

NEBRASKA FOREST SCHOOL GRADUATES

Following is a list of the graduates of the Nebraska Forest School. Some are in private forestry work, but the majority are in the U. S. Forest Service. The school is represented in nearly all branches of the Forest Service and a majority of those conducting investigative work for the Forest Service are Nebraskans. The thorough training which Nebraska forestry students receive in Botany makes them especially fitted to carry on this scientific research work.

NEBRASKA FORESTER'S SONGS

(Tune: "Solomon Levi.")
 We are the jolly foresters,
 From Nebraska U we come,
 Any old spot we hang our hat
 Is the place we call our home,
 The school is not very proud of us
 'Cause they say we raise a fuss,
 But we'll tell you right with all our might
 There's nothin' the matter with us.

(Tune: "Every Little Movement.")

We all know those lovely sand hills
 And the Halsey Pine,
 We can make a volume curve
 Or plant a seedling fine,
 And we get our education
 By the simple operation
 Of absorbing information
 All the time.

—J. S. Boyce, '12.

E. T. F. Wohlenberg, '12, has been promoted to Forest Examiner. He will work this summer in District No. 3.

It has been calculated that the fuel value of two pounds of wood is roughly equivalent to one pound of coal.

Special Summer Session for University Students

Classes will be formed for University Students. Entire Shorthand Text will be given during the Summer Session. This is your opportunity to prepare yourself to take dictation next year. Work is so different from University work, that it will be interesting and delightful, and will not seem like a continuation of the year's work. Don't put off until you have completed University before getting your Shorthand, and then always regret that you did not have it to use while in University.
