betsch, who now must be ranked one of the best backs in the country, gained more ground than the Crimson warriors, and only the hardest kind of luck in the shadow of the Harvard goal posts prevented what looked like certain scores.

To followers of western football, the game as it was played was a hard one for Michigan to lose. As every follower of amateur sports knows, results alone count, and all the excuses and explanations cannot deprive Harvard of its victory. It is hoped that it will not be long before home and home games are played between the leading football elevens in both sections of the country.

Conference Race Muddled.

The champion situation in the western conference is more confused than ever as a result of the tie game between Chicago and Wisconsin. Illinois stamped itself as a formidable aggregation, but it will have to beat Chicago at Urbana on November 14 and then defeat the Badgers at Madison on the following Saturday to win the title. In the meantime the Badgers are slated to play Minnesota at Minneapolis.

Chicago's setback by Wisconsin was the principal upset in the west, as nearly every follower of the game expected Chicago to win. The Maroons had their chance in the opening period, when they carried the oval to the Badger three yard line. They made a march of thirty-five yards in the first five minutes of play, and if Russell had called upon either Gray or Flood to carry the ball when the oval was inside of the five yard line a touchdown probably would have resulted.

Instead of giving the ball to Gray or Flood, the Midway quarter elected to carry it himself on an end run. He was thrown for a loss and the required distance could not be made in the remaining downs. Outside of this piece of doubtful judgment, Russell played a good game, and although he was a marked player, got away for several short runs.

Lesson For Maroon Team.

Saturday's game should be a lesson to Maroons in one respect. At times Bellows, who did the kicking for Wisconsin, had a decided advantage and it was because of his well placed drives that the Badgers were placed in positions to score on two occasions. On the other hand, Captain Des Jardien, who did most of the booting for the Maroons, either outkicked his ends or else drove the ball into the waiting arms of Bellows and Smith who seldom failed to bring it back a considerable distance.

In this respect it is well to mention that with the exception of two or three times, when he attempted forward passes, Des Jardien always kicked the ball. Every time Russell went back to take the ball from a punt formation he ran with it. The Badgers were quick to learn this point and they generally nabbed Pete before he had made much progress.

Unless Gray is able to get back in the game Chicago has only a fighting chance to win from Illinois in the most important game remaining on the Maroon schedule. Without the fleet halfback the Midway team is slow and sluggish. The plays are not snapped off with the quickness and drive so essential to success. Stagg may reorganize his back field by playing Gordon, the fast and elusive substitute quarterback, at one of the half-back positions. Zuppke at Illinois did this with Pogue, who played quarterback part of the time last year, and the benefit of the switch was apparent in the Minnesota game.

Illinois Proves Strength.

Because of its victory over Minnesota, which is not a weak team by any means this year, Illinois must be considered the strongest aggregation developed in Urbana in the last decade. The team has played consistent football all season, and its victory over Minnesota will make it a hard aggregation to beat.

Illinois will have two weeks to prepare for the Chicago game on November 14. It will be the big home game of the season, so Coach Zuppke will send a much better drilled eleven on the field against the Maroons than he did against the Gophers.

Nebraska, one of the contenders for the western title, won a hard fought game from Ames, 20 to 7, and Notre Dame kept its western slate clean by beating the Haskell Indians, 21 to 7.

Aside from the Michigan-Harvard game, the other contest of interest in the east which surprised the fans was Princeton's poor showing against Williams. The game resulted in a 7 to 7 tie. The only team of note which Williams has beaten are Trinity, Springfield Training school and Vermont. The Tigers may have been laying low for the Harvard game next Saturday, but they were lucky to escape defeat.

President Wilson Endorses John A. Maguire

White House, Washington, D. C., Oct. 27, 1914.
Mr. William Ritchie, Jr.
Chairman Congressional Committee, Lincoln, Neb.
Dear Sir:

It is a real pleasure to speak for those who have stood by the cause of the people and manifested in a very practical way their support of just, progressive legislation. Certainly Mr. Maguire is one of these. His quality has been tested by his service. It would seem to be little more than justice to him that his constituents should return him to the house, where with lengthened service he will be able to give the country the benefit of his ability more and more effectively from month to month. WOODROW WILSON.

A VOTE FOR MAGUIRE MEANS AN INDORSEMENT OF:

- President Wilson's Administration.
- Secretary Bryan's World Peace Policy.
- "Watchful Waiting" as to Mexico.
- Neutrality as to European War.
- Laws relieving financial stress.
- Lower Tariff Taxes. Trust program in Congress.
- Income Tax Law. Government control of banking.
- Election of Senators by people.
- Treasury funds for crop moving.
- Agricultural extension, good roads, better markets, prevention of hog cholera, rural credits.
- Arbitration of labor disputes. Conservation policy.
- Merchant marine without subsidy.
- Philippine independence. Lobby investigation.
- Presidential Primary.
- Efficiency in the public service.

CONGRESSMAN JOHN A. MAGUIRE
U. of N. '03 Candidate for Re-election.

A VOTE AGAINST MAGUIRE MEANS:

- Reputation of Wilson Administration.
  - Protest against progressive principles.
  - Return to special interests.
  - Obstruction to Administration program in the interest of the people.
- MR. VOTER:
The country needs Wilson and his policies. Wilson needs a Congress to support his Administration.
