Of course peoples' ideas differ—we express ours here and the Forum is open to yours.

THEY GOT TOGETHER

If the fraternity men carried out all of the excellent suggestions offered at the meeting the other evening there would be no room for adverse criticism. It is encouraging to note what an interest the alumni are taking in the uplifting of their respective chapters.

Talent knows what to do; tact knows when and how to do it.

WHERE ARE THEY?

As much needed as they are, there is no sign of electric fans for the Mixers." Even though the time is limited, arrangements could still be made for a better air circulation in Memorial Hall for the Military Mixer.

Success is a reward which some men earn and which every man thinks he deserves.

AN "N" SECTION

Arrangements are being made for a novel seating feature at the Notre Dame game. The most loyal Nebraskans will be those who make early arrangements to be a part of the big red "N." If you are not able to be a part of the red "N" try at least to be a part of the white background.

The following is the expression of one of the professors: "The idea is not alone to keep the nose of the Freshman in his books but to induce the upperclassman to keep his there more, too." Not bad.

WE WISH HIM WELL

Our contemporary, Norman Scott, editor of The Drake Delphic, has taken his examination for the Rhodes scholarship. We wish him well but because of the disturbance across the waters would it not be reasonable to expect that he would want an indefinite extension of time for acceptance?

Stiehm is now planning on the next scalp for his belt.

Complete
 "Mother," said the eldest born, "did you put the family poker chips in my trunk?"
 "Yes, dear."
 "And have you packed my medicine ball, golf clubs, baseball bats and exercising machine in their cases ready to ship by express?"
 "Yes, dear."
 "Have you instructed the garage to go over the motor car, and after filling it with oil and gas, have it in front of the house at 9 o'clock?"
 "I have, darling."
 "Have you told father to deposit a thousand to my credit at the bank?"
 "Yes, pet."
 "Then," said the youth with a bright smile of approval, as he looked up from the batting averages, "there is really nothing else to do, mother dear, but ring up the president of the college and tell him I will be there at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon."—Life.

Cornhusker Engraving Let
 The engraving of the Cornhusker has been let to the Electric City Engraving company, Buffalo, N. Y. This company makes a specialty of college engraving. The staff will be appointed soon and work will begin some time next week.

A Thrilling Moving Picture Serial

Every student should see this $800,000 photoplay. Admission only 5 cents. A cash prize of $10,000 will be paid to the person who submits the most acceptable suggestion for a sequel to "The Diamond from the Sky." Begin at the first chapter, October 20 and 21, enjoy the entire series, submit your suggestion and win the prize. The Alpine picture theatre, 1330 O street. Only 5 cents.

DAIRY CLUB MEETS

Dr. Rabild of the U. S. Dairy Division
 Principal Speaker—Subject
 Dairy Associations

Mr. Helmer Rabild of the Dairy Division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, addressed the Dairy club at the State Farm on Wednesday, October 6. Mr. Rabild spoke of the rapid growth of the Cow Testing association work in America. The number of testing associations increased 30 per cent in the last year.

In order to aid the small dairy farmer who has but six to ten cows, bull associations are being organized, twenty-five now existing. In such associations the smaller farmer gets the benefits of better thoroughbred bulls that he individually cannot afford to buy.

In closing his address, Mr. Rabild told of the various fields in which the Dairy Division is interested: dairy manufactures, dairy extension, milk inspection, experimental farming and laboratory experiments.

Following Mr. Rabild, Mr. C. L. Burlingham, in charge of dairy extension in the midwestern states, spoke of Nebraska dairy problems. Mr. Burlingham spent the last year in Nebraska and realizes that Nebraska produces the feed and only needs the cows to make it a great dairy state.

Prof. J. H. Frandsen introduced the speakers and took occasion to report progress on the new dairy building. He emphasized the importance of this modern building in the teaching of dairy work and predicted added interest and larger enrollments next year, when this building will be ready for use.

Live Stock and Better Farming Special

The Burlington railroad is sending a "better farm" train over western Nebraska and eastern Wyoming. The train will spend a week in each of the states and carries lecturers on many phases of agricultural work. Among these is Prof. J. H. Frandsen of the College of Agriculture who represents the dairy interests of the state of Nebraska. Prof. Frandsen is telling the farmers of the greater probabilities in better farming, in better dairy cattle and in testing and grading the cows already on hand. Efficient feeding methods and better methods for handling and grading products are included in his lectures.

C. L. Burlingham Receives Promotion

Mr. C. L. Burlingham, who has been in charge of dairy extension work in Nebraska for the past year, has been recently promoted to take charge of the same line of work over the midwestern states.

Mr. D. H. Propps, a graduate of Missouri university and with several years' experience in practical dairy work, has been selected to take up this work in Nebraska.

Not in the Schedule, But—

Should a student leave the University having a knowledge of only those things that are forced upon him or should he improve all the outside advantages offered?

The University is rich in opportunities. Why should a student leave the school with no appreciation of music, for instance? No one will say that ability to enjoy the compositions of Beethoven and Bach is a useless accomplishment. The person who recognizes a "Hungarian Rhapsody" and can name the composer will enjoy the music.

The concert course given at the University is intended to give a general appreciation of music to the student. Wise students take advantage of such opportunities.—Ex.

Chem Laboratory Crowded

Two sections of the Freshman chemistry laboratory now are at work in the basement of Chemistry hall. This is due to the overcrowding in the Chemistry department.

If a man wants to "stand out in a crowd" he don't have to act peculiar. He can be out of the ordinary, the way VELVET does it—by bein' always kind an' cheerful an' honest.
