Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

"Respect for the Opinion of Mankind" is the theme of Chancellor Avery's address at convocation today, and a well-chosen theme it is. At a state university, the opinions of mankind are usually very scarce, and the respect for an independent thinker is often in the negative. Chancellor Avery brings out the idea that a desire for the respect of mankind is the incentive toward progress and right living, and that a broad education is necessary for progress in the world.

It is the educated man who keeps the world's scales balanced.

If the university band should go to Oregon with the football team, it would not only put "pep" into the team and help them win, but it would pay from the advertising standpoint. The Nebraska university band is acknowledged the best university band in the country, and because it is human nature for everyone, from the barefooted urchin who follows the circus parade, to the grandfather, who taps his cane to the time of the town band, our band here at Nebraska cannot help but put the university on the map.

The news writing class has doubled in attendance from last semester, and as a result a larger recitation room in the law building must be used. The rapidity with which the course has gained popularity, and the great increase in size is an indication of the increased interest in the journalism courses. The university needs greater facilities with which to teach these courses. It should have a laboratory for practical work in proof reading, copy reading and editing—it should have an organized school of journalism so that the many Nebraska students who go to schools in other states for instruction in journalism, could attend their own state university and receive the extensive training they want.

Life is a see-saw—a man's either going up or going down. He can't keep his balance in the middle very well.

The man who suggests that the admission of women into Phi Beta Kappa should be curtailed "for the sake of the reputation of the society," is just the kind of a human being who causes all this wild raving suffrage terrorism.

WASHINGTON OFFERS COURSE IN CHINESE

A course of instruction in the Chinese written language is being given at Washington this year for the first time. Acting Professor Macy M. Skinner, former master in the Shanghai public school for boys and supervisor of the work of the Chinese teachers, will have charge of the course. It will be included in the department of oriental history, literature and languages, of which Dr. Herbert H. Gowen is the head.

Only a limited number of students can enter this course. These must have the consent of the instructor, as the work is especially designed for students who intend to do definite work in China.

This instruction is planned to meet the needs of expanding commercial relations with China. Instruction of this kind is offered at but two other American institutions.—Exchange.

COLORED SERVICE STRIPES IN USE AT IOWA STATE

At a recent meeting of the athletic council, the service stripes were changed so that each sport now has its distinctive color. The uniform A will still be used and the gold color of the honor letter will remain the same. A gold service stripe will signify that the athlete has won his letter in football, while the other sports are identified as follows: Baseball, black stripe; basketball, green stripe; track, white stripe; cross country, blue stripe, and wrestling, gray stripe.—Exchange.

CAMP COOKERY OFFERED TO MEN

"He" who now takes his fishing tackle and rifle off into the camp life of the woods need not have his vacation spoiled for want of knowledge in the art of cooking, according to the announcement just given out by the home economics department.

A course in "Camp Cookery" has just been established for men by Dean K. McKay. This course will take up the cooking of foods in camp food value, composition, and costs. Any man in college may elect the course. Such colleges and universities as Cornell, Manhattan and Oregon already have similar courses which are exceptionally popular.—U. of W. Daily.

SPORT SPARKS

Our slogan—We must beat the freshmen.

Captain Tim won't be very good fruit for any team this year. He is too Corey.

"Putt" Kelley would make a better sixteenth than he would a quarter.

"Lum" Doyle says that he doesn't need practice tackling the dummy after he has spent an hour or so on the defensive stopping the rushes of Caley, Otoupalik and company. He gets enough of that kind of practice then.

A paragraph in the Topeka Journal states that this is the year in which Kansas is to defeat Nebraska. Oh yeah. Sure. They have done that for the last twenty years or so—on paper.

Sleep peacefully and dream sweet dreams while you can, O Jayhawk, your awakening approacheth swiftly.

"Not half bad," says Cameron, and so we would say if the coaches were waiting for us to get out so that they could use us on the first team. Cameron had reference to his condition.

A sport sage suggests that we develop three classes of teams this year. First class to be used on Notre Dame and Oregon, second class on Ames, and third class on Kansas and Iowa. What will we use on Wesleyan?

"Charley" Sherman was mistaken for Jack Best the other day. Who's the joke on?

Some other guy bet that Moser was the new coach.

The coaches looked like leading actors in a college play when they appeared on the field in their new suits with their hair nicely parted, last Friday.
