CANNON FOR WAR

PROF. LEON FRAZIER SPEAKS IN INTEREST OF PEACE

ORGANIZED INSANITY IS TOPIC

Under Auspices of World Polity Club—States That Carnegie Foundation Would Back Up Students in Any Move

"Cannons are not meant to keep the peace; they are meant to kill people," was one of the characteristic lines in the address of Prof. Leon Frazier of the Carnegie Peace Foundation in a tirade against militarism launched Friday evening under the auspices of the World Polity Club of the University.

He deplored the tendency of the time to teach military training in our universities, thus diverting the attention of college men from the science of war prevention and the political reformation of society to the medieval creed of arms, which has already miserably failed to keep the peace.

"The highest defense a college man can offer his country is to keep that country out of war by the science of war prevention," he emphatically stated.

"Militarist philosophy ignored the value of international understanding, and of brains instead of bullets. In dealing with other plagues of society we concentrate on prevention instead of cure, as epidemics and fires. Militarism does not go back far enough to prevent. They say the best way to settle a misunderstanding is to fight it out. Why not use the philosophy of prevention and say the best way to settle a misunderstanding is to understand it."

Professor Frazier then went ahead to show that armed peace was the best provocative of war, and cited the present great European war to show how the fallacious philosophy of the militarists worked out.

About twenty men belonging to the club heard the address, and it is expected that they will make a definite stand on the question of enforced military training at Nebraska. In fact, Professor Frazier urged students to start a campaign against the drill requirements and declared that the Foundation would back them up if they would only start something. At present two years of drill is required of each arts and science student in order to make him eligible for graduation. At least a large number of the students themselves are opposed to the practice as evidenced by the various excuses registered each fall by freshmen, zealous to avoid the work, and ignorant of the stringent rules in force.

W. K. Fowler, a colonel of the regiment, heard the address, but made no comment.

Recent tests showed that acoustic properties in the Yale bowl were very good. It is now planned to stage operas in this immense outdoor theatre during the spring months, when it is not used for football.

"K. N. grads" of '95 are making plans for a reunion during commencement week. All the classes divisible by five are making special effort to have large delegations present that week.

ATHLETIC BOARD WILL HELP TENNIS

Will Furnish New Courts as Soon as Possible—Twenty Men Report for Practice Saturday

Now that the Athletic Board has taken up the matter of providing some new tennis courts for the use of University students, much interest is being shown in this great game.

The plan is to give the students ten courts. The University has purchased the houses south of the present courts and are negotiating for the houses in the east part of the same block. These houses will be removed and grounds prepared for the courts. The fence of the present athletic field will be extended to take in the courts. In this manner the courts can be protected from trespass and kept in good shape. New backstops are to be provided.

The fact that the University only has two courts at the present time discourages tennis. The number of courts is so small that there is no assurance that there will be empty courts. The boys seem to monopolize these, and the girls are preparing to demand their rights. A movement is on foot for a committee of girls to wait on the Athletic Board and see what can be done.

Last Saturday twenty men reported for practice and only half of them could be accommodated. Some of the players are showing exceptionally good form and Nebraska may expect to be represented by a strong team this spring.

BASEBALL TEAMS ARE TO START SEASON

Inter-fraternity Teams Will Start the Season Tomorrow—Divided Into Two Divisions

The inter-fraternity baseball schedule has been arranged and the first game will be played tomorrow between the Sigma Nus and the Phi Delta Thetas. The games will be played at Twenty-first and J streets, unless otherwise scheduled between the managers.

Most of the different teams have been practicing for the past two weeks and some real lively contests may be expected. The fraternities have been divided into two divisions, the same as in basketball, and the winner of the respective divisions will battle for the championship.

The schedule for this week is as follows:

Alpha Tau Omegas will play the Delta Tau Deltas, Wednesday, from 1 to 3 p. m. The Delta Chis will meet the Delta Taus tomorrow for the first game of the season at 11 o'clock, and will play against the Alpha Theta Chis on Thursday. Saturday at 10 o'clock the Betas will cross bats with the Alpha Sigma Phis.

Four games will also be played in the second division. The Sigma Nus will play the Phi Deltas tomorrow from 6 to 7 p. m., and will meet the Sigma Chis on Friday at the same hour. The Sig Alphas will play the fourth game with Sigma Phi Epsilon.

The first division has eight teams and will require twenty-eight games to decide the winner. The second division has only seven teams entered, and so will play but twenty-one games. The final game between the winners of the two divisions will make a total of fifty games played.

Spring football made its debut at Wisconsin yesterday, when twenty men worked out under the direction of Coaches Juneau and Driver.

THE MAY FESTIVAL

CONCERTS HELD AT THE CITY AUDITORIUM

ORCHESTRA FROM NEW YORK

Symphony Orchestra to Stop Here on Their Way to the Coast—Price of Concerts in the East Five Dollars

The New York Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Walter Damrosch, while on their way to the Pacific coast, will give two concerts at the Auditorium in connection with the University May Festival, May 6. They will be accompanied by the following soloists: Grace eKarns, soprano, who is the highest paid church singer in America; Millo Picco of the Boston Grand Opera Company, baritone; Merle Tillotson Alcock, contralto, and John Campbell, tenor, who is successor to Evan Williams at the Marble Collegiate Church, New York. The festival will begin May 4 with the presentation at the Auditorium of "Cavaleria Rusticana" by the University Chorus, with Miss LeBaron and Mr. Wheatley in the leading roles. They will be accompanied by a local orchestra of twenty-five pieces, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond.

Season tickets will be sold for all of the concerts during the festival for two dollars. The average price of seats in New York for each concert by the Symphony Orchestra is five dollars, but since this is given under the auspices of the Board of Regents, it is possible to offer it for this price.

Grace Kerns, soprano, who is touring with the New York Symphony Orchestra, hails from the Old Dominion and all Virginians are proud of the young singer, for she holds the highest salaried choir position in America, being the solo soprano at the St. Bartholomew Episcopal Church in New York.

Miss Kerns is one of the leading concert singers of these United States and glories in the fact that she is a "Made in America" singer. She has toured Europe on pleasure and recreation bent, but her musical education was all acquired in New York City, where she studied with Mme. Cappiani and also with Grandet, the latter being at the Institute of Musical Art.

When she applied for her present church position, she found two hundred other soprano applicants were to sing before the committee—singers from all the eastern cities. The appointment was to be made on merit alone and after all the soloists were heard, Miss Kerns was awarded the highest salaried church position in America, which same she has held ever since.

Millo Picco, the baritone of the quartet which will accompany the New York Symphony Orchestra, Walter Damrosch, conductor, on its spring tour, is one of the truly excellent artists now before the American concert public, ranking favorably with Titta Ruffo and Pasquale Amato. A native of Turin, the Paris of Italy, he was a pupil of its foremost Conservatory of Music, and afterwards a student of the old traditional Accademnia di S. Cecilia, in Rome.

Picco's debut at the Argentina Theatre in Rome, as Tonio in "Pagliacci,"
