JOY HOLIDAY OF YEAR, AT HAND

MY DAY, WITH UNUSUAL CERE-MONY, TO BE CLEBRATED

Best Program in History Arranged for Morning and Afternoon on Campus and at Park

ley Day, the big university holiday of the school year, looked forward to with anticipations of the keenest pleasure by the upperclassmen, and stirring in the freshmen mixed feelings of curiosity and interest, is tomorrow. The day, containing in its program much that is traditional at Nebraska, much that makes for the sentiment that goes into the school spirit, much that makes the alumnus look back with love to his alma mater. will be celebrated with more than the usual pomp and ceremony.

Senior class committees, working under the direction of the Innocents and Black Masques, have prepared a program for the day that far surpasses that of any previous year. From 9 o'clock in the morning until midnight Ivy Day will be replete with things that make for the joy of college life.

Will Know Queen of May

in the morning, the secret of who is the Queen of the May, will be rerealed. Attended by twenty-four of her court maidens, who will be clad in costumes of Greek design, the Queen will be crowned upon the city campus, and will sit enthroned while her subjects do her homage in festive songs and dances on the greensward before her throne.

The junior and senior class presidents will plant the ivy, the symbol of the growth that the university brings and the permanency of its possessions. The senior class poem will be read, and the alumni day oration cool shade of the woodland, the rest of the day will be spent. The first letics, and everything that goes to make the picnic in the open the joy to the tired student. At 3:30 o'clock the tapping of the Innocents will take place, and the students shall learn the thirteen men of the junior class who have been selected, because of their services to the university, for the honor of Innocentship. Dr. George Shidler, of York, will deliver the Innocent oration, and then the thirteen Black Masques for the coming year vill be selected from among the junior girls. This ceremony is expected to be concluded at 5:30 o'clock.

Special Daily Nebraskan.

As soon as it is finished, the Ivy Day edition of the Daily Nebraskan will be published and will be circulated upon the grounds.

For the next three hours, the students will enjoy their picnic lunches, and the cotillion will be on again. At $:30 o'clock a special vaudeville perseatre. From then on until near midaight, the students will enjoy themleives as they please, and in addition to the dancing, there will be numerous concessions run by students at which more gosh durn fun" can be had.

Only one thing will be lacking that ued to take place on Ivy Day. That

The lvv Day tickets being

IVY DAY LUNCHES

sold on the campus today for 25 cents include admission to the grounds at Electric park, and a lunch. Tickets sold at the gate tomorrow will cost 15 cents and will not include a lunch. It is necessary that this rule be made so that the committee will know exactly how many lunches to provide. Those who are not able to secure their tickets today will have to pay a separate price for admission to the grounds, and will have to buy their lunches from concession stands at the park.

Y. W. C. A. TO GIVE

Guide ...... Howard Hadley

"THE WAYSIDE PIPER" WILL BE GIVEN SATURDAY

Based Upon the Old Story of the Pied Piper of Hamelin

The pageant, "The Wayside Piper," will be given under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. on the farm campus o'clock. "The Wayside Piper" is based upon the old story of "The Pied Piper of Hamelin." In the prologue it is shown how the piper gets his music and the three graces are personified by three girls taking the parts of Faith, Hope and Love. In the council scene which follows, the Spirit of Service has called together her counselors to discuss the poblem of the needs of girls. The counselors are from the workshops, the fields and campus, suggesting the three large divisions of association work among city, country and college girls. Each counselor states what she sees to be the need of her girls and there seems to be no evident solution for the problem until the Wayside Piper, wandering in, overhears their words and pipes his magic music.

Then to him is given the sacred charge of going out into the highways of the world to attune the inner lives of girls to his clear, true notes.

Three short scenes are given representing girls in industrial, country and college life. They show how the Piper succeeds in awakening a response, giving them new joy, and the consciousness of a purpose in life.

In the closing scene, the Piper brings all the girls together, carrying

COREY HIGH MAN FOR ATHLETIC BOARD

FOOTBALL CAPTAIN RECEIVES A COMFORTABLE MAJORITY

Comparatively Light Vote Was Cast During the Day-Little Soliciting of Votes

STUDENT MEMBERS OF THE ATHLETIC BOARD

Harold	CoreyLincoln
Hugo	OtoupalikDavid City
Edwin	HuggLincoln
	CampbellOsceola
P. W.	ProctorKearney

The election of student members for the university athletic board, held in the Armory yesterday, resulted in the choice of Harold Corey, Hugo, Otoupalik, Edwin Hugg, Harold Campbell, and P. W. Proctor to serve during the year 1916-17. These five were elected from nine candidates. The defeated candidates were Adrian Brian, Clyde Drewing, Griffith Owen and Ralph Thiesen.

The vote was as follows:

Owen Drewing
Brian	1	 	2.5	 .160
Thiesen
Proctor
Campbell		 ٠.		.191
Hugg		 		.222
Otoupalik				.268
Corey				 342

Balloting was light all day, and there was little electioneering going on. Most of the candidates were at the polls at different times, calling upon their friends to remember them, but there was very little strenuous attempt at vote-getting.

The election of Corey, who is captain of the football team for next "The Hungry Bridegroom" is a wall, was a foregone certainty, and short dramatic comedy written by the majority rolled up for him was John Neruda. The leading parts will not a surprise. Otoupalik was a membe taken by Charles Killian, Lumir ber of the present board seeking re-Honzik and Leo Kraus. Josef Stara, election. Hugg, Campbell and Proctor were all elected by comfortable

Corey is well known as both a track and football man. He has played a brilliant tackle on the Cornhuskers for the past two years. This year he has been a member of the track team, appearing in the weight events.

Otoupalik has been prominent both Rudolph Prokop, Alois Vlasak and in football and wrestling, being captain of the latter team. He played last fall with the champion Cornhuskers at fullback, and he is the present middle-western intercollegiate wrestling champion at 175 pounds, winning the title at the Minnesota meet last April.

Edwin Hugg has played basketball the team last winter. He is prominent in baseball as well, managing the Academic team in the Interdepartmental league.

Campbell is the captain-elect of the basketball team. He played forward last year.

Proctor played halfback on the football team last year. It was his first year as a letter man on the team.

Faculty Members

The student members of the athletic board serve with four members of the university faculty and one alumnus, and the head of the department of physical education and the director of athletics of the university. The board has complete control of recognized sports at the university.
