Published tri-weekly, on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays during the Summer Session, by the Student Publication Board.

Why not a summer school Spanish club? Are the Latins to be outdone by the followers of the Kaiser? Ye Don Quixotes, show your metal.

In this issue are begun two series of feature articles by which The Nebraskan hopes to make the summer students better acquainted with the university. The Who's Who series will include Nebraska faculty men of the summer session who have won special recognition in educational circles. By a series of articles on the new university, we shall try to give some idea of the greatness of the Nebraska that is to be.

To those who love Nebraska, the laying of the corner stone for the Chemistry hall yesterday, brings a thrill of pride in the anticipation of the university of the future. Even now, though we deplore the haphazard and crowded arrangement of our biuldings, the university campus offers a beautiful contrast to its miscellaneously unattractive environment. With the symmetrical arrangement of the new buildings, the new university will be what the farm campus already is, the beauty spot of Lincoln.

We cannot but wish that we might postpone our university course until ten years in the future, that we might enjoy the splendid facilities of the new university plant. But though we cannot do that, we can, as summer students, catch the vision of our school's greatness and transfer that vision to thousands of high school students over the state, persuading them to take advantage of the university to be.

UNINERSITY NOTICES

Palladian reception to summer students, Palladian hall, third floor of Temple tonight at 8:15 o'clock.

The first meeting of "Der Deutsche Klub" will be held Saturday evening instead of Friday as was first announced. The meeting will be at Faculty hall, Temple, at 8 o'clock.

WEDEKING GOES TO OMAHA

Mr. A. J. Wedeking, of the German faculty of the university, has been elected head of the German department of the Omaha central high school.

University students will regret Mr. Wedeking's departure, for he was an able instructor and took an active part in student interests, especially in German dramatics.

Mr. Wedeking came to Nebraska from Indiana university, where he took his undergraduate work. He is to spend the summer in Indiana.

This is the year in which everybody is arranging to have a photograph made on their birthday; a record which you, perhaps, have neglected. Let Townsend serve you. Studio 226 South Eleventh street. 3t

BRIEF BITS OF NEWS

Boyd Rist, '15, will be assistant county demonstrator in Gage county this summer.

R. M. Young has secured a position in the drafting department of the Burlington railroad.

The staff of The Nebraskan is thriving. A growth of 700 per cent since last issue is reported.

The Black Masques of 1915 held a very enjoyable get-to-together luncheon, followed by a theatre party at the Oliver.

Edward Huwalt, '13, former principal at Kearney high school, has been elected principal of South Omaha high school.

Dr. Paul W. Harrison, from Arabia, was in Lincoln Thursday afternoon, on his way to Estes Park. He will be remembered by many who heard him speak at the university on the "Student Volunteer Movement."

A large number of superintendents and principals are taking work in the Graduate School of Education with the view of securing their masters degree and the Graduate Teachers' diploma at the end of the summer session.

I. O. Ash, from the University of West Virginia, comes to Nebraska next fall to hold a scholarship in education. Mr. Ash took his A. B. at West Virginia in 1914 and has spent one summer at the University of Wisconsin.

The Y. M. C. A. wishes to make all students attending the summer session heartily welcome to its rooms. Periodicals, game boards and lounging chairs are provided for general use. Here one may meet friends from all parts of the state in the most congenial of surroundings.

Professor Reed, director of the Teachers' Bureau, announces that a larger percentage of this year's graduates of the Teachers' college of the university have been placed as teachers than ever before at this season. The University Teachers' Bureau has the record of always placing its teachers. Calls for teachers are coming in daily from over the state.

FOUR NEWSPAPER COURSES IN SUMMER SESSION

Newspaper reporting and correspondence, editorial writing, and the writing of special feature and magazine writing will be the subjects of courses offered by the Department of Journalism in the 1916 summer session at the University of Wisconsin. In addition, a special teachers' course on the teaching of newspaper writing in secondary schools and colleges will be offered by the department. Methods of using school and college publications to give pupils practice in writing and editing will be discussed in this teachers' course.

The work in newspaper reporting will include both instruction in methods of news gathering and news writing and practical work for Madison daily papers, under the direction of the instructor in journalism.—Uni. of Wis. Press Bulletin.

Men Wanted

At a salary of $4.75 a day and commission.

We can use 25 more University men for 10 or more weeks work in your home territory (if not already taken).

This is a salary proposition, $4.75 a day, for five days a week, payable weekly, with a commission in addition which should equal salary, to introduce, demonstrate, and put on trial a Ford Foot Throttle in connection with a national advertising campaign.

There are no strings tied to this offer except the requirement of a reasonable amount of work and weekly reports.

Salesmanship is not essential as no money is required in advance from prospective customers. However, we want only men who realize that they are alive and are not afraid of meeting the people.

Address at once.
