LE ROSSIGNOL BACK FROM EASTERN STATES

Visits Schools of Commerce in Other Institutions—Says Nebraska School is Doing Well

Professor Le Rossignol returned recently from a somewhat extended trip to the north-central and eastern states, where he visited the schools of commerce of some of the larger institutions. He spent Christmas with his parents at Toronto, and also spent a few days with friends at Montreal.

During the fore part of his absence from Lincoln, Professor Le Rossignol visited the school of commerce at the University of Minnesota, at the University of Wisconsin, at the University of Illinois, and at Northwestern University. Following his visit at Montreal and Toronto, he attended a three days' session of the Economic Association, which was held at Princeton, N. J. Men from many states who are interested in commercial work were present. A luncheon was given, followed by informal talks on the progress of commercial work at various places.

Professor Le Rossignol met representatives from commercial schools in New York and in Michigan, also from Harvard, Dartmouth, and from the University of Pittsburgh, where large schools of commerce are located.

He says the commercial school idea is making rapid progress everywhere, and is approved generally by educators.

Basing his conclusions on the conditions he found existing elsewhere, Professor Le Rossignol says that the school of commerce in this institution is moving along in good shape and is meeting with success.

Prof. J. H. Pettit of the department of agriculture of the University of Illinois died last week in California.

R. P. Wagner, who was obliged to leave shortly before vacation on account of illness, is now in school again.

Miss Gladys Bunt, '14, who is teaching this year in Owatonna, Minnesota, will be a guest in the city this weekend to attend the military ball.

George W. Dudley, '02, has made application for appointment to the position of head of the Council Bluffs High School commercial department. If chosen by the teachers' committee of the school board he will serve during the absence of Prof. J. C. Grason.

W. W. Woods, '95, '04, secretary and treasurer of the Wenatchee World, Wenatchee, Washington, left Monday for his home after a visit of several days in Lincoln. He said that the Pacific northwest had been hard hit by the war, which has interfered with commerce and caused depressed markets for lumber and fruits.

REVIEW OF OMAHA COLLEGE MAGAZINES

December "Pulse" and "Creighton Chronicle"—Both Have Good Issues

Well edited and well printed, the December "Pulse" seems to be quite healthy. The magazine opens with a scientific paper by one of the instructors in the College of Medicine. Following this valuable contribution comes several pages of news notes, which are pleasantly varied by a number of live jokes. The issue is up to the usual standard and merits commendation.

Half-tone illustrations give a finished appearance to the December number of the Creighton Chronicle. There are several good articles on interesting subjects, and the various departments are well edited. The magazine is neatly gotten up and reflects credit on the Omaha school.

When A. H. Murray, a student assistant in the College of Agriculture, was grading the notebooks of a short course class, Friday, he found one book in which the notes were all in shorthand. Although Murray's knowledge of shorthand is slight, he was able to judge that the book was unusually complete. He returned the notebook with a grade of S.

The University of Kansas has closed its beauty contest. Fifty feminine Jayhawkers contested for the five selections to be made.

Oberlin College, Ohio, has developed the "mixer" idea and now holds separate "mixers" for the men and women.

At the recent state bar examination in Missouri, eleven students of the university of that state were examined and passed.

A COLLEGE man is fonder of his sweater than of any other garment. This is why you should wear a "Bradley." It's worthy of your regard. It's a friend that will stand by you all during your college course. It's made of the "stuff" that will never go back on you—that will stand all you can give it and never lose its shape or newness.

HERE we illustrate the Bradley Jumbo, a big heavy-weight, made of big, warm yarn. It is a fine-looking garment—looks its warmth and comfort. College men everywhere pronounce it a corking style.
