TUESDAY, JANUARY 5, 1915

Welcome back.

Did you enjoy yourself? How is everything up your way?

THE NEW YEAR

The old year is gone and with it all that might have been. Some have drifted as dead branches upon the Missouri. Others have at least tried to control their own course in life and have struggled with various degrees of success to let thought, not luck or fate, guide their destiny.

It is an opportune time as we bid good-bye to the old year and greet the new to take note of whither we are traveling. When old Mother Earth shall have made another score o. journeys around the sun will we be listed with the brilliant, the mediocre, or the failures? A careful self-examination now may have much to do with the answer.

Welcome the coming year with earnestness, courage and a will to rise above the level of the years past.
There is but one hopeless class—those of dull minds and without courage, who say: "What's the use?"

Success is not easy or all would succeed. Resolutions to do this or that will not get one far. A South Sea Islander believes that his arrow will always hit the mark when dipped in blood. So the one who dreams of high places, if he would hit the mark, must bathe his ambition in his own life blood. Self-mastery and continual effort are the secrets of success. The biography of every student who fails can be written in these words: "He loved ease too well."

CONTEST THURSDAY

Scores Are Forwarded to Washington Where They Are Compared With Scores From Other Colleges

Nebraska men will shoot in the first intercollegiate rifle match next Thursday at an hour to be arranged to suit the convenience of the team members.
There will be a match every week from now until about the time outdoor drill begins.

The rifle team is composed of the ten best shots in the University regiment. In every match each man shoots ten shots standing and ten prone; the five best scores are then forwarded to the secretary of the National Rifle association at Washington, who announces the comparative standing of the competing teams.

Nearly all of the large colleges in the United States take part in these intercollegiate shoots.

Nebraska was not represented last year through failure to send in a filing fee on time, but expects to make a record this year. Major Armstrong says that Nebraska has some good material and could show up to advantage in her class if the men would turn out for practice.
