DEAN BESSEY HAS NEW GINKGO FRUIT

Received the Rare Product From St. Louis—There is a Small Tree by Nebraska Hall.

Dean Bessey has had some fruit of the Ginkgo tree sent him from the Botanical Gardens of Missouri at St. Louis. One of the principal characteristics of the fruit is an odor to which limberger cheese cannot hold a candle. The tree was one of the most abundant in the ancient Geological period but they have all died off except one specie grown in China and Japan. The natives there eat the fruit, although it would be impossible to do this had they a very acute sense of smell.

The tree grows to seventy or eighty feet in height and the one in St. Louis is two feet in diameter. A small tree of this type is located near the entrance of Nebraska Hall. It is not as yet old enough to produce fruit.

Carlson to Yale.

Mr. Frank Carlson, '14, was seen on the campus Friday. He was on his way to New Haven, Conn., where he will enter the Yale School of Religion. He expects to take a three-year course there.

STUDENTS GETTING RIGHT DOWN TO WORK

Library Has Been a Busy Place—More Books Than Usual Given Out up to Date.

The social activities of the first few weeks of university life and the nightly attractions of the city have in years heretofore usually proved irresistible to the larger part of the student body, and as a result lessons were neglected for the more pleasant diversions.

But, as the philosopher says, "The old order hath changed," (if he didn't say it he should have) and this year evidences of industry are more convincing and much more numerous than in other years. Since classes began the library has been crowded with students and two or three times as many books have been checked out already as there were a year ago. The periodicals and reference books have been in almost constant use, and it would seem that the student body is early taking advantage of the fine opportunity offered and with the opening of classes began work in earnest.

FRESHMAN HEADGEAR PROBLEM UP AGAIN

Expected That the Innocents Will Take the Matter up Soon—Nothing Doing Yet.

It has been the custom for years past to have the Freshmen wear green caps. They are not meant to be worn as a mark of ridicule but to get the members of the class acquainted with one another. So far this year nothing has been done in regard to this matter but it is presumed that within a short time the innocents will have it arranged. When the time comes each member of the class should procure one and wear it on the campus as a mark of loyalty to the University.

Tigers Study Book Football at Night.

The varsity candidates have been reporting to the gymnasium after supper to go over the rule books and to study the game. They are being thoroughly drilled in the knowledge of what it means to get the ball under all circumstances.

Mr. Schulte sprung this question on the field: If a team defending its goal attempts to punt when the kicker is back of the goal line and the punted ball strikes a player of the defensive team and bounds back behind the line, would it be a safety or a touchback if a defending player fell upon it? Then comes the question in many cases of the impetus of the ball from the offensive or defensive team. What would it be if the opponents got the ball?

There is one thing certain, the Tigers are being taught to get the ball. It will be remembered by many sport followers the special work of White of Princeton a few years ago. White had been trained to always watch a chance to get the ball. In fact, that was one of his special duties to watch for fumbles regardless of where he was or the ball was. It went down in Eastern football history as one of the memorable runs when he had snapped up a fumble in the opponents' backfield and raced to the goal, winning the game.—Daily Missourian.

INTER-FRAT MEETING

WILL BE HELD IN LAW AUDITORIUM THURSDAY EVENING.

SCHOLARSHIP IS MAIN ISSUE

List of Speakers is Being Arranged—New Pledges to be Given Pointers in Regard to School Work.

The Inter-Fraternity Council is preparing to raise the scholarship standard among the Greeks. Thursday evening all the Greeks and pledges will meet in the Law auditorium for a rally to boost the scholarship of fraternities. The new pledges will there get an insight into their fraternity relations and the value of Big Scholarship for the fraternities.

The council will have their regular meetings the first of every month. At these meetings each fraternity will be indorsed for its high scholarship or put on the carpet for sluffing. Absolutely no sluffing will be permitted. Right from the start all Greeks will organize and in a business-like way handle all delinquencies.

The fraternities realize that this problem is their problem, not the University's. By checking and tallying with Registrar Greer, the work of sluffers will be caught before they are put down on the books as delinquent. The council will conduct the meeting and arrange a program of fiery speakers.

Convocation

Present aspects of the European War.

By Professor Fling

Memorial Hall, 11 A. M.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

I have just found that, in making up the scholarship records, one of the Phi Kappa Psi pledges was not included. He was not on the registrar's books as he had not paid his fees. His record ought, however, to be included. This still gives the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity the first place for the second semester, but gives the Acacia fraternity the first place for the whole year by a slight margin.

CARL C. ENGBERG.

FRAT PLEDGES NOT OFFICIALLY ANNOUNCED

Professor Buck Will Have the Proper List Published in This Paper Wednesday.

The list of fraternity pledges that appeared in the papers last evening is not authentic inasmuch as it was not given out by Prof. Buck, chairman of the inter-fraternity council. Wednesday's issue of the Daily Nebraskan will give the official list of men together with the fraternity to which they have been pledged.

ATHLETES' CLASSROOM GREATLY IMPROVED

New Locker System Installed in Gymnasium—More Sanitary System Than the Old.

A needed improvement has been made in the gymnasium by the disposal of all of the wooden lockers and the partition that formerly divided the room.

The steel lockers have been installed and an order issued that hereafter only one person will be permitted to use each locker. Besides being unsanitary, the order was issued to eliminate the loss of property and confusion which resulted under the former system.

For the benefit of those who use the lockers it has been requested that no one shall allow old shoes and unused clothing to be kept in the lockers.

Dr. Sinclair, professor of Vertebrate Palaeontology in Princeton University, visited the collections of the State Museum during the last week in August.

FRESHMAN CLASSES STARTED AT LAST

"Jack" Lyons Formally Announces Himself as Candidate For Freshman Class President.

"Jack" Lyons has announced himself as candidate for Freshman president. There have been all kinds of reports about "Dame Rumor" but this time there can be no mistake, the Freshman class have at last got busy. "Jack" is a Lincoln man, a graduate of Temple High where he played football two years, and a pledge of the Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He will have a good pull with all Lincoln Freshmen and with the general student body as he is already taking part in Freshman work, being fullback on the Freshman football team.

Camp Columbia.

Started about twenty-five years ago as a small Camp where the engineering students could get a bit of practical surveying, Camp Columbia has grown to be one of the largest of the University's offshoots with a dozen or more buildings and equipment for one hundred and eighty or more students. The work at Camp has been, and probably will continue to be, principally field work in surveying and geodesy but it has recently been placed under the administration of the Summer Session and its scope will be widened and other courses offered. All first year engineering students spend five weeks at the Camp and Civil and Mining engineers come back for more advanced work later on.

The student who comes to the Camp has to work even harder than at the "U" but he gets a lot of valuable experience, valuable to the man who will take up engineering but equally valuable to any man who will have to handle men and "do things," and most of all he gets that pull together spirit, sometimes called esprit de corps, without which no constructive work requiring the labor of more than one man can be made successful.—Columbia-Spectator.

HOWARD IS INJURED

THE TEAM PUT THROUGH A GOOD SCRIMMAGE AT THE FARM.

TEAM MISSES ITS SUPPER

The Jinx is Again in Evidence and Howard May Be Out of the Washburn Game on Saturday as Result.

By H. I. Kyle.

The evening shadows lengthened, faded slowly, and at last merged into the general gloaming. The calm, sober silence of the autumn night was broken (but not seriously) by a soft, far-away sound that might have been the hoot of an owl, the toot of a trolley-car, or the coo of a co-ed; then all was still again. Quietude, which is a very still, soundless, and standard variety of silence, prevailed o'er the city, permeated the campus, and percolated, at times, even into the secluded recesses of the locker room, where the faithful Jack Best, and his corps of skilled assistants waited anxiously, aye, impatiently, the return of the gridiron squad, which had taken its riotous departure for the Farm in the golden glow of the early afternoon.

"Where can they be," muttered the loyal old trainer, with the accent on the "be," and then he repeated the question with the accent on the "where." The Big Ben in the corner rounded the pole and settled down on the home stretch toward seven bells, "Lost" groaned the lonely old guardian of the Cornhusker hopes, and rung his hands with a towel (or vice versa). But no! The keen ear of the trainer has caught a sound which it proceeds to digest with much satisfaction. Another little sound seeps in, and then a continuous trickle of noises which grows, and swells, and expands, and takes form; 'tis the rumble of many

FRAT HOUSE ENTERED THE OTHER EVENING

Sigma Phi Epsilon Boys Were Almost The Victims This Time—Seems to be Fashion.

Last Saturday night the little boys who live under the roof of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity house were given a big scare. According to the most coherent reports which are to be obtained it seems that bold, bad robbers were prowling about. The first man was in the dorm and sawing wood when all at once a noise was heard up the back stairs. Then the fireworks started for one man still stared at the roof and thought of the fair damsel whom he had just escorted home from the dance. A South Omahan hit the floor in one bound and hollered fire. That was all there was to it as far as Mr. Burglar was concerned for a double barreled shotgun, a tennis racket, an Indian club, a hockey club, and a fire shovel charged down the stairs. There were plain signs of a forced entry but inasmuch as nothing was missing the boys decided wisely not to extend their search to the outdoors. Greeks are warned to seal the house tight and make the Fresh habitue of Bullard's carry a key.
