UNIVERSITY WORK

the secretary in carrying out the final arrangements.

The Constitution provides that each year the secretary shall formulate the plan of action and submit to the executive board for their approval. The student manager and his assistant do the actual work of carrying this policy into effect—working always under the direction of the secretary. The nature of the work of these managers will necessitate that only the most capable men be selected. Doubtless compensation will attach to each position after this year and these positions will rank in honor as high as any open to students, being in very close relationship to the extension work of the University. The student manager, as provided in the Constitution, will always be a Senior, and will be, if possible, the best man in school for the position, regardless of his political or other connections. The assistant, being always a Junior, will have an excellent apprenticeship, and will, if capable, doubtless succeed to the managership in his Senior year.

The plan thus corresponds to the Cornhusker scheme in many ways. The Constitution follows:

ARTICLE I.

Name of Organization

The name of this organization shall be The University Week Association of the University of Nebraska.

ARTICLE II.

Purposes of Organization

The purposes of this organization shall be: First, to plan, manage and be responsible for the presentation of

ORPHEUM VAUDEVILLE THIS WEEK

Alice Lloyd

When Miss Lloyd first visited America a great deal was expected of her, but she satisfied the minds of the most exacting and in a very short while she firmly established herself not only as one of England's favorite comedienne, but one of ours as well. In fact, it is not at all improbable that Miss Lloyd is the favorite of all the foreign artists appearing in this country. During the four years that she has made the United States her professional home, Miss Lloyd has devoted the majority of her time to vaudeville. There her name is as good as government bonds.

At intervals, however, she has flirted with musical comedies. She starred in a piece called "Little Miss Fix-It" and in "The Springmaid." Next to her irresistible personality, and her wonderful talent, Miss Lloyd must reckon her success to her exceptional clever material. Her songs are of the style known as descriptive and invariably possess a twist as strong as the third act punch in the most virile drama.

Miss Lloyd's gowns are another of her numerous assets. In fact, reckoned on the whole, Alice Lloyd is "the-blown-in-the-bottle," "dyed-in-the-wool," "22 karat," "Sterling" variety comedienne.

and towns of Nebraska by such means and through such officers as are hereinafter provided; second, to constitute itself a Lyceum Bureau to provide such other entertainments throughout the year as will best represent the activities of the University of Nebraska.

ARTICLE III.

Members of Organization

The members of this organization shall be: The Black Masques, the Innocents, the following members of the faculty: Chancellor Avery, Dean Engberg, Professor G. E. Condra, Professor A. A. Reed, Professor M. M. Fogg, Vancil K. Greer, T. A. Williams, Professor C. B. Cornell, Professor R. D. Scott, Miss Mary Graham, Mrs. C. B. Raymond, Professor Alice H. Howell, Guy E. Reed, and such other members of the faculty or student body of the University of Nebraska as shall hereafter be admitted by four-fifths vote of those present at any regularly called meeting of this association. All graduate members of the Innocent and Black Masque societies shall be honorary members of the association with all rights and privileges of membership other than the right to vote.

ARTICLE IV.

Executive Board

The Executive Board of this association shall consist of nine members, to-wit: Three members elected from the incoming Innocents by the outgoing Innocents, three members from the incoming Black Masques elected by the outgoing Black Masques, and three members of the faculty, appointed by the Chancellor from the members of the association.

The officers of the Executive Board shall be a president, elected by the Board at their first meeting, and a permanent secretary, appointed by the Chancellor, who shall be director of the work of the association and shall be ex officio a member of the Executive Board without voting power. This first meeting is to be called by the outgoing president within two weeks after the election of the new Board. These officers shall serve in the same capacity for the University Week Association.

ARTICLE V.

Duties of Executive Board

The duties of the Executive Board shall be:

Section 1. To carry out the purposes of the association as set forth in Article II.

Section 2. To formulate such by-laws as become necessary in carrying on the work of the association, including such details as time, place, and method of calling and conducting meetings of both the association and Executive Board; election of members and officers; and all other matters not otherwise provided for in this constitution.

Section 3. To direct, supervise and be responsible for the work of the secretary provided for in Article IV.

Section 4. To elect a student manager from the incoming Senior class and an assistant student manager from the incoming Junior class, who shall assist the secretary in carrying on the work of the association for the next year, subject to the direction and approval of the Executive Board. Both shall be ex officio members of the association.

ARTICLE VI.

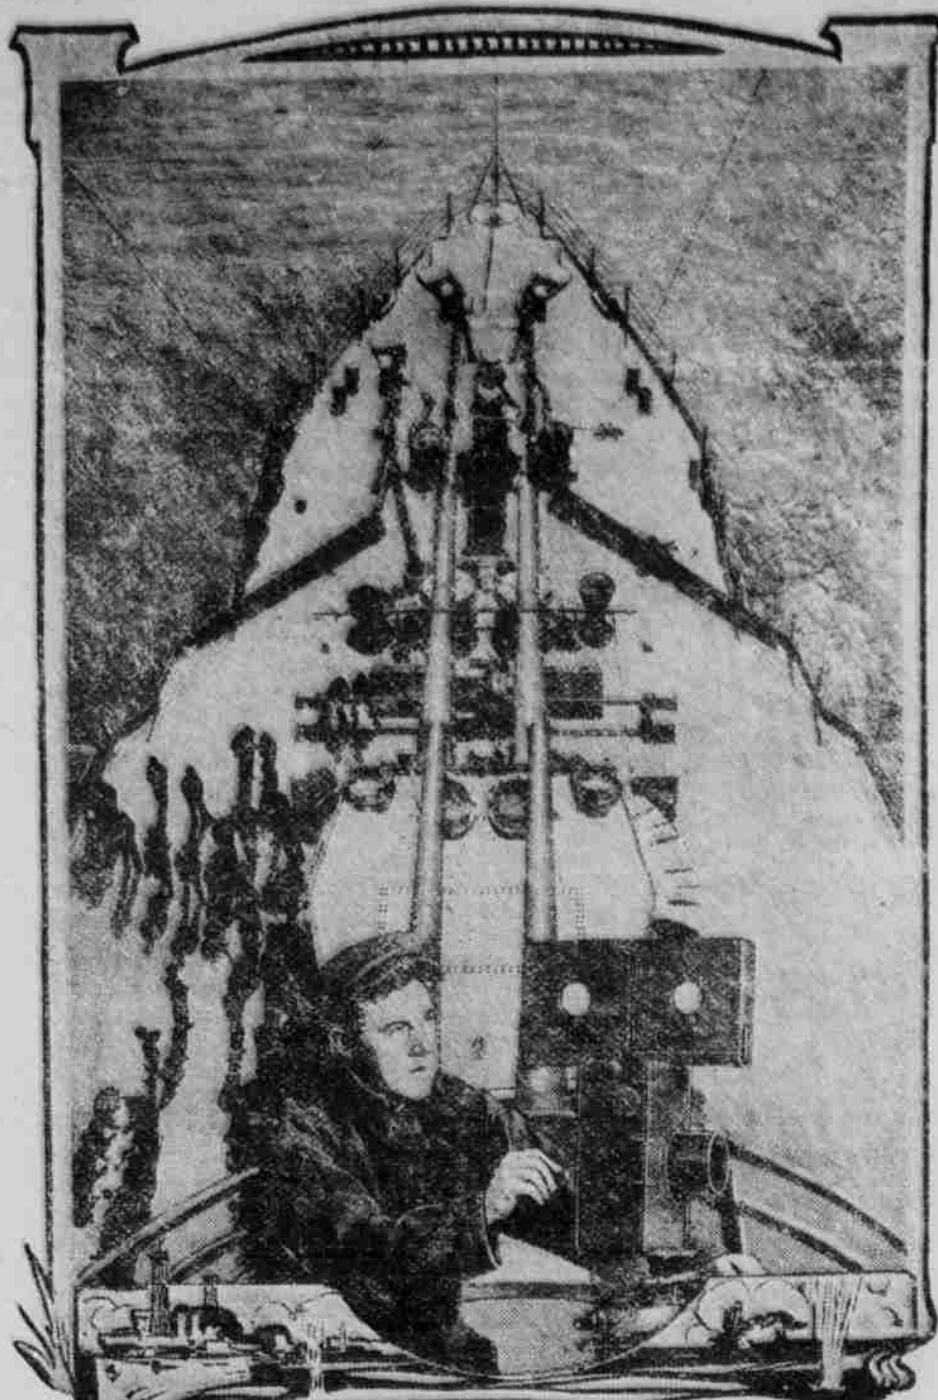

Amendments

This constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote of the active members.

WORLD POLITY CLUB HOLDS FIRST MEETING

Doctor John Mez Leads Interesting Discussion on Economics of War

The first meeting of the World Polity Club was held last night in the Law College Seminar room. Dr. John Mez of Munich, Germany, an expert in international affairs, who is at present engaged in touring the universities of the Middle West under the auspices of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, led an interesting discussion on the "Economics of War."

The underlying idea of the world polity clubs which are being formed in twenty universities is to study the problem of war and peace from a rational and scientific point of view. "Merely to desire peace," said Dr. Mez, "does not suffice. The present system of international society, national rivalries, armaments and militarism is too deep-rooted to be substituted by international organization and peaceful relations by mere belief in peace of a small number. It has to be opposed by equally well-founded philosophy and science of rational pacifism that takes into consideration all the aspects connected with it, such as the psychological, the sociological, the racial, biological, political, ethical, and so on."

During the discussion, in which Doctor Fling, Doctor Maxey, Professor

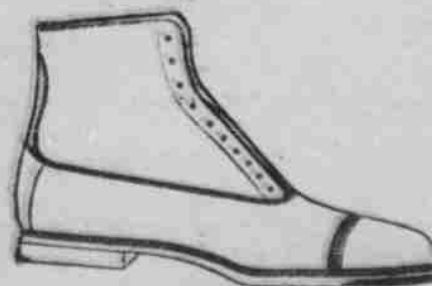

Chatburn, Professor Virtue, Dean Hastings, Doctor Alexander, and Professor Caldwell took part, the utility of war for the obtaining of economic advantages was brought out in a very striking way. The rivalry between Austria and Serbia, the necessity of outlets to the sea, the need for colonies, the trade politics of the British Empire and the relations between the United States and Canada were some of the topics discussed with a view of showing how by a general change of ideas and of political conditions a peaceful solution may be found.

The World Polity Club and the University Faculty Club will hold a joint meeting tonight in the form of a banquet at the Lindell Hotel. Dr. John Mez will speak on "The Next Practical Step: The Conditions of Peace."

Dr. Mez will speak at Convocation today.
