STUDENT ACTIVITIES

INNOCENTS PROPOSE METHOD OF LIMITING PARTICIPATION

FOLLOWS MINNESOTA'S PLAN

Each Student Will Be Limited in the Number of Activities in Which He May Take Part—To Be Presented to Classes

The Innocents have under consideration a plan whereby more students may take part in University activities. They intend to present to the different classes the question of permitting a few individuals to carry on the different lines of University activities. The four classes will vote upon the question and a petition will then be presented to the authorities for their permission.

The University of Minnesota have a system of grading by which every activity is graded as being equivalent to so many points. Whenever a student has a certain number of points against him for any particular semester, the authorities force him to cease his political duties and go to studying. In this manner many students who otherwise would not be represented in the active part of University life do take part. Another great advantage reaped from this plan results from each student picking out that line to which he is most adapted and developing it, instead of spreading his talents over many fields. According to the Minnesota system, a senior is allowed fifty points, a junior forty, a sophomore thirty, and a freshman twenty points. A man who is a member of the Student Council has twenty points marked against him, the editor of the daily is credited with thirty points, and other activities, including dramatics, glee club, debating, athletics, etc., accordingly.

At the present time about twenty students have charge of the different University functions. These same students in most instances are struggling with their sixteen, or more usually twelve, hours of University work in a vain attempt to run affairs and at the same time secure an education. This new system will be a benefit to both students and the University at large. It is hoped that the different classes will vote favorably upon whatever plan involving these principles which the Innocents decide to put forward. The plan as now being considered will work one of the greatest revolutions among the students and will undoubtedly secure better results than any movement which has been considered for some time. The University public will undoubtedly look forward with interest to the next move of the Innocent Society.

CADET BAND PLAYS TO SMALL CROWD

Brightness and life characterized the three selections which the Cadet Band played at Thursday's convocation. The size of the gym slightly marred the effectiveness. But a small crowd of students heard the cadets play.

Yesterday afternoon the band gave a public rehearsal in the Temple theatre. A fairly large number of students took the opportunity of hearing them.

Campus Mystery

It is understood that Governor Morehead was heard to say that Dr. Wolfe had told one of his classes that Coach Stiehm had let the cat out of the bag concerning what Prof. Aylsworth had said in the 8 o'clock division of the Political Science 2, concerning an utterance made by Prof. Caldwell in regard to Prof. Virtue's eternal search for statistics. He found that Dr. Powers had repeatedly shrugged his shoulders saying, "Maybe so! Maybe not!" in respect to what Mary Graham had said to Skinny Hiltner about his opinion of what C. L. Rein had told Earnie Graves of the most magnificent social event of the season which would occur Saturday, March 6th.

ENGLISH ACTOR TO ADDRESS STUDENTS

H. O. Stubbs Playing in City—Will Speak at Convocation—Several Later Programs Planned

Mr. H. O. Stubbs, an old and experienced English actor, who is playing in this city with "A Pair of Sixes," has agreed to address the school at convocation next Tuesday. Mr. Stubbs has played Shakespearean roles under Forbes Robertson and with the Marlowe and Sothorn company.

On the next Thursday Dr. Jenkin Lloyd James will deliver an address on Browning. Dr. Jenkins spoke before a large crowd of students here two years ago on the same subject and at time he created considerable enthusiasm for that author. On Friday evening Mr. August Schvan will speak at the Temple. Mr. Schvan is perhaps the most prominent Swedish diplomat of today. The meeting will start at 8 o'clock and will be open to all who care to attend.

Rosica Schwimmer, a prominent European suffragist, will speak at convocation Tuesday the 23rd, and on the following Thursday Mr. Arvid Samuelson of the University School of Music will give a piano recital.

NEBRASKA'S VICTORY

RUTHERFORD PLAYS A STELLAR GAME FOR CORNHUSKERS

SCORE OF 14 TO 5 ENDS GAME

Team Work of Both Sides is Ragged—Absence of Regulars Apparent in Nebraska's Play—Only One Goal in First Half

The Cornhusker basketball team won the first game of their eastern trip from Drake University at Des Moines, Wednesday night, by the score of 4-5. The game was ragged, with teamwork a minus quantity until late in the last half when the Huskers got going and Dick Rutherford got away with three successive goals. The absence of regulars was apparent in the work of the Cornhuskers, while Drake showed miserable form in making baskets.

The first half ended 4-2 in the Husker's favor. Only one goal was made during the whole half, when Gardner, Nebraska's new find in the forward position, shot a long one from the center of the floor. Hugg made two free throws, and so did the Drake counter, Thomas. The game started off in good style, predicting a much faster contest than was forthcoming. Drake scored first with a free throw by Johnson, and soon this gentleman repeated with another one, bringing joy to the Iowa collegians.

A foul was called on Drake and Hugg dropped the ball through the basket for Nebraska's first point. The ball see-sawed back and forth, first one side, then the other gaining possession of it, but the guarding of both sides was so close, that neither side raised their count until the first half was well-nigh done. Hugg made another free throw for Nebraska, making the count 2-2, and just before the whistle sounded, Gardner broke loose and shot a beautiful goal from the center of the floor.

The Drake rooters were much encouraged, and evidently entertained hopes of carrying off the bacon, for when the second half started, the Bulldogs evidenced a decided brace and it looked for a while as though their hopes would be realized. Johnson turned a Nebraska foul into one point for Drake, making the count 4-3 against them. Another foul was registered against the Huskers, but this time Johnson failed to count. Soon after, Drake's little forward, King,

MID-YEAR DEGREES CONSIDERED BY FACULTY

Exact Number of Candidates Yet Uncertain—Commencement Exercises Will Be Held in Temple

A final faculty meeting will be held this evening to consider the candidates for degrees at the Mid-Year Commencement. The exact number who will receive their degrees at that time is unknown, but is expected to be as large as usual.

The Commencement exercises will be held in the Temple theatre at 8 p. m., Monday, February 15th. Dr. Burnett, dean of the College of Agriculture, has been selected to deliver the address upon that occasion.

NEW YORK ORCHESTRA FOR MAY FESTIVAL

Several Renowned Soloists to Accompany Orchestra—Two Programs to be Given With Chorus

The New York Symphony Orchestra, with Walter Damrosch as conductor, has been secured for the annual May Festival. Two concerts will be given with the University Chorus several renowned soloists are also on the program.

Only the fact that the Orchestra will at that time be on a trip to the coast makes possible securing it for a Lincoln engagement.

The chorus is already rehearsing for its participation in the festival. The program will be given at St. Paul's church, because of the larger seating capacity. Popular prices will prevail. Season tickets will be lower than last year.

The May Festival idea is backed by the Board of Regents who authorized its continuance after the splendid financial showing made last year. Nebraska is one of the few State Universities having a similar event. It has proved to be good advertising in the eastern schools where it has been adopted.

HELP OR HINDRANCE FOR SALESMANSHIP

Professor Parks of City Y. M. C. A. Explained Different Methods That Get Results

Prof. Parks of the City Y. M. C. A., delivered a lecture yesterday afternoon before about seventy-five men in U. 309 on salesmanship. Says the professor you can get a man's attention by hitting him in the back with a brick, but the question is to get his favorable attention. Needless to say the professor did not have to resort to this method to keep the attention of his listeners. Prof. Parks' theory is to size up the mental power of reason in his customer and then resort to the method of reasoning which would appeal the most favorable to the type of the customer. This ability says the professor, is scientific salesmanship.

Missouri Mule Kicks Professor in Head

Howard Hackedorn, professor of animal husbandry, was kicked in the head by a mule Saturday morning while instructing a class of short course students in stock-judging. He was about to examine the mule's front foot when the animal kicked him with its hind foot. A small gash was cut on his head and he was stunned for a few moments.—Daily Missourian.

FRATERNITY MEETING

INTER-FRATERNITY ATHLETIC BOARD HOLDS MEETING

NAME BASKETBALL OFFICERS

Decide to Do Away With Roughing—Inter-Fraternity Track Meet and Pan-Hel Dance Scheduled for April 9th

Inter-fraternity Athletic Board met in Doctor Clapp's office at 11 o'clock yesterday. The question regarding "dirty" playing in the inter-frat games was considered. It was decided to appoint an official board of referees, made up largely of non-fraternity men both in and out of school. They will be instructed to conduct the games in strict conformance with the inter-collegiate basketball rules. It is hoped that this will result in a cleaner game—that is, eliminate tackling and tripping, and many other foul means of playing which are being employed in the present games.

The board elected to incorporate such rules as will eliminate the present evils of the game is as follows: I. N. Willhite, O. B. Anderson, W. A. Kearns, R. C. Cqwan, A. R. Silvester, Dr. R. G. Clapp, A. H. Hiltner, A. E. Schmidt, Guy E. Reed, L. W. Charlesworth.

The captains of the two contesting teams may select any one of the above to officiate in their game.

The president appointed a committee to select a large silver shield to be given to the fraternity winning the inter-fraternity meet three times in succession.

On April 9th an inter-fraternity track meet will be held. This has grown to be an annual affair and all the fraternities make big plans on capturing the coveted first place. After the meet a Pan-Hel dance will be held, which will take the place of the Pan-Hel banquet of past history. Plans will be laid along the line of the Wisconsin "circus," and every effort is being made to make the affair a success.

THE JUNIOR LAWS ELECT PRESIDENT

Tuesday morning at eleven o'clock the Junior Laws held an election. Things were pulled off very quietly and until today no inkling of what had occurred reached the Daily office. Several reports were sent to cover the story, but all returned empty-handed. However, late yesterday evening one of the most enterprising newswriters came running into the office exclaiming, "Eureka! Eureka!" It seems that one of the lady friends of George Sturgess permitted the story to escape.

It all happened this way: "Jack" Lane, president of the Junior Law class, decided that he had held the honor long enough and so decided that he would elect a new man. A meeting of the class was called for eleven o'clock and Mr. Lane asked for nominations for the office of president. Mr. George Sturgess of Sioux City, Iowa, was unanimously elected. He has been a "prominent member of the Junior Law class for a year and a half" and is well qualified to hold the position of honor which his classmates have given him.
