DR. F. J. KELLEY GOES TO KANSAS

APPOINTED AS DEAN OF THE SCHOOL OF EDUCATION

GRADUATE OF NEBRASKA '02

Leaves Kansas State Normal School
For Kansas University—His Thesis in Wide Use—Grew up in Nebraska

Dr. F. J. Kelly, director of the training school of the Kansas State Normal School, has just been notified of his appointment to the deanship of the school of education of the University of Kansas at Lawrence. This promotion comes as a recognition of the distinctive service which Mr. Kelly has rendered the past year as director of the training school. He has stood for higher standards of preparation for teachers, and to this end has started a scheme of apprenticeship teaching in the city schools of Emporia, whereby a certain number of young teachers, before receiving the life certificates to teach shall have spent a semester working under a strong city teacher in a thoroughly practical and efficient school system. In addition they will have had the benefit of extensive observation in the training school, and of supervision by the training school teachers.

The number of pedagogical courses required as pre-requisite for this teaching has been increased, also, thereby giving to more prospective teachers the methods of teaching advocated by the heads of several departments of the Normal School.

The training schools over the country are largely practice schools. The two changes noted above have allowed Mr. Kelly to enlarge two other aspects, namely, the laboratory school for verifying theories advanced in the educational courses, and the model school, to show to the coming generation of teachers what the Normal School stands for in educational lines.

Mr. Kelly will not give up his work in the training school this semester, but may spend a part of his time in his new position. His ideals and constructive ability should do much toward carrying forward the work of the University School of Education.

Mr. Kelly grew up on a Nebraska farm and knows the work of the Kansas people from intimate experience. He completed his A. B. work in the University of Nebraska in 1902, securing a state certificate at that time. His work in the public schools of Cedar Rapids, Nebr., won him the election to the school of Lead, S. D., as head of the training school of the State Normal School. He completed his work for Ph. D. at Teachers College, Columbia University, in New York City, in 1914, and came to Emporia from there. His thesis, "Teachers' Marks," has already attained wide use among colleges of education, while the work of deriving a standard reading test done last year in Kansas has won unstinted praise from educators all over the country.

Faculty and students feel keenly the loss of Doctor Kelly. His work here has been of the highest standard.

KOSMET KLUB PLANS OPERA

Fifth Annual Show Comes Before
Christmas—Tryouts to Be Held
This Week

The Kosmet Klub will produce its fifth annual opera sometime before Christmas, which is at a much earlier time than it has ever been given previously. Manuscripts will be submitted Wednesday noon of this week and will be read that night before the Klub at the Silver Lynx house.

At least four manuscripts are going to be submitted, and from these a good selection should be made. The music, also written by students, will be heard Thursday night at the Temple. The unusually large number of contestants shows that the Kosmet opera is becoming more firmly fixed in University life every year.

The Kosmet Klub is an organization to produce a light opera every year. The play and the music are written by students and the cast is selected from the students. Last year the production was "The Easy Mark," written by Ralph D. Northrup, '15, and the music by Clifford B. Scott, Law 3. The tryouts can be made at the Temple between 11 and 12 o'clock next Tuesday. For these tryouts it is especially desired that candidates prepare short sketches, songs or readings. The cast is always chosen from all four classes.

New Gavel for Pre-Medics

Dr. Lyman, advisor of the Pre-medical society, presented the Pre-medical society with a new gavel. The gavel is made of a human fibula and has a handle made of wood grown in the Pharmaceutical Garden. W. Gerrie, president of the society, was the first to wield this new gavel.

University Directory

All students who have any change in their address which they wish to make before the new Directory is completed, are urged to do so today, as changes will not be accepted later.

George A. Milby, of Fairbury, Announces Himself—Junior Campaign Warm

The political situation little by little takes on a more definite form. Yesterday the first aspirant for Sophomore presidential honors announced himself in the person of George A. Milby of Fairbury. For some time Mr. Milby has been uncertain whether he should enter the political arena until yesterday morning his candidacy was definitely announced. The situation in the other classes remains the same with Ira D. Beynon and Virgil Haggart waging an exciting campaign in the Junior class.

At present a general get-together meeting is being planned, the details of which will appear soon and will contain many pleasant surprises for the students on Commerce.

FOOTBALL RALLY THURSDAY MORNING

EXPECTED TO RAISE "PEP" FOR THE GAME

MAXEY' REED' COREY SPEAK

Captain Rutherford Expected to Outdo
His Speech of Tuesday—
Return of Veterans Helps
Spirit

The first football rally of the season will be given at the Armory at 11 o'clock Thursday. This rally is going to be the big "pep" raising event of the year, and everyone is urged to be on hand.

To add to the enthusiasm, the band will play several lively pieces. Guy Reed, Dean Mary Graham, "Big Tim" Corey and Prof. Maxey with an entirely new line of puns will give stirring little speeches. Captain Dick will also make an attempt to outdo his previous speech on Tuesday, when he surprised the Freshmen who were under the impression that football stars cannot be orators.

The faculty and students hope the "pep" and spirit due such a mighty aggregation as our Huskers will be aroused at this rally. With the return of Chamberlain and Abbott plus the other veterans and the best Freshmen squad ever developed to choose from, Coach Stiehm is bound to produce a wonderful team, and so the rally is expected to inspire all with a desire to see the games. Be on hand early. Boost. And don't let anything interfere with this event.

Damrosch Orchestra Here Next Spring

The Damrosch orchestra of New York City has been re-engaged for the University May Festival. All who heard this symphony orchestra last year realize how fortunate Nebraska has been to be able to get it again. The university chorus will give an operatic work in connection with the Festival and all members of the chorus will receive free admission to the Damrosch concerts. Registration for chorus work is still open and any students desiring to consult Mrs. Raymond may see her in Art Hall Wednesday and Friday, from 4 to 5 p. m.

CALDWELL STUDENT OF WAR

He is Well Informed on Anglo-French Loan—Arguments Pro and Con

Prof. Howard W. Caldwell is an ardent student and observer of the European war. Lately he has become very much interested in the proposed floating of a huge Anglo-French loan in this country. With great diligence he has read up on everything pertaining to this subject. Then after carefully digesting all the arguments pro and con he began to think.

One of the arguments in favor of the proposed loan is that put forward by Mr. Hill. He says that the only chance we have to sell our wheat crop is to float the Anglo-French loan in this country. "If we do not," he continues, "the allies will buy elsewhere, and we shall be unable to sell our crops." Professor Caldwell cannot reconcile this statement with actual facts. He began to wonder where the allies could buy that they are not already buying and where they could buy without keeping up the exchange level. Thus he has come to the conclusion that the arguments advanced by the men who are behind the proposed loan are not substantiated by facts.

Two dictaphones of the latest style are in use in the Rhetoric department for work in Rhetoric I and II. The students' diction and grammar is recorded, to be talked off to him later. Thus his progress is easily determined. The dictaphones were used very successfully during the summer school.

HAS HIS EYE ON COMING BULLDOGS

NEBRASKA MENTOR VIEWS FACTS
AND FIGURES SKEPTICALLY

CHAMBERLAIN STAYS AT END

Big Man Fixture There—Lively Scrimmage with Freshmen at M Street
Yesterday—Coach Institutes General Work on Fundamentals

General brushing up in football fundamentals with an eye to the approaching game with the Drake Bulldogs occupied yesterday's practice period at M street park. A lively scrimmage with the Freshmen, in which the Varsity showed pleasing form, was the big feature on the workout program.

The practice, although brilliant in spots, made plain the fact that Coach Stiehm must smooth out the wrinkles in football form before next Saturday's contest with the veteran Des Moines athletes. Bear reports and last minute estimates of the comparative strength of the two teams which are issuing voluminously from the Iowa metropolis are taken with a grain of salt in the Nebraska football camp. The simple fact remains that the coach has no negotiable line on the strength of the Bulldogs, and he is taking precautions to see that the Husker machine will be prepared for an unexpected flash of strength on the part of the Iowans.

Chamberlain will enter the Drake contest at end, if things do not radically change within a very short time. The big man is showing up to a decided advantage, as are both Reese and Gardiner, who are alternating at the right half position. Doyle at full is playing a much improved game all around than he showed at any time last season, with the possible exception of the Iowa game. His punting is likely to prove an indispensable asset to the Husker machine. Otoupalik, the other aspirant for the position, is playing a strong game, featured by fierce line plunging, and a pretty fight is on between these two men for the place.

Military Department

There have been 288 recruits added to the University regiment. The enrollment is smaller than usual on account of the large number of men relieved for outside work. The plan followed this year differs from that of past years, in that the officers and non-commissioned officers of the regiment are drilling the recruits rather than paid instructors.

The new men are divided into squads of eight and are being instructed in the mere rudiments of military drill. No company drill has been attempted as yet.

Although a large number of non-commissioned officers have not reported, the number is lower than that of previous years. Only six officers in the twelve regiment, however, have failed to report.

Pre-Medical Meeting Friday

The Pre-medics will hold a "pep" meeting Friday evening at 5 o'clock in U. 210. Every Pre-med is urged to be present and to bring a Freshman with him. Every man should be present to help to make this the Pre-med's big year.
