HOME ECONOMICS TO MEET NEXT WEEK
Women of University Farm Will Have Opportunity of Attending Meetings of Economics Association

Women in attendance at the University Farm during Organized Agriculture week will have the opportunity of attending the sessions of the tenth annual program of the Nebraska Home Economics Association, to be held January 19, 20 and 21. The lectures of the sessions will take up food, the home economics work of women in clubs, art in the home, the budget system of handling household expenditures, kitchen equipment, and economics of dress, as well as other topics of domestic interest. Discussions will also form an important part of the program.

The morning meetings will be given over to a study of foods. The lectures will begin at 9 o'clock in room 306 Agricultural Hall. These will be followed by work in the food laboratories in Home Economics Hall under the direction of Miss Alice Loomis, head of the department of home economics. The lectures are free, but a small fee will be charged for the laboratory work to cover the actual cost of food used.

The program for the afternoon sessions will be as follows:

Tuesday, January 19
"The Work of Women in Clubs"
1:30—Greetings, Mrs. Emma Reed Davisson.

Wednesday, January 20
"Art in the Home"
1:30—Miscellaneous business.
2:00—Art in the Home, Miss Sara S. Hayden.
2:45—Nebraska Artists, Mrs. James T. Lees. With collection of pictures from Nebraska artists.)
3:15—Some of Our Nebraska Birds, Mrs. A. E. Sheldon. (Illustrated lecture.)
Discussion.

Thursday, January 21
"The Home on a Business Basis"
1:30—Reports of committees.
1:40—The Budget System, Mrs. George Loveland.
2:00—Kitchen Equipment, Miss Mabel C. Daniels.
2:30—How the Little Folks and I Did the Work, Mrs. W. G. Whitmore, Valley.

1:45—The National Federation, Mrs. Harry L. Keefe, Walthill.
2:10—The State Federation, Mrs. A. G. Peterson, Aurora.
2:30—The City Club, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Campbell, Bethany.
2:50—The Rural Club, Mrs. Lulu Kortz Hudson, Simeon.
Discussion.
Club reports by association members limited to three minutes.
Reception at the home of Mrs. E. A. Burnett, 3256 Holdrege street, from 4 to 5 o'clock.

3:00—Economics of Dress, Miss Helen Lee Davis.
3:30—House Practice as a High School Study, Miss Maud Mthes Wilson.
Discussion.
The officers of the association are: President, Mrs. Emma Reed Davisson, Lincoln; vice-president (ex officio), Prof. Alice Loomis, Lincoln; vice-president, Mrs. Nettie Lanphere, Gresham; secretary, Mrs. John P. Mann, Crawford; treasurer, Mrs. V. S. Culver, Albion.
The aim of the state association is the same as that of similar organizations in other states and that of the official publication of the American Home Economics Association—"to bring together those interested in the bettering of conditions in the home, the school, the institution, and the community," with special reference to food, clothing, the house, and home.
It is held by those interested in the work that Nebraska is especially fortunate in that all organizations doing home economics work co-operate perfectly. The national and state chairmen of home economics, the home economics department of the University of Nebraska, the Agricultural Extension Service, and the Nebraska Home Economics Association recognize the waste of independent work.
