UNIVERSITY NOTICES

A series of teas will be given for the members of the faculty by the Gamma Phi Beta sorority on Sunday afternoons, from 5 to 8 o'clock. The first of these was given last Sunday afternoon when Prof. Paul Grumman gave a short talk on Art.

The Union society will hold its weekly meeting in Union Hall on the third floor of the Temple on Saturday night of this week instead of Friday.

Tryouts for Yell Leaders

All men wishing to try out for yell leader, leave their names with U. S. Harkson, Alumni Office, any day between 10 and 11 o'clock. Tryouts Saturday.

Palladian Literary society meets Friday evening, October 1, in Palladian Hall, third floor of the Temple. Visitors are welcome.

The Catholic Students' club will hold its annual reception Friday evening at 8 o'clock, at the Temple, in Music Hall.

The "mixer" on Saturday, October 2, in the Armory at 8 o'clock, is the place for all University students. There the new students may make friends and the old student will make new ones as well as meet his old acquaintances. There will be a program of music, dancing, games and refreshments. The dancing will begin at 9 o'clock in the big gymnasium, while the games will be going on in the smaller one. Moving pictures will be shown of the football team and of the pageant. The charge is a quarter.

By mistake of the printer, the ad run Tuesday as Lincoln School of Business should have been the Nebraska School of Business.

Xi Delta meeting at 5 o'clock Thursday, October 1, in Faculty hall. Important business. Be prompt.

Girls' Club board will meet this noon in Faculty Hall at the Temple.

Entries for the tennis tournament must be in by Saturday evening. The games start Monday. Make entries in the Nebraskan office.

Ushers Notice

All ushers will report at the east entrance of the Armory at 1 p. m.

EXCHANGES

Cross-Examination

The defendant, who, had called the plaintiff a corrupt politician, was taken in hand by the latter's counsel and subjected to the subjoined grueling experience:

- Q. How old are you? A. Sixty-two.
- Q. Sixty-two on your next birthday or your last birthday? A. Next birthday.
- Q. Who is your favorite author? A. Thackeray.
- Q. Have you ever held public office? A. I have.
- Q. Kindly tell the jury, without equivocation, what public offices you have held. A. I have been president of the United States.
- Q. In your political experience have you ever come into contact with politicians? A. I have.
- Q. What did you think of them? A. Some I liked, and some I didn't like.
- Q. Where were you in the summer of 1912? A. In South America.
- Q. South America is a pretty big place. Where in South America were you? A. I was approximately at 14 degrees 42 minutes north latitude and 53 degrees 28 minutes longitude.
- Q. Did you, in the course of your travels in South America, discover any new ichthyological specimens? A. I made the acquaintance of a man-eating fish.
- Q. A large fish? A. Of various sizes.
- Q. You would not commit yourself more definitely? A. It depended on the individual fish.
- Q. Forty feet long, would you say? A. Not quite that.
- Q. Six inches? A. Oh, more than that.
- Q. One foot, two feet, three feet long? A. Some were a foot long, some were two feet long and some were three feet long.
- Q. You would swear to that? A. Yes.
- Q. And you believe in large families? A. I do.
- Q. You believe that Admiral Peary discovered the North Pole before Dr. Cook did? A. I do.
- Q. You are in favor of taking Alsace-Lorraine from Germany and giving it to the French? A. Yes.
- Q. You recognize the serious nature of imputing corrupt motives to a prominent citizen? A. I do.
- Q. That is all.—Ex.

ture of imputing corrupt motives to a prominent citizen? A. I do.

These warm, bright autumn days are hardly the best incentive to hard study. It is much more pleasant to stroll languidly about the town or the campus and take a lazy siesta on the front porch than it is to scan the leaves of a text book or listen to the stupid drivel of an instructor or professor.

No: far be it from us to advise anyone to attend all his classes. We know the futility of such advice, and besides we enjoy too well the idleness of a stolen hour.

But we do advise caution. The older students already know, and the new ones will soon discover, that it is
