VESPER SERVICE HELD THURSDAY
Dr. Young Spoke on "The College Student's Idealism—Large Number of Girls Attend Service.

The Thanksgiving vesper service was attended by a large number of girls. Dr. Young spoke on the subject, "The College Student's Idealism." He mentioned sincerity as one of the things most worth while. Friendship, service to others, and faith were other ideals he developed as worth while. He urged that in reading, the college girl should choose books that will strengthen her ideals. He mentioned Robertson Nichol as a great writer.

The ideal of University life today, he said, is broad culture, scientific accuracy, and unselfish service. This belief he said was confirmed by reading thirteen baccalaureate sermons through which ran the same theme.

He mentioned the Japanese ideal of gathering the best of every nation in order that he may bring it home and inculcate it in his own life, as a very commendable one.

BUILDING PLANS STILL UNCERTAIN
Dairy Building Probably First—Nebraska Hall Will be Replaced by Natural Science Hall.

The modest sum of $600,000.00 has accumulated in the last two years for the use of the Regents for the University and appearances are that an even larger amount will have been raised before work will be begun on the buildings to be erected under the extension plan, to finance which nearly $3,000,000.00 will be required.

The architects are, have been, and will be busy for some time to come on the plans which must be completed before any definite action may be taken with regard to the contract. Every professor interested in the extension is strongly urging that his building should be considered, and it is doubtful which structure will be started first. Indications are, however, that the Farm will get a new dairy building before any of the others now under consideration are finished.

Building Superintendent Chowin stated that there was some, if not a great deal, of uncertainty as to what buildings would be erected first, and that no accurate assertion was possible, but that in his opinion a new Chemistry building, a Natural Science building to take the place of the present Nebraska Hall, and the Dairy building at the Farm would be the first to be turned over to the contractors. There is some talk of the new Observatory being among the first to share in the appropriation, but there has been little confirmation of the rumor.

Superintendent Chowin has recommended that Nebraska Hall be condemned as unsafe, and advocates the early replacing of this building by the Natural Science Hall.

The exact location of the proposed new buildings has not been decided, but it is rumored that they will stand not far from the present antiquated land marks.

Construction is not expected to begin before next fall.

CORNHUSKER OFFICES OPENED IN U. HALL
Located on Fourth Floor—Engraving Contract Let to Baker Bros., of Omaha.

The editorial offices of the Cornhusker annual opened yesterday on the fourth floor of University Hall building. Nearly all of the space on that floor being occupied by the various members of the editorial staff, which itself is larger this year than ever before. Telephones and typewriters have been installed and are constantly in use. It is expected that the need of an electric elevator will be next felt.

The business office of the Cornhusker is located with the Awgwan in the basement of U. Hall. It is ever the scene of bustle and activity. The manager can give instructions to his men, answer the questions of a Nebraskan representative and attend to several other of his numerous duties at one and the same time.

The engraving contract has been let to Baker Bros. of Omaha, and the work which follows is being pushed with all possible speed. The letting of the printing contract has not been definitely arranged as yet but will be concluded soon.

Everything is being managed in a way to insure the completion of the book, and to have the same ready for delivery by April 15th, positively,—(according to Manager Poteet), this is a month and a half earlier than the book has ever before been ready for delivery.
