CAN'T CONTRACT FOR NEW FARM BUILDING

WAR PRICE ADVANCE MAKES REVISION OF PLANS NECESSARY

Regents Establish New Course in Marketing—Cut Some Vacations in Two

Instead of being able to let the contract for the agricultural engineering building at the state farm as hoped, the regents, meeting Tuesday night, found that they might have to order a revision in the plans of the structure. So great an increase in the cost of structural steel and other building material has been made on account of the European war, that the architect's plans for the building, if followed, would not allow its erection within the appropriation of $140,000.

The regents referred the plans back to the property committee of the board, and it will work with the chancellor and the architect and endeavor to find some means of holding down the cost of the structure. A great deal of disappointment has been manifested at the farm because of the impossibility of letting the contract, as it was hoped that work on the building, which completes one of the quadrangles, could start at once.

The regents, in the morning, had ordered a delay on the plans for the social science building, until a study of the plans could be made on an efficiency basis. It is said that O. P. Stewart, of the state superintendent's office, submitted a report on the plans which showed that much space would be wasted on rooms.

The vacations of the non-teaching force of the university were cut in just half, being reduced from four weeks to two.

The regents ordered a course in marketing to be established as a part of the curriculum of the department of commerce. During the past year numerous requests have come to the board from commercial bodies in the state, including the Lincoln Commercial club, that a chair of marketing be established at the university. This was found impossible at this time on account of the expense, but the course was established and an appropriation of $300 made for it.

TENNIS MEN WORK FOR KANSAS TRIP

Team Will Be Chosen from Ellis, Chatt, Gardiner and Watkins

From Harry Ellis, Orville Chatt, James Gardiner and Philip Watkins will be selected the tennis team that will represent Nebraska in Kansas in the first week in May. These four men have been working out daily on the courts, and three of them will be chosen to go south when the track team goes down for the dual meet with Kansas May 6.

Kansas university, the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan, and possibly Baker and one or two other schools will be taken on by the racquet wielders. All of the men are showing up in fair shape and it is a toss-up who will be discarded.

The team misses Charles Gardiner, the captain, who left school to go back to his Maryland farm. No captain has yet been chosen to take Gardiner's place, but the general direction of the squad is in charge of Ellis, who was captain last year.

M. V. CONFERENCE WANTS DESIGN

OFFERS CASH PRIZES FOR APPROPRIATE SKETCHES

Will Be Used to Engrave Trophies Won in Intercollegiate Contests

Three cash prizes for the best design, to be engraved on Missouri valley conference trophies, have been offered by the faculty representatives of the conference schools. The prizes will be $25 for the best design; $15 for the second, and $10 for the third.

The design should be one that in some way is emblematic of the Missouri valley or Missouri valley athletics, and be of such a nature as to show clearly when used to emblazon cups or plaques. The design will be used to engrave trophies in track and tennis that may be awarded intercollegiate contestants in the conference. Sketches submitted should be sent under the following rules:

1. Sketches to be made in India ink on drawing paper, 8 1/2 x 11.
2. The name of the designer must not appear on the sketch, but the address be placed on a separate piece of paper and fastened with a paper clip to the design.
3. More than one design may be submitted by the same contestant.
4. The conference reserves the right to reject all designs submitted if none of them are of such merit as to warrant the adoption of the design.
5. All sketches must be mailed to the chairman of the committee, J. O.

REGENTS PUT OFF SINGLE TAX DECISION

The board of regents received the petition for the Single Tax presented by The Daily Nebraskan, but no action was taken at the meeting this week. The board adjourned to meet next Tuesday, and it is possible that final action will be taken on the matter then. At a former meeting the regents declared their willingness to adopt the tax if it could be demonstrated that it is legal and right in principle. Dean Hastings, of the law college, has declared it legal; The Daily Nebraskan has endeavored to prove that the principle of it is right.

THE CONVICTS ENJOY JUNIOR CLASS PLAY

"The Man of the Hour" Now Ready for Public Production

The junior play cast presented "The Man of the Hour" at the state penitentiary last night before an audience of several hundred convicts, who thoroughly enjoyed the play, and indicated their appreciation by frequent applause.

The play was given in full costume, in the theatre that has been built at the prison during the past year. Louise Schavland, Don Marcellus, Howard Wilson and the other members of the cast read their lines with an artistry that indicates that the performance Friday at the Oliver is going to measure up to the past years' plays.

The play will be given another full dress rehearsal at the Oliver theatre, and then all will be ready for the raising of the curtain tomorrow night.

The seat sale has been good, so that the supply of choice seats has already been almost used up. Indications point to a financial as well as dramatic success for the play.

SQUAD INCREASES FOR SECOND PRACTICE

COREY MARSHALLS GRIDIRON PHALANX FOR DRILL

Otoupalik, Hartman and Riddell, Veterans, Showed Up on the Field for First Time

The second spring football practice on Nebraska field yesterday afternoon showed thirty-five men in uniform, an increase of seven over the first night of practice. Captain Corey marshalled the hosts on the field, and put the boys through a series of capers that is guaranteed to make a championship eleven out of them.

There was an ubiquitous photographer on the field—photographers are always ubiquitous—and he snapped a picture of the squad. When he had finished, Otoupalik, who back from his wrestling triumphs, showed up for the first time at practice, dodged around behind the stand and ran for the gym.

"Otoupalik, come back here," called "Tim," and back "Ote" came.

The team then leap-frogged over each other for about 200 yards, until they were thoroughly out of wind, when Corey ordered them twice around the field. That done, they went into the gym for a quick shower and then home.

Otoupalik was not the only old-timer to show up for the first time last night. Jack Hartman, sub-back-field man last year, was out with the squad, and so was Ted Riddell, end. Ted looks like a good bet for one of the stars this year, with the experience gained from the 1915 season.

The track men were not idle, either. They raced around the cinder path as if there was a good square meal in sight just around the turning. The field men were out, too, and the pole vaulters, high jumpers, and discus throwers got in the way of the football men and vice versa for the matinee.

MAY 19 DATE FOR THE OMAHA TRIP

Plans Still Unsettled—Await Parrish's Return to City

Although the definite announcement cannot be made, May 19 seems to be the most favored day for the all-university trip to Omaha, where the students will be the guests of the Omaha Commercial club.

E. V. Parrish, manager of the Omaha club, who will act as head of the committee for Omaha for the entertainment of the students, is absent for a short time on business, and the program for the reception of the university necessarily awaits his return. A noon luncheon, sight-seeing trips to various points of interest, and a varied entertainment are among the features that will be provided.

Campus talk would indicate that at least three-fourths of the students will make the trip. The maximum expense for railroad fare and unnecessary, but probable incidentals, is expected to amount to $3.

The Student Should Know—

The remnants of the first bulletin board used on the campus can be found in a small cement covered circle a little to the north of the "silo," as the present bulletin board is called. When the shades of the old grads were here in the flesh, an old tree flourished in the middle of the walk in front of the Administration building. The students of those days posted their notices on the sides of this tree until it was finally borne down by the weight of the news it carried and was hauled away.

The present official bulletin board, called the "silo" because of its resemblance to that structure at the farm campus, was put up to fill the needs of the student body for a place to post announcements. It is said that the original plan was to have a revolving tower so that all notices would be equally conspicuous, but this plan was never carried out.

The suggestion has been made that the senior class this year devote its surplus to the erection of a more artistic place for announcements, and to have it large enough to do away with the necessity for the numerous small bulletin boards in the buildings.
