KOSMET CLUB PLAY

WILL BE GIVEN IN LATTER PART OF FEBRUARY THIS YEAR.

ANNOUNCE CAST TOMORROW

Play Written by Northrup and Music Composed by Scott—First Rehearsal This Evening at Temple.

The Kosmet Club cast had their first meeting Tuesday night and will have the first real rehearsal this evening at the Temple. The date of the play is February 18, 1915. The cast includes fourteen principal parts and a chorus consisting of about forty members. Clifford Scott composed the music and Ralph Northrup wrote the play. Prof. R. D. Scott is a co-author and advisor.

The scene is laid at Nebraska University and is profuse with local color, successfully working in football and other college activities. It is built around the life of the fair co-ed at Nebraska and the characters are drawn from actual life at the University. The music was played over for a chosen few at the Temple Tuesday evening and they were loud in its praise. Of course nothing needs be said about the play itself as the name of Northrup is sufficient.

Owing to the fact that so many are contestants for the different parts this year the judges have not decided definitely upon several of the parts but a complete list will be announced in tomorrow's Daily Nebraskan.

Peru Club.

The Peru Club will meet Friday evening, October 30th, with Mrs. Nea Williams at 2520 W street. This meeting is scheduled to commence at 8 o'clock sharp. All Peruvians are cordially invited to attend.

GIRLS CLUB PLAN COMING CONVENTION

Will Send Two Delegates to Evanston, Illinois, This Year—Will be Elected Soon.

At the Girls' Club Board meeting Tuesday evening, the main topic of discussion was the coming convention. The Girls' Club or Woman's League Convention convenes at Evanston, Ill., November 19-22. Our Club expects to send two delegates this year, one chosen from the Junior class and presumably one from the Sophomore class. Genevieve Lowry, president of the Girls' Club, will also go as secretary of the Convention.

Names were suggested of girls who would be most representative of the all-round Nebraska College Girl. Regular voting will be done later on. In the meantime every member of the Girls' Club should consider whom they would like to send.

The names of new Council members are to be turned in to Miss Graham or to the president.

Every member of the Board is urged to be present at the tea on Thursday. It was also suggested that they bring a Freshman, or some girl not accustomed to attending the teas.

LAWS NOW DOCILE.

No Longer the Rough Bunch of the Past—Prominent Junior Takes China Painting.

The laws have long been called a rough-neck and almost vicious bunch, but the living proof is among us that such a condition of affairs is a thing of the dim past. The fact is now known definitely that Lloyd Dewesse, a prominent Junior Law, is taking china painting from one to three each afternoon. Lloyd announced yesterday that he was coming along splendidly in his work and had had several compliments from his teacher. He is to be thanked by all Laws for this action in changing the opinion people have of the Law Students.

T. A. WILLIAMS,

ART EXHIBIT IS ON DISPLAY THIS WEEK

May Be Seen at Art Hall—School of Art Have Purchased Ten Famous Paintings.

There is a large exhibition of design work, done by the class in Art and Design on display in Art Hall this week. The designs are in cross-stitch and are for the most part, Professor Grummann says, of very high quality. More of these designs will be exhibited later on as they are completed.

This is the first year that the Home Economics department has included this work in its course. In this way the art and designs is being correlated with the work in Home Economics. In doing this Nebraska is doing just what schools all over the country are trying to do, and it is hoped that the experiment will prove as successful as the work already done seems to promise.

The following announcements concerning art exhibitions should be noted:

Four pictures by Ernst Roehik which have been on display have been recently removed but will soon be replaced. Mr. Roehik is an artist graduated from the Dresden Academy of Fine Arts and has attracted much attention in St. Louis by his excellent work.

The pictures on exhibition by Miss Elizabeth Dolan have been hung in U. 310.

The Art School has purchased ten reproductions in color of famous American paintings to be hung in the gallery when received.

There will be a special exhibition of the work of Mrs. Leland and Mrs. Edminston, both well known artists of the city, to begin this week. A reception will be held in Art Hall Saturday afternoon for this exhibit.

TIE FOR FIRST PLACE

THREE RUNNERS FINISH ABREAST IN CROSS-COUNTRY TRYOUTS.

WIND MAKES THE TIME SLOW

Captain Goetze, Anderson and Kubik Finish First, Followed Closely by Raecke, Ricker and Kratz.

By H. I. Kyle.

Fourteen men lined up at the corner of Tenth and T streets at 4:30 yesterday, for the cross-country tryout race. A half hour later the race was over. First honors must be divided among Captain Goetze, Kubik and Ralph Anderson, who swept up to the finish abreast, like Pharaoh's horses. Only a stride behind, came Raecke, whose game sprint at the finish came near landing him on a par with the leaders. Then came Ricker, followed closely by Kratz and ex-Captain McMasters, the latter of whom ran the race without previous training this year, his purpose being to inspire and assist the inexperienced candidates, rather than to gain honors for himself.

The rest of the squad soon finished, coming in the following order: Spohn, Shumaker, Pier, Pascal, Fouts, and Benz. None of the runners seemed particularly distressed by the long grind. The time was slow, being about thirty-one minutes, but the course is a very hard one and a strong wind was faced on the second half of the trip. It was also apparent that the leaders had not extended themselves,

TWO RHETORIC MEN BACK

Both Declare That They Had Good Vacations—Waited Until They Could Return Safely.

Professors Frye and Gass have returned from their summer's trip abroad and will soon have active charge of their classes. Their delayed return was caused by the war, which was declared while they were on the continent. As a matter of personal safety they deemed it advisable to wait until tourists received more considerate treatment before venturing to cross the country which has been the alleged scene of the reported cruelties.

In spite of the deplorable conditions, they enjoyed their vacations.

The Republican Club has issued a call for volunteer speakers and workers for the coming campaign. The time is short, and all those interested are requested to report to J. M. Blackwell, '15, at Earl Hall, at noon immediately.—Columbia Spectator.

Washington Homecoming.

The University of Washington holds its first homecoming celebration on Thanksgiving day. It is expected that the homecoming will become an annual event.

ALEXANDER GIVES THIRD WAR LECTURE

Speaks to Large Audience on "War and Religion"—Foreign Leaders All Earnest in Beliefs.

The third of the European war lectures was delivered by Prof. H. B. Alexander and was entitled "War and Religion." There was a good sized crowd out to hear the lecture. In his talk Prof. Alexander brought out the religious side as the prevailing element in this gigantic struggle. He showed how true the convictions of the rulers of Europe are when they commend their soldiers to God. "The religion of Europe is a Christian religion," said the professor, "and this war will bring out the soundness of her culture and religion. That Christianity in Europe is at the Tribunal and her fate is doubtful. I believe," said he, "that the aged emperor of Austria was sincere when he asked the Pope to bless his troops, also that the king of England when he commended his troops to God. The emperor of Germany was no less sincere when he proclaimed himself to be the anointed of God; he is just as sincere in his belief as is any minister of today. The Czar of the Russias is on an equal basis in his belief. Attila the Hun once called himself the courage of God, inspired by the same zeal that inspired these present rulers of the warring countries. Religion is the most prevalent in Germany, the people all having caught the spirit that held the Kaiser when he defied the world. The usual conception of religion is that of peace but the wars of Charlemagne were carried on in the behalf of religion, so were the Crusades, and the wars of the Reformation which were terrible in themselves."

The present outbreak will be the last in the mind of the professor and behind it all he sees a new civilization, culture and a practically new Europe. The lecture was enjoyed by all present and was certainly to be appreciated.

PLAY WAS RAGGED

FRESHMEN HAVE MUCH SUCCESS WITH FORWARD PASS.

CALEY GOES IN FOR POTTER

Gardiner of the Freshman Team, Makes a Spectacular Sprint—First Year Men Show Exceptional Strength.

By H. I. Kyle.

The Cornhuskers of yesterday afternoon only faintly resembled the wonderful aggregation that swept the confident Michigan Aggies off their cleats, last Saturday. There were times when the resemblance was quite noticeable, but such times were altogether too few. The skill and success with which the Freshmen used the forward pass in connection with Ames formations, caused the fans to shake their heads apprehensively. Passes of from thirty to forty yards were repeatedly completed by the irrepressible youngsters. No headway could be made through the varsity line, by the Harmon-Hoefel bunch, but they had fairly good success with end runs, both Gardiner and Otoupalik getting away several times, for sprints of twelve or fifteen yards around the wings.

The star performance of the game was made by Gardiner, the former Omaha High School quarterback, who returned a kick-off seventy-five yards, to the varsity 20 yard line, where he was forced out of bounds. Gardiner, Otoupalik and Cook, of the Freshman backfield, will all be strong contenders for a position on the varsity team next year. The Frosh line is also exceptionally strong, so that, all together, the first year team is one not to be sneezed at, or at any rate, to be sneezed at with great caution.

Caley relieved Potter, early in the performance, and showed much promise of becoming a star quarter. He is a veritable speed demon at carrying the ball, besides being able to pass the ball accurately for forty or fifty yards. His generalship ability remains to be demonstrated.

LAW SCHOOL REVIEW GIVEN TO STUDENTS

Published by West Publishing Company of Chicago—Distributed Free to Law Students.

The fall number of the American Law School Review, an intercollegiate law journal, was distributed among the members of the law school this week. This review is published every three months and is presented to all students in law schools by the publishers—The West Publishing Co., of St. Paul, Minn. It contains articles pertaining to the legal profession by lawyers and by teachers in law schools in different parts of the country. This issue contains an article of particular interest to law students at Nebraska. It was written by Leslie Childs of Chandler, Ind., (wherever that is), and is entitled, "A Law Student's Criticism of the Case Method." This method is in use in our law school.

Another item of interest is a table showing the distribution of lawyers in the United States. According to this table Nebraska has 1,448 lawyers or one to every 843 inhabitants. Of this number 333 are located in Omaha and 134 in Lincoln.

LESLIE MANN CENTER OF STUDENT CROWD

Returns From Boston and is Met by Band—Former Lincoln High School Star Athlete.

Leslie Mann, former Lincoln high school star and member of the pennant winning Boston Braves, was given an ovation by students yesterday morning. Many university students who were formerly at Lincoln High joined in the festivities. Les was met at the station by a brass band and conducted to the school auditorium where he was the center of attraction for nearly an hour. A banquet under the auspices of the City Y. M. C. A. will be tendered him at the Lindell tonight.
