

BROKEN OUT.

Terrible Epidemic of Freshmen Spirit Has Broken Out.

It is quite evident that the Fresh Class is going to make those, who upheld their honor so gallantly last year, shiver in their tracks. Freshmen Spirit is running higher this year than ever before, in respect to the coming Olympics. The Freshmen Committee is hard at work lining up men for the various events. Orange and Black have been chosen as the official class colors and are being supported loyally.

Postmortems and Prophecies By H. J. KYLE.

We Stand Corrected.

In yesterday's Nebraskan we mentioned that Brickley, of Harvard, is in the hospital, suffering from typhoid fever. Before noon eleven different persons informed us that in this we were mistaken, in that the "immortal" Charles is a victim, not of typhoid, but of appendicitis. Our humiliation at being in error is mitigated somewhat by the knowledge that there are some who read our dope.

The Missouri Tigers have lost twice out of three starts this season. The Sooners from Oklahoma counted their stripes, Saturday, the result being 13 to 0.

It might be a fact worth noting that South Dakota outplayed the Gophers in the second half of Saturday's contest, the score for that half being 7-0 in favor of the Coyotes—but we must also note that old Doc Williams used his subs almost exclusively in that period.

Assistant Coach Joe Hoefel returns from Michigan loaded to the hilt with tales concerning the strength of the Michigan Aggies. He says they outplayed Michigan, and should have won had it not been for frequent penalties inflicted for roughness.

The Tackle.

Of the Tackle and his duty
 We will sing a little song.
 He needn't be a beauty,
 But he must be fast and strong.

He must "hold the line and "lug the ball."
 And "spill the interference."
 The Tackle has to be a man
 With boundless perseverance.
