CONVOCATION FOR PROF. WALLACE

Convocation Thursday, devoted to Prof. C. W. Wallace's Shakespearean work, was attended by a very large number of faculty and students. The program was under the auspices of Phi Beta Kappa. Dr. Louise Pound presided.

Professor Wallace held a scholarship in the university and received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from this institution. He then took his doctor's degree in Germany. The research work done by Professor Wallace has removed all doubt as to the genuineness of Shakespearean works, and his contributions to the scientific literary world are priceless.

The local chapter of Phi Beta Kappa will probably have a convocation hour each year, devoted to the history of a Phi Beta Kappa alumnus from Nebraska.

SYMPHONY INTERPRETATION BY PROF. DANN TUESDAY

Professor Dann will interpret Schumann's First Symphony Tuesday morning at 11:30 o'clock in Art hall. This symphony will be given at the next musical convocation. The hour of interpretation has been changed from Saturday afternoon to Tuesday morning, in order that more of the students and faculty can avail themselves of the opportunity to hear the interpretations.

MEDICS VISIT HOSPITAL

The medical students, at the invitation of Dr. B. F. Williams, visited the State hospital last night for the purpose of inspecting the inmates and studying their diseases. Dr. Williams, who is superintendent of the hospital, gave a lecture on the complicated cases. After the lecture the medics were treated to a good supper, which had been provided for them.

sociology in 1914. Nothing has ever been published on this subject, and Dr. Howard thinks the book will be received as an interesting scientific contribution to literature. Dr. Elmore secured his material while he was president of a seminary in India, after he had graduated in 1896 here at Nebraska. He returned to take his degree in 1914, and it was while here that he wrote the thesis.
