling were present. Soon after the ceremony the happy couple departed for the Yellowstone National Park, returning to Lincoln on Wednesday of this week.

The bride is well known in University circles. She is a member of the Delta Zeta sorority and for the past two years has been a member of the faculty at the State Farm.

The groom is a professor in the College of Law. He is a member of the Acacia fraternity. As a student in this institution he was a brilliant debater and was prominent in many other activities.

Professor and Mrs. Foster will make their home in Bethany. They will be at home to their friends after the first of October.

STUDENTS MEET CHANCELLOR AND MRS. AVERY

Reception Saturday Evening Well Attended by New Students in Fine Arts Hall.

The reception of Chancellor and Mrs. Avery was a marked success. Between the hours of 8 and 10 o'clock Saturday evening more than three hundred students took advantage of the opportunity to meet Chancellor and Mrs. Avery, and members of the faculty. Light refreshments were served. This annual informal social event was held in Fine Arts Hall which was tastefully arranged for the occasion. The time was spent in getting acquainted. Freshmen learned that faculty members are but human. And the freshman from Loup City met his class-mate-to-be from Wahoo.

TUESDAY AND THURSDAY CONVOCATION TO BE BIG

Chancellor's Address on Tuesday an Annual Event—Thursday Devoted to Freshmen in Particular.

The first convocation of the year will be held next Tuesday at 11:30. As has been the custom Chancellor Avery will at that time deliver his annual address to the students. This convocation is open to the whole school and, as it is an annual affair and one of the important convocations of the year, it is expected that Memorial Hall will be full. In an interview, Prof. Gruman says:

"As a tip to Freshmen and to a good many old students as well who have not gone to the trouble to find it out, you will miss the most important of the good things that the University has to offer if you do not get the convocation habit to start with."

Convocation next Thursday is for the Freshmen. Freshmen will meet in Memorial Hall. This meeting is in charge of the Innocents. Freshmen women will meet in the Temple. The girls' meeting will be in charge of the Black Masks. The definite plans for these meetings will be announced later.

On the following Tuesday Dr. Fling will deliver his annual convocation address. It has been the custom for some years for Dr. Fling to deliver the second address at convocation, following the Chancellor. As Mr. Fling is one of the most scholarly men in the University and is an interesting talker this convocation will undoubtedly be well attended. Dr. Fling's subject has not yet been announced.

On the third Tuesday Hon. Lincoln Frost will address Convocation on the subject of "Prison Reform." In this address Judge Frost will lay special stress on the lesson to be learned from the "Shorty" Gray outbreak in our own penitentiary. Hon. Lincoln Frost is a graduate of the University and an ex-judge of the local district court. He is a man who has always taken a great interest in public affairs, especially along social-betterment lines.

PROFESSOR GRUMANN RECEIVES RECOGNITION

Great Things Planned for Future Convocations Part of His Work as Head of Fine Arts.

In the last issue of the Indiana Alumni Magazine considerable space was given to an article by Professor Grumann of Nebraska Fine Arts department. The title of the article was "Training in Art," the name suggesting well the contents of the article. Nebraskans may view with pride the well earned recognition the presence of Professor Grumann's article has given him. During his supervision both the Art School and Convocation have grown in use, popularity and recognition. This year he purposes to add to the splendid collection of paintings already in the studio, 40 foreign masters and 10 American. New additions to the collection are, "Marble Hermes," donated by Mrs. F. N. Gibson, and a volume of beautiful Japanese color paintings by Professor Guernsey Jones.

Helen Scott of Beatrice is the guest of Lincoln friends this week.

STEWART RESIGNS AS MANAGING EDITOR

Pressed by Law Work Long Deferred.

It is with a great deal of regret that the Nebraskan announces the resignation of Cloyd L. Stewart, managing editor. Stewart announces as his reason for shifting the "white man's burden" that a senior in the Law college has his hands full without trying to run a paper. Stewart announced to the staff that he may be a candidate for the position of editor-in-chief next semester.

Burton S. Hill, ex-'12, of Nebraskan literary fame and later registered at the University of Michigan Law School, is registered again in the Literary department, in which he will be an assistant under Professor Buck.

THE SEASON OPENS

FOOTBALL MEN TAKE FIRST REGULAR PRACTICE TODAY.

GUY CHAMBERLAIN RETURNS

Hoeffle Chosen Assistant Coach—Gridiron Has Been Completely Reddied and Otherwise Improved.

(By H. I. Kyle)

The formal opening of the football season today finds the clouds that have been hovering on the Nebraska horizon largely dispelled. One of the gloomiest of these rolled itself bashfully from view Saturday when Guy Chamberlain appeared on the campus and registered as one of us. Chamberlain's absence this year would have meant a hole in the backfield that Coach Stiehm would have found very difficult to fill.

Another vexatious problem has been fittingly laid to rest by the choosing of Joe Hoeffle, for two years all-western end at Wisconsin, and captain of the Badgers in nineteen-twelve, to be

THE CLASS OF 1914 NOW OUT OF DEBT

Nice Balance Left With Which to Purchase Present—Choice Made by Election.

Awaiting the decision of the question of University removal or campus extension, state general fund warrants to the amount of $157.19 lie on deposit in the Student Activities office. This amount represents the money earned and set aside by the class of 1914 for a gift to their Alma Mater.

This fund is worthy of more than passing note, representing as it does a year of hard work on the part of every member in the class.

At the beginning of the school year last September the class was shouldering a debt of $163.05, and until this was liquidated no class play could be given. Perhaps no one but a "fourteener" can recall the struggle to remove this first obstacle from their path. By dint of hard work the necessary money was raised from hops, proms and an issue of fifty-nine notes, taken by members of the class at a dollar each. On May 5 the treasurer's coffers were swelled by a deposit of $209.73, the proceeds from the class play, "The Fortune Hunter." The hop at Capital Beach added $17.50, the Ivy Day picnic netted over $41.00 and $41.41 was received from the invitation committee. These activities and a few sundries raised the total profits to $475.39. The outstanding bills and the redeeming of all but a few of the notes left the above amount for the donation.

The entire class showed commendable interest and spirit in this undertaking and too much credit can not be given those who had the matter in charge.

The nature of the gift is entirely a matter of speculation. T. A. Williams of the Student Activities committee being of the opinion that a vote will be taken this fall to decide its selection.
