WOMEN AND WAR

The passion for war is masculine. Fighting, whether with knife or Krupp cannon, has ever been a man's game. War brings to women poverty and agony, without compensation in return, while men at least get lots of excitement and whatever glory there is in killing other men.

Pertinent remarks along this line were made by influential women of Denver last spring when they formed a woman's peace organization. It will be remembered that this was at the time when the militarists of the country were calling for an invasion of Mexico. Mrs. Alma Lafferty, chairman, said:

"I wish that the feeling may grow so strong against allowing American boys to be shot down to elevate some politicians, that American women will cease to bear sons to sacrifice in an issue of this kind. Colorado women have the ballot and we will not stand for another war. We must use our votes to stamp out this cruel suffering."

Said another woman: "We will not tolerate another war in which we will be the one's to suffer. We will not bear sons to be shot down like dogs to protect property in Mexico or elsewhere."

So if you believe in Von Bernhardi's doctrine of war as the rejuvenator of national vigor, take a firm stand against woman suffrage and fight every attempt to put women on an equal footing with men in regulating the affairs of society. Women are so mentally constructed that it is hard to make them see the glory of waging wars in order that a nation may continue to "rule the waves" or "get a place in the sun." Giving women an opportunity to exercise a direct influence upon the affairs of state makes it sure that the United States will never interfere in Mexico to protect our vested interests. Women will be women and you just simply can not make them understand the sanctity of property rights when the lives of their children are involved. Why, we dare say that there are some women so foolish that they wouldn't approve of us losing just a thousand soldiers in order to get the whole of Mexico! Be careful about giving women the ballot!

THE FORUM

Editor Daily Nebraskan:

How many "honor hunting fiends" around school really want work? How many persons who belong to social or honorary organizations really try to render those organizations a service? Do you attend meetings? Did you ever do any work?

Statistics show that eight out of every ten want these things: To get a joke in the Awgwan calendar about themselves; their names in the Daily Nebraskan, or their picture in half a dozen places in the Cornhusker. Are you one of the drones? Honor is the official recognition of some service rendered. Are you living up to your official recognition?

Your name in Nebraskan headlines; your cartoon in the Awgwan, or a half-column write-up in the Cornhusker about you will not make a man or woman out of you. If you aspire, try to do something—a little "honest to goodness" work. It will help some.

Are you on the Cornhusker staff? Show up! Go to the office and see Samuelson. Do some work! Do your part! Everybody get their pictures taken this week if possible.

The Cornhusker must be out on time!

CORNHUSKER MANAGEMENT.

LIVE LIKE A HERO

Go forward into the dizzy whirl of the world's battle of life.

Brawly and firmly enter the rattle of commerce and strife.

Men with nerves of iron, hearts that are noble and true,

Enter our vast fields, doing the work you are fitted to do.

Danger awaits those who linger and tarry, and their duty would shun.

Safe is he who perseveres and feels sure the field shall be won.

So rest not at zero; firmly press onward, rise high as you can.

Rank in the front, avoid the rear; live like a hero and strive like a man.

W. L. KERNEY.
