MEDIC CONVOCATION

Dean Bridges believes clinical medicine should be taught in a broad-gauged way, paying due attention to both scientific and practical aspects.

He also stated that the Pre-medics are laying here the scientific foundation for their college work; that their success there will depend on the foundation laid here.

TRACK SQUAD MEETS COYOTE TEAM TODAY

First Dual Meet of Year With Wesleyan at University Place this Afternoon

The Husker track squad donned suits and spikes for a few minutes last night and went through a light workout in anticipation of the dual meet with Wesleyan at University Place this afternoon.

A goodly bunch of Husker rooters have planned to journey to the suburb with Coach Reed and his squad of thirty athletes, since the meet will afford the first chance to see Nebraska in action against outside competition. The team, as shown last night, are all in good condition. The coach has been particularly careful in his selection of the men for today's festivities, selecting only those in fit condition for strenuous work at this early time.

The Coyotes, although sending no advance reports to town, are expecting big things of "the boys" today. In A. Warner and Johnson in the hundred and the two-twenty they have two exceptionally speedy speedsters, and Wesleyanites will be somewhat surprised if these two champions of the sunflower do not finish within the money. A Warner is also somewhat of a broad jumper, and with Hayward completes the Coyote entries in this event. In the high jump the Methodists have entered Hayward and W. Warner, both of whom have cleared the bar at good altitudes. Mr. Jack Johnson will toss the cannon ball for Wesleyan, being their sole representative in the shot put. They have entered but one man—Durham—in the discus, also, but reports are to the effect that both of these athletes have enough surplus quality to make up for two or three co-partners.

The list of Husker entries in the different events follows:

One hundred yards dash, Scott, Deering; 220, Scott, Zumwinkle; 440, Zumwinkle, Bates; half mile, Clark, Kubik, Claar; mile, Spohn, Anderson, Gribble, Garrison; two mile, Webermeier, McMasters, Raecke; broad jump, Rees, Ankeny; high jump, Rees, Hummel; pole vault, Reavis; shot put, Chamberlain, Rutherford. Shields; discus, Otoupalik. Lowman; low hurdles, Goetze, Bolton, Irsael, Gardiner; high jump, Goetze, Bolton.

LOSE PROFESSOR IN UNIVERSITY

Prof. C. B. Cornell Accepts a Position in Lincoln Schools as Supervisor of Boys

Prof. C. B. Cornell of the Psychology department of the University has accepted a position in the public schools of the city as supervisor of the boys from the fifth grade through the high school. The position involves the shop work, manual training and all the vocational work the boys in the school system study. Lincoln schools have between three and four thousand students in this work over whom Professor Cornell will have direct control.

The purpose of the work is to turn out boys trained in accurate thinking and with a sense of self-reliance, whether the student quits at the eighth grade or goes on through the high school. The work equips the boys with the knowledge of some special line of industrial activity that he may be able to enter some vocation with the ability to make good. The course is to overcome the common criticism that public school boys are poorly equipped for practical work and unreliable.

Special rooms will be arranged for the care of backward children. The work here is to diagnose the difficulty and to give the student what he can do. Here in particular Professor Cornell is fitted for the work in being able to study the student and diagnose the case on a psychological basis.

The new high school building is equipped with one of the best manual training departments in the country. The department includes a printing press and plans have been laid for a complete mechanical equipment. The old high school will be remodeled into an industrial center.

Professor Cornell is exceptionally well adapted for this work, not only having taken a doctor's degree in psychology, but previous to this made an extensive study of electrical engineering, being elected as an undergraduate to the honorary fraternity of Sigma Tau.
