State Uni. Farm Notes

The apple judging squad is smaller than in previous years, only numbering seven men, but we understand they are of a very rare type and will develop an exceptionally strong team.

The dairy squad numbers twelve men, who, under the direction of Prof. Woodward, are doing fine work. From this squad a team will be picked to judge at the National Dairy Show at Chicago.

Three judging squads working out. The College of Agriculture has three squads in the field daily from which teams will be picked to uphold the honor of our institution in the judging ring.

The fat stock squad from which a team will be picked and sent to the International Live Stock Show at Chicago to compete with other colleges numbers about twenty men. Head Coach Prof. H. J. GGramlich expects to take the squad to Seward county today (Saturday), where they will visit some of the best herds of live stock and judge a number of different classes. Each class will number four animals, and they expect to have four classes of cattle, four of hogs, four of sheep, and two of horses.

have a complete understanding of the organization. Mr. Dinsmore also read a letter from F. F. Tucker, '94, to the association. This letter is as follows:

Tehchow, Shantung, China,
June 30, 1914.

Cadet Officers' Association,
University of Nebraska,
Lincoln.

Dear Friends:

Did you ever have a dollar that you couldn't spend. It is really not a pleasurable sensation. Here is one that is not worth a cent to me and, though it's the last dollar I have (or may ever have), I most cheerfully send it to initiate me into the Cadet officers' Association. As to annual dues and other charges that later may develop, I make no rash promises, unless and until my old Company "A" appears at the charge bayonets at our front gate and makes demands! This greenback is the only one I have seen for a long time, but, as it can purchase me no food nor anything else in this land of ancient copper money, I am glad to deposit it where it will do some good—how much I would not venture to say! Perhaps you would prefer the 2,500 copper "cash" this is equivalent to!

Glad to see such a movement started.

With greetings like the weather (106 degrees in the shade).
Cordially and fraternally,

F. F. TUCKER, '94.

Mr. Tucker was captain of Company "A" during the year '93-94.

REESE CLUB ORGANIZED

Law Students Start Organization for Reese—Was First Dean of Nebraska Law College.

Preliminary steps were taken Saturday to effect a Reese Club. Several members of the Law College met at the Lindell Hotel at that time and discussed the present situation.

Chief Justice Reese was the first dean of the Nebraska Law School and the law students naturally will support him strongly in the present campaign.

A meeting will be held tomorrow night in the Temple and several speakers will be on hand. The Daily Nebraskan will publish the particulars tomorrow morning.

NEITHER TEAM SCORES

the open style of play, completing several brilliant forward passes for good gains, but her ability to gain was limited almost wholly to that phase of offense. Not much was gained by end runs, much to the satisfaction of Nebraska partisans, who, since the Washburn game, have acquired a wholesome fear of that particular play. However, the ends showed a wonderful improvement over the previous performance. Almost nothing was made by the Coyotes through the Cornhusker line, even the ancient Potts being unable to open a hole for his teammates. In fact, Cameron had Potts clearly outclassed from start to finish.

For his first 'varsity trial, Hawkins showed remarkable skill and judgment in guiding the team. His ability to catch and return punts came as a surprise to the crowd, the impression being abroad that he was weak in that line. Herb Potter went in as quarterback for the last few minutes of play and received an ovation from the crowd. He will be put in condition as quickly as possible for the remaining games of the season.

The wonderful playing of Dick Rutherford, especially in backing up the ends on defense, was a feature. Halligan, at his old tackle position, played the same old steady game he always plays, while Chamberlain, with Rutherford and Howard running good interference for him, made a number of beautiful gains.

Altogether, the team that faced the Coyotes Saturday showed a great deal of improvement over the bunch that struggled against the Ichabods the week before, although the great weakness of the team is still a lack of experience and practice.

Black Masque announces the election of Leila McNeerney and Norma Kidd to take the places of Helen Thomas and Ethel Hills, who did not return to school this year.

Margaret Keifer is spending the week-end at the Alcoh house.

Miss Norma Kidd spent the week-end at her home in Beatrice.

Learn to Canter, Half and Half, Maxixe. Lincoln Dancing Academy, L-5477.

Miss Grace Coppock, for whom the University of Nebraska is raising $1,500, was formerly a member of the Palladian Literary Society, and was a Black Masque.

Miss Dorothy Keens, a sophomore in the University, has been quarantined for smallpox. The disease broke out in the school where Miss Keens is cadeting in the kindergarten.

Burdette G. Lewis, who was graduated from the University about ten years ago, and who is now deputy commissioner of correction of New York City, spent the latter part of last week in the city, the guest of Prof. M. M. Gogg.

Word has been received in Lincoln of the birth of a daughter on October 3 to Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Polleys, at Missoula, Montana. Mrs. Polleys was formerly Bess Gould of Omaha, and is well known at Lincoln. She was a member of the Delta Gamma sorority.

Don't get so busy in your studies that you cannot take time to visit the Art Gallery and see the famous collections. When you leave the University people will expect you to converse intelligently on various subjects, such as art and good literature, and your studies can't help you.

Burdette G. Lewis, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, arrived in Lincoln, Thursday morning, for a thirty-six hours' visit with friends. He is a guest of Professor and Mrs. M. M. Fogg, and Thursday evening a number of his old professors and friends were invited over to see him. He is now deputy commissioner of corrections for the city of New York.

It is a strange phenomena that the girls who are working their way through school have in most cases given more money to the support of Miss Coppock than girls who have plenty of money. Probably the very fact that money comes hard to these girls is the reason. Since they understand the value of money, they are the more anxious that it shall be used in a good cause. Girls who know little about money, or how difficult it is to obtain, are infinitely more selfish, and infinitely less public-spirited. The members of the committee to collect money have had some strange experiences. Is it not queer to ask one well-to-do girl to subscribe, and be refused coolly, or contemptuously, and then ask a girl who is working her way through school, and have her offer $10? It is time for Nebraska girls to wake up to their responsibilities, to realize that there is some one else in the world besides themselves, and take on a more generous, a more sympathetic, a more public-spirited view!
