BIG MIXER TONIGHT

UPON TONIGHT'S SUCCESS DEPENDS FUTURE MIXERS

EIGHT HUNDRED EXPECTED

Excellent Entertainment Planned for the Amusement of All—The Faculty Will Appear Young Again

Tonight at 8:00 o'clock the second University "Mixer" will open its doors. Four weeks ago tonight, about this same hour, the students began crowding into the gymnasium to satisfy their curiosity concerning the first "Mixer." Upon the success of tonight's entertainment and the size of the crowd will depend the success of all future events of this kind at Nebraska. The students of Nebraska have a reputation for quickly becoming tired of new ideas, and it remains to be seen whether this objection will hold good when applied to this real University function.

The committee in charge of the gathering tonight is very confident. Mr. Zumwinkle said yesterday that he expected at least eight hundred students to attend. One other member of the committee made the statement that she would be disappointed unless one thousand appeared. Profiting by the experience of the first "Mixer," the committee has arranged an excellent program for tonight. Besides the privilege of dancing, a complete line of "stunts" has been arranged, and will be pulled off with Orpheum-like rapidity. The faculty will attend in a body (so it is rumored) to see themselves as they were fifty years ago. How would you like to see Dean Davis making mud pies with Chancellor Avery, or Doctor Fling and Dean Hastings playing marbles for "keeps"? Of course, the committee has not made any definite promises, but nevertheless everyone can go feeling confident that they will be entertained.

Scott's orchestra has been secured to play throughout the evening. Refreshments will be served to all, so secure your partner—or someone else's partner—and file by the truck wagon early. Admission will be the same as on the former occasion, to-wit: Twenty-five cents per person if alone, and 25 cents extra if accompanied with someone else. Everyone has the privilege of coming alone and depending on his own resources after gaining admission, but then every student must determine this phase of the question for himself.

The "Mixer" will start promptly at 8:00 p. m. The "school house stunt" will begin at 8:45, so the faculty is especially urged to come early and get a "stand-in" with the participants.

MORRIS GIVES TALK TO FOREST CLUB

Delivers Lecture on "Lessons From the Forest Fire of 1910—Greatest Fire in Forestry History

The other evening Prof. W. W. Morris of the Forestry department lectured to the members of the Forest Club on "Lessons From the Forest Fire of 1910." This, the greatest fire in the history, occurred on the Coeur d'Alene national forest in Idaho, and raged for a number of days before a sixty mile wind. It was finally extinguished by rain and snow after $150,000 had been paid out by the Government for fighting it, men in gangs of from sixty to one hundred being sent out from Spokane and other cities. Eighty men were burned to death.

The fire swept over an area of two hundred and fifty thousand acres it is estimated, burning approximately two billion feet of timber valued at about $6,000,000. Forty per cent of the destroyed timber was Pinus Monticola (Western white pine).

Professor Morris emphasized the management of fire fighting crews, the methods of procedure and how to get efficiency in fire fighting. His lecture was supplemented with maps and diagrams.

MC'GURK STARS AT QUARTER

Cold Weather Causes Much Fumbling, But Game Was Fast and Exciting, Notwithstanding—Play Even Till the Last Quarter

By H. I. Kyie

Because of the fact that yesterday's issue of the Daily Nebraskan was the Agricultural Edition, it was thought best to reserve the detailed account of the Senior-Freshman football game for today's paper, rather than take the space from the Farm students yesterday.—The Editor.

Because of the cold, disagreeable weather and the icy condition of the field, fumbles were frequent and dodging was almost impossible. Notwithstanding these difficulties, the play was fast and spectacular, neither side having much advantage until the final period.

The Freshmen received the kick-off and made a 20 yard return. Their first play resulted in a fumble which was grabbed by a Senior. Mapes failed, on a line buck; Southwick made 2 yards around right end; a forward pass was incomplete; Freshmen take ball on downs. Sadelik spilled the first play for a 1 yard loss; Colton failed on an end run; forward pass incomplete; some Frosh punted 30 yards to McGurk, who made a 10-yard return. On a tackle-around play Bauman was good for 6 yards and repeated with two yards more. Freshmen penalized 5 yards for offside making first down for Seniors. Senior fumble recovered by Freshman Boehmer hit the line for four yards; Moore made two yards through tackle; Colton made first down around left end; Hartman was forced outside on end run; Freshmen penalized 15 yards for holding; Colton raced around right end for ten yards.

End of first quarter: Score 0 to 0 with ball in center of the field in Freshmen's possession.

Hartman made 8 yards around left end. Time out for Southwick, who was hurt in making the tackle; Boehmer punted 25 yards to McGurk who returned 9 yards; on the next play

Bauman was thrown for a 2-yard loss; Reese plugged the line for 2 yards, and Mapes made first down for the Seniors. McGurk fumbled and a Freshman recovered the ball; on an end run Colton failed to gain; Freshmen tried two forward passes in succession, both of which were incomplete. Seniors took the ball on downs but fumbled on first play, Freshmen

PRE-MEDICS ENJOY VISIT TO ASYLUM

Tour of Inspection Followed by Lectures From Physicians in Charge

The Pre-Medic Society journeyed to the State Hospital for the Insane last evening. There was a mob of future doctors that besieged the unfortunate street car conductor at Tenth and O streets, and how many of these rode with the compliments of the street car company is unknown. One thing is certain, there were so many of them that the car had a very sanitary and antiseptic appearance. President Updegraf and Secretary Dakin did their best to preserve order, but most of the order was pickled.

After a tour through the institution, which is very large and well furnished, the visitors were taken to the large theatre and dance hall, where they listened to several very interesting lectures. President Updegraf of the society opened the meeting by thanking Doctor Williams, the superintendent, for the courtesy shown the society. Doctor Williams then gave a talk on the work being done by the hospital and the various methods used to treat the different forms of insan-

PROFESSOR WILL SPEAK IN OMAHA

Will Address Omaha Y. M. C. A. on Subject of Power Development—100 Slides to be Shown.

CALL CAME FROM CALIFORNIA

Cook, of the State Commission of Horticulture in California, Has Asked Professor to Speak During Exposition

Doctor Bessey is in receipt of a very complimentary invitation from A. J. Cook, the state commissioner of horticulture in California. Mr. Cook asks that Doctor Bessey be the speaker of the evening on "Horticulture Day," which comes during the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The forty-sixth annual convention of California also meets at that time. About thirteen hundred people are expected to attend and Doctor Bessey is also invited to be present at these meetings. The commissioner said that, in scouring the country for a man of decided distinction to give the address, the committee unanimously chose Nebraska's world-famous botanist. As yet Doctor Bessey has not decided whether or not he will accept the invitation.

IMPORTANT!

Students who are to take part in the mixer stunt, report in U 106 at 7:30 tonight.

VERY FEW JUNIORS ARE HOLDING BACK

Reservations For Seats Are Going Nicely Because of Discount Advantage

The committee that has charge of the selling of Junior Class Play tickets reports that before the students leave for their Christmas vacations enough tickets will have been sold to insure the giving of the play in March. The reduction of twenty-five per cent in the price because of advance buying has attracted many that would probably not have listened to any other proposition.

Today and all of next week those having the receipts for seat reservations will make an extensive campaign in order to make it necessary to make more advance sales after the first of the year.
