Loan Bank Hearings in Nebraska
Washington.—The treasury department has announced that the federal farm loan board will hold hearings in Lincoln September 21 and in Omaha September 22. A change was made in the itinerary of the board so that both Nebraska towns, that are rivals for a farm loan bank, could have hearings. Instead of coming direct to Omaha from Denver, the board will go from Denver to Topeka, Kas., then to Atchison, then to St. Joseph, Mo., then there to Lincoln, and then to Omaha.
