ICHABODS HAVE GOOD INTENTIONS

WASHBURN EXPECTS TO DO THINGS AGAINST HUSKERS

HAS EYES ON NOTRE DAME

Husker Mentor Looking Past Tomorrow's Tussle—Hoosier School Awake to Situation—Present Formidable Front

Washburn comes tomorrow for the third game on the Husker schedule.

Last year the Ichabods, through the work of a pink-haired and rotund halfback, scored seven points against Nebraska. Tomorrow, with this self-same capable Mr. Beal, as captain, they will make a valiant effort to repeat.

Coach Gray, a former Oberlin star, mentor at the Topeka school, and Captain Beal are both making no bones of what they intend to do tomorrow. They admit that the team started bad at the first of the season and that the showing in last Saturday's game with Baker was not quite what might have been expected from them, but the team has been working desperately to weld a machine which will perform creditably on Nebraska field tomorrow. And according to the coach and captain, the improvement shown by the team since the Baker game is such that it warrants a frank acknowledgment that they expect to score against the Huskers. Just how much more they expect to do can only be conjectured.

Although Coach Stiehm has made ample preparations for the reception of Washburn in tomorrow's contest, he is looking past the struggle with the Ichabods to the coming of the Notre Dame team. Disquieting rumors are wafting into Lincoln from every conceivable quarter. Unlike the Michigan Aggies, who permitted their confidence to run away with their judgment, the wily Catholics are looking forward to the Nebraska contest as the really crucial game on their schedule—the one that will do the most to establish their standing in the west this season. And with a team composed of seven veterans, with four men topping the beam at 200 or over, and scarcely a man under 175, they present a front the like of which only Illinois and Minnesota of the western teams can show.

Bernice Nelson, '18, and Irene Johnson, '17, will visit in Omaha over Sunday.

The finals in the tennis tournament will be held this afternoon, at which time Harry Ellis, state champion, will meet Ed Geeson, one of the fastest tennis players Nebraska has had. The playing starts at 3 o'clock.

According to all predictions and appearances the courts will be in fine shape, and a number of exciting games are assured, as several of the best players are yet to meet their opponents.

PRE-MEDIC SMOKER OCTOBER 18

Dean Cutter of Omaha to Give Talk—Also Members of the Lincoln Faculty

The Pre-medic smoker, which was to have been held at the Alpha Sigma Phi house last evening, will be held Monday at 8 o'clock, when Dr. Irving S. Cutter, dean of the College of Medicine, and Drs. Dale, Skinner, Wolcott and Barker will speak before the Pre-medics and the Lincoln medical faculty. The regular business meeting, that was to have been held to-night, has been postponed indefinitely.

Dean Graham Serves Tea

The tea served yesterday afternoon by Dean Mary Graham in Art hall was enjoyed by all too few. The students have not become accustomed to laying off a few moments for the sake of meeting the faculty and students and of being refreshed. The teas will be served every Thursday, from 3 to 5:30 o'clock.

HEAR YE! HEAR YE! HEAR YE!

That Which Was Stolen Is Not Found, But Replaced—Reward Evoked—Peace Reigns Once More

Notice is hereby given that any and all offers for the arrest of persons who took the much sought for pair of shears from the Nebraskan office, are hereby revoked. The management started a subscription fund early yesterday and before the day was over enough had been secured to send an envoy to a ten cent store and replace the office necessity.

It is the earnest desire of the editors that hereafter anyone wishing a souvenir from the Nebraskan think shop will give us advance notice so that we will not have to perpetrate boilerplate on the patient readers for want of a clipping utensil.

In this regard it might be mentioned that there is a great demand for a detective agency at Nebraska. Any youth having ambitions in that direction, may apply at the Nebraskan office for his first case.

P. H. PIERCE '11, GEOS WEST

Electrical Engineering Graduate Appointed at Mare Island—To Install Station

Mr. Paul H. Pierce, E. E. '11, has been employed in the research department of the Western Electric company of New York. His work has been the improvement of telephone transmission and the development of wireless telephony. He has recently gone to the Mare Island naval station to take charge of the receiving end of the new long distance wireless telephone. Mr. Pierce will, in all probability, install a transmitting station on the western coast.

Mr. Pierce was given a year's leave of absence by the Western Electric company to work under Prof. A. E. Kennelly, head of the electrical department at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. The results of a very profitable year in research and experimental work on the "skin effect" of alternating currents in solid and stranded conductors appeared in the "Proceedings of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers," August, 1915.

STUDENT LEADERS UNIVERSITY Y.M.C.A.

NO EXPERIENCED SECRETARY IS AT PRESENT AVAILABLE

MR EWING NOW IN ENGLAND

Former Secretary to Continue His Work as Secretary of Prisoners of War Camps—Up to Students to Support

To the Editor:

It seems almost necessary and only just, at the beginning of this school year, to inform you of the change in leadership of the University Y. M. C. A., and also of the significance of that change as it concerns you.

By this time it is quite commonly known that Mr. Ewing, who last year was general secretary of the association, will indefinitely continue his greater work in England as secretary of the Prisoners of War Camps. This fact, received by cablegram not earlier than September 3rd, came as a complete surprise to the board of directors. Immediate, but thoughtful, action regarding the leadership of the Y. M. C. A. in the face of this temporary circumstance led to the final conclusion that student leadership should serve, pending further action by the board. No mature, experienced secretary was available, hence the failure of success of the association was left solely dependent upon the students. And there it still remains.

The question now is, do the men of the University consider the Y. M. C. A. and what it stands for, a vital enough part of the institution to really get behind the ball and push? Would not it be possible for us all, working in co-operation upon a broad and liberal program, to make the influence of the association felt throughout the entire school? It is at Wisconsin; it is at Michigan and Minnesota; yes, and as much more can be said of Kansas. And why? Simply because of the fact that, at these schools, the students no longer look upon the Y. M. C. A. as a religious organization, separate from and unconcerned about the school itself; an organization to be pitied in its struggle for existence and influence and helped only when it stumbles across their path. They see in the Y. M. C. A. a co-operative association working directly for the welfare of their university and for themselves. They consequently are giving some of their time and energy toward building it up; they are taking part in its activities; and unconsciously perhaps they are being influenced themselves as well as influencing others. Certainly such an active interest in the Y. M. C. A. cannot result otherwise than to raise the morale and create a genuine Christ-like atmosphere throughout their university.

The same can be true of the University of Nebraska if we only awaken to the fact that the Y. M. C. A. is for all of us and not for a select few, and most significant of all, that Christian principles are just as applicable to the engineer, the pharmacist, the medic, the law student and the man in the Arts and Science college as they are to those engaged in more directly religious callings.

Let's try to do even more this year than last.

THE GERMAN CLUB INITIATION

Sixteen New Members Are Admitted—Miss Heppner Welcomes the New Students

At the meeting of the German Dramatic club last Wednesday evening, sixteen new members were initiated. A one-act play, "Der Professor beim Kaffee-Klatsch," was presented in pantomime, first by the old members of the club, and then reproduced by the new ones. Miss Heppner, then welcomed the new members in a short German address, in which she dwelt upon the duties of the new members and admonished them to faithfully uphold the standard of the club.

In an enthusiastic business meeting it was decided that the big play, "Das Gluck im Winkel," would be given on January 14, 1916. The club also decided to have its first annual homecoming meeting on November 5, when Pohl's one-act play, "Die Schulleiterin," will be staged. A great number of the old "grads" will be back for this meeting.
