He who knows it all, knows nothing. He who knows how little he knows, knows much.

WAR OR PEACE

As long as the people of this country are "on the fence" in regard to the questions of "Preparedness" and "Peace" it is in order to suggest that one can arrange to hear any number of arguments on either side. Perhaps the debaters will settle the question for us on the 10th of December.

If you haven't made plans to get to Kansas, now is not a bad time to get started.

THEY ARE BUSY

There can be no question in your mind in regard to what the Kansas students are doing to work up enthusiasm for the purpose of defeating the Cornhuskers. It is safe to say that they have lost no time in arranging meetings for working up "pep" and a sentiment which means much to their team. The whole proposition is this, are we going to stop because our players have been so successful or are we going to stay by them and be on the athletic field tonight to show them that we are with them to a finish? Show that you have red corpuscles in your blood and be on the field tonight at 5:00 o'clock. Don't be a piker.

Girls' Club Party

The Girls' club will give a party Saturday, November 13th, in Music hall. The party will be opened promptly at 2:30 o'clock by a business meeting, after which games will be played. All University girls are urged to come.

WEATHERLY OPPOSES PRESIDENT'S POLICY

must be convinced that there is some concrete danger. Rev. Weatherly said he would offer himself up as a hostage that England would not attack us. The only possible danger is from Germany. A country can attack us only by a violation of the Monroe doctrine. When Germany was considering with Brazil the annexation of a small piece of territory in South America, the German people protested vigorously on the grounds that it would incur the displeasure and hatred of every South American country and would mean an immense loss of trade.

If a man were to make an investment of $200,000 and was convinced that someone else was going to make a profit, the man would consider a long time before deciding. On the assumption that Germany will attack us, "Why not wait and see whether they will?" asked the speaker. Our passions are aroused, the people are caught in a wave of feeling. It is better to wait. We would have to raise two generations of children in an atmosphere of hate to bring about the general demand for national preparedness. That is the only method. The day of world dominion is lost. Internationalism is appearing. We must meet the countries of Europe after this conflict, on a basis of friendship, justice and good will. The movement for national preparedness will not bring about internationalism. When some Russian warships, after the beginning of the present war, sailed past Roberts college, just north of Constantinople, they dipped their colors and fired a salute in recognition of the aid this institution is giving towards internationalism.

"Let us put the money which we would use in the movement for national preparedness, into education of the world," urged Rev. Weatherly. "If we develop great educational institutions in affirmation of our belief in democracy, then we will have an influence which no man can measure."
