A NEW EVENT

The Juniors are showing the right spirit in inviting the Seniors to an outdoor breakfast. Saturday's event promises to be something out of the ordinary and very likely if it is a success the class of '16 will in later years be credited with starting a custom which will be dear to the hearts of Nebraska grads. It is a worthy ambition for a class to establish an event that is important enough to warrant its becoming a custom. The members of the Junior class who evolved this idea have performed a distinct service for the class. Every Junior should lend his aid in making this event a success.

* Engineers encounter repeated* ly the disconcerting circumstance * that sympathetic understanding * is accorded to their work by rela* tively few. We believe that this * is largely due to a lack of knowl* edge of what goes to make up the * training and work of the engineer * and of the extent to which the * training is adaptable. Judge * Tibbets, of Lincoln, in a recent
* address before the Engineering * Society, took cognizance of this * fact, and urged the engineers to * make themselves and their work
* "known and understood." It * seems to me that a legitimate * primary object of and justifica* tion for Engineers' Week and the * time and effort devoted to it is to * make the engineers "known and * understood" by the University * public. Of the events on the pro* gram as at present formulated, * the following may be taken as * conducting to that end: The en* gineering issue of The Daily Ne* braskan, the Engineering Convo* cation, and Engineers' Night. I * have been disappointed that cer* tain changes of dates in the pro* gram have prevented this para* graph from appearing in time to * take the form of a cordial invita* tion to the faculties and students * of the other colleges of the Uni* versity to favor us with their in* terest and attendance on the * events on Engineers' Week.

ENGINEER FETE DAY

the "Golden Shoe" for the Civil Engineers.

To the winner of the free-for-all dash across the Athletic Field, the College Book Store will give one dollar in trade, while the Co-op Book Store has hung up a suitable trophy to the Engineer winning the tennis singles. Coach Stiehm, for the satisfaction of later seeing numerous arms in slings, will give a baseball to the Engineer throwing it the longest distance. These individual events are only a small part of what will happen when twenty men representing each college will be turned loose in a football game.

The events arranged by the committee in charge of the Field Day will take place according to the following schedule:

- 8:30 a. m.—C. E. vs. M. E. Baseball Semi-Finals.
- 9:30 a. m.—E. E. vs. A. E. Baseball Semi-Finals.
- 10:30 a. m.—C. E. vs. M. E. Soccer Semi-Finals.
- 10:45 a. m.—E. E. vs. A. E. Soccer Semi-Finals.
