

MAJOR MCFARLAND TO INSPECT CADETS

LIEUT. PARKER RECEIVES WAR DEPARTMENT ORDER

Army Officer to View University Regiment in April

Major Munroe McFarland of the general staff will be inspector of the university cadets, according to the orders received by Lieutenant Parker. This inspection, which takes place just before the graduation of the school of agriculture, will be held April 19 or 20.

Major McFarland graduated from West Point in 1888. He attended the Infantry and Cavalry college 1895 and the Army War college in 1908. A first lieutenant's commission was given him in 1895, and he was made captain in 1899. He ranks twenty-fifth among the army majors and under the new government military policy he will undoubtedly receive promotion soon.

DR. A. B. HALL TO SPEAK BEFORE WORLD POLITY CLUB

Prof. Arnold Bennett Hall, of the University of Wisconsin, will speak to the World Polity club in Law 101 tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. He is the author of the textbook on international law and has been sent by the American Association for International Conciliation. The meeting is open to everybody and a cordial invitation is extended to the citizens of Lincoln as well as to all the students.

Co-Ed Barbers

The co-eds of Northwestern have opened a barber shop containing four chairs. Just why, no one knows, but it is said that the profits will go toward the construction of a new woman's building.

ALEXIS TOASTMASTER; ALUMNI SPEAK AT BANQUET

The Swedish Brotherhood of Lancaster county held its second annual banquet at the Lindell hotel last Friday evening. About two hundred and fifty members were present. Prof. J. A. Alexis, of the German department, presided as toastmaster. The program was varied and in keeping with the patriotic spirit of the day.

Talks were given by the following university men: "Swedes in American Education," by Dean C. C. Engberg; "Swedes and Institutions," by Knute Carlson; "Swedes in American Politics," by C. J. Warren, '99, of Waverly; "Hyphenated Americans," by C. Petrus Peterson, '09; and "Retrospect," by Frank Peterson, '05.

Girl Soloist for Glee Club

The University Glee club has issued a call for a soprano soloist, making it one of the requirements that "applicants must be willing to go on on the University Extension Week trip with the club."

In spite of this horrible alternative, it would seem that the position would be attractive to the girl. The soloist is needed because one of the main numbers on the Glee club program requires a soprano voice. The piece in question is a selection from one of the

New $200,000 Chemistry Bldg. Just Started

THE PROPOSED NEW CHEMISTRY BUILDING

Excavating for the new Chemistry building started Monday afternoon.

The structure will be built at Twelfth and T streets, facing east, with the new Bessey building across to the northeast.

The Chemistry building will cost approximately $200,000 when completed. It will be simple in architecture, of classic design. Red brick with white stone trimmings will be used. For arrangement of class rooms and laboratories and equipment it will not be surpassed in the country.

FRESHMEN SHOULD COME TO RESCUE

Only two lists of reasons have been received by the business manager of the Cornhusker, who some days ago offered to give a 1916 Cornhusker to the Freshman who wrote and handed in the ten best reasons why a freshman should buy a Cornhusker.

This offer should meet with such an influx of reasons that the Cornhusker manager would need an assistant to look them over.

A Cornhusker is a big prize for the effort required to think of ten reasons, and who knows whose ideas will look the best to the judges?

POLITICAL SCIENCE AND SOCIOLOGICAL SEMINAR MEET

The Political Science and Sociological Seminar held its regular meeting Tuesday afternoon. In addition to the regular attendants, members of the faculty in the three history departments and department of economics and commerce, together with such of their students as so desired, were extended an invitation to attend.

Dr. Howard reported on two of the meetings he attended while in Washington, D. C., during the holidays, namely, the American Sociological society, and the American Association of University Professors. Professor Jones, head of the department of English history, reported on the meeting of the American Historical association, which he attended. These reports were given instead of the regular lectures.

College Journalism

After the basketball game held at Columbia on Alumni Day, the Columbia Spectator got out an extra with the complete details of the game, in six minutes. A reporter telephoned in the game from the floor. At the other end of the wire it was received and edited. A relay of four men covered the distance between Journalism and University hall with the papers in record time.

BARS STRANGLE HOLD AT COLORADO DANCES

Dean of Women at Western School Censors Pigeon Walk

Are you a bashful young man who has been embarrassed at a dance because your partner dropped her arm over your cervical vertebrae and tucked her fingers down inside your collar, which wilted with shame? Take heart, for she can do it no more. Henceforth, the pigeon-walkers must mind their step.

Miss Bigelow never did look with favor on these menagerie dances, but she tolerated them for the sake of the pleasure-loving youth of the land until outside criticism of our bird-like movements got too strong—and now she says they must go.

The fact that the pigeon-walk is passe in "the best circles" would be enough to down it with most people, says Miss Bigelow, but a small thing like that doesn't seem to daunt our varsity society. It's lots of fun and good dancers like to do it.

The sorority girls have been asked to take the initiative in getting rid of the pigeon-walk. So, young feller, get ready to hold your partner a little looser at the German. People who make themselves conspicuous with barnyard antics are apt to find themselves becoming arbitrary wall-flowers.

It is presumed that Miss Bunting will give a class in exercises, intended to get the feet and hands back in their old habits. Members of our student national guard, who have had practice in making their feet and shoulders behave, will probably be valuable members of the dancing set from now on.—Silver and Gold (Colo.)

ANNOUNCE PROGRAM FOR UNI. NIGHT

University Night is progressing with leaps and bounds, but the committee is going to be very conservative in its predictions as to the success of the entertainment until a very short time before Saturday, March 4. At present, however, there seems to be no reason for believing anything but that the student body will be pleased with the production. Every organization, which, according to the first decision of the judges, was chosen to display its talent is really at work. Not one have dropped out.

It can be mentioned at this time that the Agricultural club is practicing on a county fair, but from what the committee have seen of the stunt thus far the mere name "county fair" does not at all suggest the possibilities of their novel ideas. The Sigma Delta Chi's annual edition of "The Shun," will be published. The Glee club and the cadet band will perform this year again as they have always done.

The "Phys. Eds." are on the program for the first time in the history of University Night. A member of the committee has witnessed them in action and will leave the decision of their popularity to the judgment of the audience. He says that he feels safe in doing so. The engineers have an exceptionally novel act, something instructive, full of surprises and spectacular. The pantomime of the Pre-medics out to be "rich." A little burlesque operating on the stage. It will be characteristic of the work medics are accustomed to do. It will be within the bounds of propriety. As for the Phi Delta Phi, law fraternity, and the joint Palladian and Union acts, it is sufficient to point to their productions of past years. Both of these numbers are burlesque playlets in keeping with those things of interest to the students. The scenarios show immediately that laughter will follow in the wake of every word.

Wesleyan Skippers

Student activities at Wesleyan are greatly handicapped at the present time. Most of the leaders are on probation at present because of excessive class cuts.

ASSOCIATIONS PLAN CARNIVAL IN MARCH

Y. M. C. A. AND Y. W. C. A. GIVE "UNIVERSITY AK-SAR-BEN"

David Bowman and Helen Humpe Head Committee in Charge of the Festival

The "University Ak-Sar-Ben" is the appropriate appellation applied to the approaching carnival to be held throughout the Temple building on the night of Saturday, March 18. The committee chairmen, David Bowman and Helen Humpe, have planned for a large number of university organizations to exhibit a portion of their best talent on that evening. It is definitely understood that there will be no "sells" in any of the various booths, but that the visitor to each will find on the inside something original and worth while and that its originality and worth-while-ness will depend upon the abilities of the organization back of it.

One of the striking features of the evening will be a procession of everyone who comes dressed in some sort of a costume. A prize, which the committee promises will be worth not less than one dollar, is to be awarded for the most extraordinary caricature.

Arrangements are being completed whereby, for a 10-cent general admission, a vaudeville exhibition of some merit will be staged twice during the evening. Besides this there will be other free attractions which will make for value received on the entire entertainment. Merely a nominal charge will be made for entrance into the many rooms of the building, in each of which will be experienced a performance which took energy, ability and no little time to perfect.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. wish to say that this idea of a University Carnival is not a money-making scheme in the least, but that what may remain above the expenses will be placed in the Estes Park delegate fund.

Married Students' Club

Indiana has a Married Students' club. It held its first meeting recently, at which an excellent program was rendered.

ROY HARNEY NEW BUSINESS ASSISTANT

Roy Harney, '17, of Armour, S. D., was elected assistant business manager of The Daily Nebraskan by the student publication board Wednesday noon. Harney has been acting as assistant business manager since the beginning of the second semester.

CONVOCATION

Convocation today, under the auspices of the local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, will be devoted to Prof. C. W. Wallace's Shakespearean work.

The program will be: "The Aims of Professor Wallace," and "Professor Wallace and the English Drama before Shakespeare," by Dr. L. A. Sherman.

"Professor Wallace and Shakespearean Biography," by Miss Amy Armstrong.

Professor Wallace and the Blackfriars and Globe Theatres," by Prof. S. B. Gass.

"The London Public Record Office," by Dr. Guensey Jones.
