FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1915

To the mid-year graduates the Nebraskan extends congratulations and best wishes.

An innovation in the form of an afternoon mixer is promised for Charter Day. This being a holiday, all the students and faculty will have an opportunity of attending if they haven't had a chance to attend one of these functions before. The University Regents will be with us Monday and it will probably be especial interesting to them to observe the success of this new movement. This is a holiday. It is your duty to make it one. Attend the events of the day. You will thus be getting needed recreation and at the same time showing your patriotic spirit and boosting for the best things.

Thus far there has been but little criticism of dancing at the "mixers." While the large crowds have made dancing difficult at times, the manner of dancing has been comparatively free from objectionable features. Everyone should co-operate in maintaining this high standard so that there may be nothing to stand in the way of the complete success of these events.

The decision of the band to give weekly concerts should meet with the hearty approval and support of the student body. We have a band that is second to none in the west and we should be proud of it. Most people like band music. Now you have the opportunity to hear the best. Take that hour off once a week. It will do you more real good than any one other hour out of the one hundred and sixty-eight. There is nothing like music to help relax and rest the nerves.

NEBRASKA WINS

shot a pretty basket, placing Drake in the lead, 5-4. Drake tried desperately during the next few minutes to increase their lead, but the Huskers tightened up. After some ten minutes of ragged work, characterized by lack of team work and close individual guarding, the Nebraska squad got going. The ring-around-the-rosy play, which caused the Wesleyan Coyotes so much disturbance, was introduced. Three times Nebraska grouped themselves beneath their goal, passing the ball from one to another, three times the Drake team tried to break up the play, and three times it developed into a sweeping fan which sped toward the Drake goal, culminating in three goals, with Bullet Rutherford on the other end. Drake tightened up, and Nebraska's whirlwind scoring ceased. Fouls were frequent during the latter part of the game, and Hugg succeeded in converting four of these into points, making the score 14-5, when the whistle blew.

Rutherford, Milliken and Gardner starred for the Cornhuskers. Rutherford combined his usual fact and effective floor work with accurate scoring ability and stood out as the individual star of the game. Milliken played his usual consistent game at guard, and was unusually effective in fragmenting Drake's splashes of teamwork. Gardner, who was relieved in the second half by Theisen, played a brilliant game at forward, and was the only man on the Nebraska team able to locate the basket during the first half. Theisen, Hugg and Keifer played strong individual basketball, holding the edge on their opponents throughout the contest.

King, Thomas, and Page starred for the Bulldogs. King played the most consistent game of the Drake quintet, being the barrier to many a well started Husker goal.

Nebraska met the Bulldogs again last night. From Des Moines, the Huskers will journey to Ames, where they will engage the Iowa Aggies in two contests. The line-up and score follows:
Nebraska. Drake.
Rutherford.....rf..... King
Gardner, Theisen, lf. f..... Thomas
Keifer.....c..... Smith
Hugg.....rg..... Warner
Milliken.....lg..... Page, Blackburn
Field goals: Rutherford (3), Gardner, King.

Free throws: Hugg (6), Thomas (3).

THE EARLY SHOWING OF

SPRING SKIRTS

IS PARTICULARLY ATTRACTIVE

Within the past 10 days we have checked in a large number of Spring 1915 Skirts, and we are selling them every day. Nearly every woman needs a new skirt at this season of the year.

There are quite a number of new and novel designs in this early showing, among which you will find the new shirred effects with pleated drops, some with elastic tops, that are very smart—and the new tailored effects that are fuller than last season. Buttons are liberally used as trimmings, and many of these skirts are made with yokes.

Materials include Satin Duchess, Silk Poplins, Wool Crepes, Gaberdines, Black and White Shepherd Checks, Mixtures, Novelties, Poplins, Vigeraux, Serges, Rampoer-Chuddah, etc. The colors most in evidence are Black, Navy Blue, Grays, Sand, etc. We are pleased to have you look.

PRICES $5.00 TO $20.00
