

BIG CROWD ATTENDS

of everyone connected with the University in this undertaking.

The Chancellor read several letters from those who had seen the entertainments and then introduced a number of the troupe in the order mentioned.

Instructor Cornell of the University Band said that the sentiment of the people they met on the trip could best be shown by telling of a certain old gentleman's opinion after he had seen the show. This old gentleman had intended to send his two daughters to a denominational school, but told the instructor that he had decided to send them to Nebraska since seeing the entertainments and entertaining two of the Band boys over Sunday. The undertaking, said the speaker, has proved a very valuable advertising venture for the University.

Miss Howell then responded for the Dramatic Club. She told how the club had been invited to join in the work and how she felt well repaid for the trouble. She then introduced three of the club's members who had much to do with the success of the club's part of the work. The readings by Mr. Stewart, Miss Ella Williams, and Mr. Snyder were all well received by the audience.

Doctor Clapp and Guy Reed then spoke on behalf of the athletic meet to be held here next Friday and Saturday. This meet is under the direction of the physical instruction teachers in the seven universities of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Chicago, Indiana, Purdue, Iowa, and Nebraska, and each of the speakers was emphatic in saying that it would be the biggest event of its kind ever held in the west. This is the second meet that has been held at Nebraska and it will be at least six years before Nebraska secures another such meet. Over 110 athletes are entered from the different schools to take part in the wrestling, gymnastics and fencing.

Mr. Hewitt then spoke and thanked the students for the help they had rendered to the Innocent Society in making the past week a success. Mr. Hewitt also stated that the Black Masques were entitled to a large share of the praise for they had helped materially in the work.

Mr. Jackson, for the Glee Club, said that he could not present the entire club, but in lieu thereof introduced Mr. Morris, the club's accompanist, who rendered a piano solo which was received by the listeners with appreciation.

Mr. Ralph Northrup, for the road show, said that he had received many compliments for the entertainment, but that he had heard so much praise for one of the numbers that he thought the students themselves were entitled to hear it. He then gave way to Miss Rhode, who gave a whistling solo, "The Flower Song." Miss Rhode has gained marked praise for her talent along this line and finds appreciative audiences wherever she goes.
