ELECTION TUESDAY

SEMESTER ELECTION WILL BE HELD ON FEBRUARY 16TH

MANY CANDIDATES IN FIELD

Girl in Race For Junior President—Many Men Out For Ivy Day Orator—Freshman Not Heard From

Memorial Hall will be "Memorial Hall" for certain after next Tuesday. That is it will be a memorable hall at least, for in this building is to be held the election for the various class offices and for the Cornhusker berths and the Ivy Day oratorship.

The number of candidates is not so much out of the ordinary as is the activity with which they are waging their campaigns. Any sort of a machine that can possibly be pressed into use is being oiled up, and from indications and from assertions there will be factions capable of representation by anything from a Winton Six to the D. L. Ford.

For the presidency of the Senior class, O. W. Sjogren and Otto Zumwinkle have been reported as energetically presenting their respective qualifications.

In the Junior class there is a very extraordinary situation. For the first time in the annals of the elections of this class there is a girl in the race. Ruth Sheldon has announced herself for the presidency and Percy Spencer is campaigning for the same. All suffragettes and suffragists will have the opportunity to partake in an interesting fight if they choose to do so.

The second year men are having their attentions attracted (or distracted) by the rival efforts of A. R. Swenson, Harry Marsh, and it is reported, Byron Hayes.

The Freshmen, bless them, have not been heard from. Whether there is a man in the field or not is a matter of speculation. Perhaps there is and he is too busy to notify his press agent of his intentions. Anyway we can depend upon the Freshmen for a couple of candidates to enliven the scrap.

For the Cornhusker offices Jake Schwab is a candidate for editor-in-chief. Jake says that he refuses to make his nationality an issue, and is resting easy, for it takes an Irishman to beat the Dutch.

SWIMMING SEASON EXTENDED FIVE DAYS

May Enjoy Five More Swims if Forty Girls Sign for Lessons—Urged to Register Promptly

The swimming season for girls will be extended five more lessons if forty girls signify their desire to have it continued. Time, Wednesdays, from nine to eleven-thirty. Place, Y. M. C. A. swimming pool. Fee, one dollar for five lessons. Please sign at once on the placard in the Women's Gymnasium.

The girls have enjoyed a very successful series of swimming lessons this year. Much trouble was experienced at first owing to the fact that the girls neglected to register for the course.

EPISCOPAL MEETING

All Men Urged to Attend Meeting on Wednesday Evening at 1906 Washington Street

All men affiliated with the Episcopal church are invited to attend the meeting Wednesday evening at the home of Eugene Wetling, 1906 Washington street.

These different church meetings are proving very agreeable and are being given by the different church organizations.

FRATERNITY SNAPS MUST BE TURNED IN

So Says Editor Samuelson of the Cornhusker Office—Satisfied With Progress Made so Far

"There seems to be some misunderstanding," Editor Samuelson stated to a Daily Nebraskan reporter last evening, "about the fraternity and sorority snapshots. The page opposite the group picture will be a page of snapshots, instead of the mixture which past Cornhuskers have had there. We must have these snaps right away. Any number from six to sixty is desirable, as we can use the surplus in other sections, or return them. If the girls do not want to come up to the fourth floor office, they can leave them at Station A, if marked on the envelope for the Cornhusker." The management is well satisfied with the progress made so far, but must have these, and all other snapshots, at once.

EXTENSION SERVICE

ANNUAL REPORT OF EXTENSION SERVICE FOR 1914

CARRYING TEN LINES WORK

Papers Using the Service Have 97 Per Cent of the Total Number of Subscribers to All Nebraska Papers

News from the College of Agriculture is circulated about through the state and other states in a very novel way. The Extension Service carries all the news of the college to the different papers in the state and consequently reaches practically all the newspaper readers in the state.

The Extension Service of the College of Agriculture of the University of Nebraska is carrying on the following lines of extension work:

1. Farmers' institutes.
2. Extension schools.
3. Demonstration work.
4. Boys' and girls' clubs.
5. Home economics work.
6. Women's clubs.
7. Extension news service.
8. County fair exhibits.
9. Correspondence courses.
10. Extension bulletins and circulars.

In carrying on this work twenty-five people are employed by the service for full time, five for part time, and fifteen for special lecture work as the occasion demands, making a total of forty-five workers. In addition to this, the faculty of the College of Agriculture, the staff of the Experiment Station, and members of various state associations and commissions give much time to the work.

The farm demonstration work, the boys' and girls' club work, and certain phases of work in connection with dairying and hog cholera problems are carried on in co-operation with the United States Department of Agriculture and local organizations of farmers.

The following is a statement of the clerical work necessary in conducting

STUDENT LIFE SHOWN IN MOVIE

Farmers Institute at Bruning to See Agricultural Student at Work in University

The University Extension Department is shipping two films to Bruning, Nebraska, where they will be run in a local moving picture house to the Farmers' Institute. The films include the pictures taken of the agricultural student from the time of his entering the University up to the time of his graduation.

SECOND LECTURE IS TO BE GIVEN TODAY

Dr. Martin H. Fisher Will Deliver Second Lecture in Physics Building This Afternoon

The second lecture of the series being given by Dr. Martin H. Fisher will be delivered this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. The lecture last evening proved very instructive and also very interesting. A fairly large audience listened attentively to the professor's lecture.

Following is an outline of the lecture which will be given this afternoon:

"Absorption and Secretion in the Complex Organism."

1. On absorption from the Peritoneal Cavity and the Gastro-Intestinal Tract.
2. On Secretion.
3. On Urinary Secretion.
4. On the Nature of Diuresis and the Action of the Diuretic Salts.
5. On Diuretics of the Second Order.

JUNIOR CLASS PLAY TRYOUTS THURSDAY

Miss Howell to Coach Play—Will be Presented at the Oliver Theatre in March

Thursday evening the try-outs for the Junior play will be held in the Temple theatre. The last registration was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. About thirty have signified their intention of trying for the different parts. "The Road to Yesterday," is the name of the play which will be presented by the Junior class this year. It is a mixture of modern and mediaeval acting which should take well with the student body. The first act is laid with a modern setting while the second and third acts take place during the mediaeval ages. The time changes again in the fourth act back to the modern stage.

Miss Howell has been secured to coach the play again this year and will no doubt make a complete success of it as she has always done in the past. The Junior class is composed of many good actors and actresses and many who would be the same, so between the two classes Miss Howell should be able to secure an excellent cast.

The play will be presented during the month of March at the Oliver theatre. The exact date will be announced later. It was first planned to give the play at the Temple but sufficient tickets have been sold in advance to warrant giving the play at the Oliver.

The manuscript is on the reserve desk at the general library and anyone desiring to copy their parts for the try-outs may secure it from there.

OFF ON EASTERN TRIP

CORNHUSKERS LEAVE FOR IOWA TODAY

TO MEET DRAKE AND AMES

Two Games Apiece With Aggies and Bulldogs—Huskers Badly Crippled—Shields May Not go With Team

The Cornhusker basketball team, accompanied by Coach Stiehm, will leave on the 4:30 Rock Island today for the annual trip back east. The members of the squad who will make the trip were not definitely known last night. Shields, who was injured in the Wesleyan games, is in poor condition. His knee was badly wrenched early in the game. It has mended slowly, and should it show no signs of strengthening, he will not accompany the team.

Returning from the north with feathers trailing, and coming up from the south with two defeats at the hands of a conference rival, the last journey of the 1915 basketball quintet is a subject of considerable interest. Four games are scheduled, two with the Iowa Aggies at Ames, and two with Drake at Des Moines. The prospects for an all-victorious eastern trip are not especially bright. With Captain Hawkins and Myers out, and likely Shields, the Husker's chances do not loom up any too promisingly. Nebraska can do no worse than break even with Ames, having won two games from the Aggies earlier in the season. But this feat was accomplished on the home floor when the team was intact. With the Huskers battling the Aggies on their mammoth floor, which is not to be compared with our own pigmy one, the result is a toss up. The Ames floor is causing Coach Stiehm a little worry, for it affects a team's play materially. The Ames quintet has taken a decided brace after their defeat at the hands of Nebraska and Kansas and are playing much more efficient basketball. The prowess of the Drake Bulldogs is only a matter of conjecture. They have been successful in their early season games with some of the smaller colleges of Iowa, but just how strong they are is not known to the Cornhusker mentor or his men.

The Huskers went through a short practice last evening. Kelfer was playing at center, Rutherford, Gardner, and Thiesen at forwards, and Campbell, Hugg and Milliken at guards. The team is not in the best condition after the Wesleyan encounter.

MILITARY OFFICERS LEAVE DEPARTMENT

Arthur Allyn and Merrill Reed Highest Officers of First Regiment Resign

The military department announces the resignation of two of the higher officers of the first regiment. Lieut. Colonel A. E. Allyn was captain of Company A last year. Mr. Allyn is majoring in chemistry and was known as a very well disciplined officer. Merrill Reed, the major of the Second Battalion, has also resigned his position. Mr. Reed was captain of Company M last year and is a member of the Phi Psi fraternity. The military department is also perfecting a new scheme to handle delinquent students, which it will make known later.
