DECLARES THE STATE SHOULD GO DRY

J. F. HANLY SPEAKS TO STUDENTS IN TEMPLE

Train Was Late and Candidate Was Delayed—Meeting at 6:15

That Nebraska should go dry in November was the point most stressed by J. Frank Hanly, prohibition party candidate for president of the United States in his address to students in Music hall of the Temple at 6:15 last evening. "You can vote me up or vote me down," he declared at the end of a twenty-minute speech in which he pictured the importance and timeliness of the prohibitory issue and justified his own candidacy. "If you will just stand squarely at the polls November 7 and vote for the amendment which will bring this state from the list of those condemned to those redeemed."

The address was first scheduled for 4:30 in the Temple theater, but Mr. Hanly's train did not reach Lincoln until shortly before 6. The confusion which arose from the delay and the inconveniences of the hour cut down the size of the audience materially. There were scarcely one hundred men and co-eds in attendance, but they were enthusiastic and applauded the candidate heartily.

Economic Standpoint

From an economic standpoint alone, the question of the survival of the liquor traffic was the most momentous of the day, Mr. Hanly declared, after he had been introduced by C. A. Sorenson, '15, as "a man of presidential size and a real issue." More money is yearly expended by the American people for alcoholic drink than is needed to defray all the expenses of the federal government for an equal length of time, including the present unprecedented preparedness program. He cited figures to show that governmental expenses were $400,000,000 less than the amount annually used for liquor consumption. Looking at the economic importance of the issue from another angle, Mr. Hanly called attention to the 350,000 insane men and women in the state and national care, at least 150,000 of whom, he declared, owed their condition directly to the use of alcohol. At least 360,000 of the criminals convicted in the United States also owe their fate directly to John Barleycorn, he said.

Military preparedness could never be the most important issue, said Mr. Hanly, as long as there remain to be uprooted the liquor traffic, a more dangerous foe than an enemy army.

America Efficient

"I believe like Mr. Hughes, in 'America Efficient.' I will go one step farther than Mr. Hughes, however, and propose a method of making her efficient. I propose to make America efficient by making America sober."

America will be thrown into the keenest competition for industrial markets that the world has ever known when the 25,000,000 men engaged in the European war, sobered by the necessity of abstinence, will turn their attention to industrial pursuits when the war is over, in the opinion of Mr. Hanly. He again emphasized the grave importance of making America efficient to meet this competition, an efficiency which could

TULLY AND RILEY WIN PRESIDENCIES

FORMER HAS MAJORITY OF 16 VOTES OVER STURM

Riley Has Comfortable Lead for President of the Freshman Class

The Class Presidents

Senior.....Harold G. Neff, Omaha Junior.....Lloyd M. Tully, Alliance Sophomore.....Carl Harnsberger, Ashland Freshman.....Joseph B. Riley

The Vote

Senior Class	Harold G. Neff.....16
Junior Class	Ralph M. Sturm.....145
	Lloyd M. Tully.....161
Sophomore Class	Carl W. Harnsberger.....17
Freshman Class	Donald F. Gallagher.....31
	Joseph B. Riley.....151
	Clarence F. Rundquist.....65
	Farley Young.....97
	Lloyd M. Tully of Alliance won the junior class presidency over Ralph M. Sturm of Lincoln by a majority of sixteen votes, according to the official count announced by Registrar Greer last night.

The junior class election was fought with more effort than that of the freshman class, both candidates having voters near the polls to waylay the students as they went into Memorial hall to cast their ballots. With only two candidates in the field the issue was sharply drawn, and the result was very much in doubt.

Riley, in the freshman class, received the comfortable plurality of forty-eight votes over Farley Young, his nearest competitor. Clarence Rundquist was third and Donald Gallagher fourth in the field.

DAIRY JUDGING TEAM THIRD IN IOWA CONTEST

The Nebraska dairy judging team took third place at Waterloo, Ia., yesterday, according to information received by Professor Frandsen of the dairy department. C. C. Vasey, of Liberty, won second place in Guernseys, and was tied for first in the entire contest. C. R. Snyder of Kearney won first place in Jerseys.

The team which represented Nebraska in the contest was composed of W. F. Roberts, C. C. Vasey and C. R. Snyder. F. R. Kelley was alternate.

INFORMAL DANCE AT 50 CENTS FOR STUDENTS ONLY, SATURDAY NIGHT

An all-University dance, not in any sense of the word a mixer, will be given at the Armory Saturday night, at 50 cents a couple. Only University students will be admitted, and only men students accompanied by a girl student, can get in. No stags will be allowed.

The dance will commence at 8:30. Tickets may be purchased at the door. This will be the first of a series of informal, inexpensive dances for the students, and the series will be continued if a demand is found for the parties.

DR. HOWARD DECLARES COLLEGE POLITICS GOOD

Dr. G. E. Howard, head of the political science and sociology department, told his seminar Monday afternoon, as they discussed current events, that college politics should be encouraged. He said that he was in favor of having a building, it could be called the forum, large enough for the parties to meet and hold discussions. Politics, not partisanship, should be stimulated, Dr. Howard stated.

STOCK JUDGING TEAM DOES WELL

RANKS FOURTH, BUT CLOSE TO TOP, IN KANSAS CONTEST

Posson, Blotz and Hays Are Placed Among First Ten in Judging

The Nebraska team made a good showing in the intercollegiate contest, held under the rules of the Kansas City Royal Fat Stock show, although its rank was fourth. The possible number of points in the contest was 4,000. All of the teams ranked well up toward the perfect score. The standing of the teams was:

Ames, 3,280 points; Missouri, 3,259 points; Kansas, 3,209 points, and Nebraska, 3,189 points.

This was a very close contest as there was only a difference of ninety-one points between the first and fourth teams.

Nebraskans High

There were three Nebraska men, M. B. Posson, G. A. Blotz and Byron G. Hays, who placed in the first ten places. The other two men on the team were George Neuwanger and Harold Morgan. These men were picked Monday morning just before entering the contest.

The placings were made in the morning at the Coliseum in Kansas City, and the reasons were given in the afternoon at the Coates house.

Eight Classes of Stock

There were eight classes of fat stock in this contest. They represented the different fat stock breeds.

Dean Carlyle of the Oklahoma state agricultural college was judge of the contest.

The Nebraska team spent one day inspecting the stock yards at Kansas City. They also visited the Curtis and Yost farms, where they report they saw some fine Hereford cattle.

WILL TAG GIRLS TO HELP SEND BAND TO PORTLAND, ORE.

The Black Masques, the senior girls' society, will tag all the University girls next Tuesday, as a means of helping raise funds to send the University band to Portland, Ore., with the football team, the week of October 21.

The Black Masques have been anxious that a means could be devised whereby the girl students could show their loyalty to the team in some substantial way, and the tag day was devised as the method. The girls will be allowed to give a lot or a little, but every girl in school will be given an opportunity to help.

SECRET PRACTICE BEGUN ON NEBRASKA FIELD

COACHES STRONG ON BEAR DOPE AND BELIEVE IT THEMSELVES

Reports Brought from Drake Indicate the Bulldogs Will Be a Worthy Foe on the Gridiron

Secret practice was the order on Nebraska field last evening for the first time this year. The signal practice was short and the men had a big grudge to work out on the dummies. Scrimmage for the evening was quite strenuous, with lots of reprimands and orders. The main object of the practice was to increase the accuracy of the men in tackling.

The inauguration of secret practice gives more weight to the belief that the coaches are fearful of the outcome of the first game of the schedule. To hear them talk one would never doubt but that Nebraska is in for a drubbing even at the hands of Drake, not to mention the Kansas Aggies.

Drake formations were used against the varsity by the scrubs. These formations were brought back by Rutherford, who saw Drake squeeze through with a 7-2 victory over the strong Penn college team last Saturday. Dick came back with all sorts of startling information about the surprising strength of a supposedly weak team. And instead of the practice game which was expected for Saturday it will be a real tussle with the team playing its best brand of ball all the time, if it is to come out on the long end of the score.

A Formidable Eleven

Drake has a very formidable eleven, seven of whom are veterans of at least one campaign, and the rest of them are men of exceptional ability in all branches of the game. The old men who form the nucleus of the "Bulldogs" are: O. Smith, Captain Allbaugh, Warnock, Powers, Jernegan, Sprong and D. Smith.

From the south Coach Stewart and Captain Corey came with "bear" dope which makes one's hair stand on end. The Aggies have a team of veterans mostly, and they show it in all their playing. Their backfield, according to Stewart, is a wonder and much better than the one Nebraska can boast of at the present time. Their line, although light, is fast and charges hard and low.

But the worst news from this region is that they have developed an end down there who is a second Chamberlain, except that he lacks the weight of the former Cornhusker star. He runs from the same formation that Guy used to use and Stewart says that he has never seen his equal at side-stepping, or in going through a broken field.

Nebraska Victor?

And as for Nebraska defeating them—why such a thing as that is not to be thought of. No, indeed. They are not worrying about such a small thing as that, what they are worrying about is who will be the easiest victim, Nebraska or Kansas. They think that they will probably beat the Cornhuskers by one more touchdown than they will make against K. U.

The Drake hopes are by no means unfounded, and anyone who thinks that there won't be a real game when the two teams meet, will have another thought coming.

STUDENT UNION COMMITTEE MEETING

Committee Appointed Last June Has Definite Projects Under Consideration

The Student Union committee, named last June by Chancellor Avery after a vote in its favor had been recorded by the University students, will meet tonight at 7 o'clock in the office of Prof. E. H. Barbour, in the museum.

Several definite plans for securing a Union for the University students will be ready for discussion by the committee, and it is probable that within two weeks definite announcements will be made, and proposals suggested for student discussion.

The chairman of the committee, Albert Bryson, is using this means to call the committee together, and will not notify the members individually.

PROF. GRUMAANN EXPLAINS REQUIREMENT FOR MUSIC COURSES

Students still do not understand the conditions under which music may be taken in the University, according to Prof. Paul H. Grummann of the school of fine arts. Applied music is either instrumental or vocal and no student is allowed to take it without satisfying entrance requirements as stipulated in the special music circular.

Students who are looking forward to work in applied music should inform themselves about these requirements so that they may have no difficulty in satisfying them when they wish to register.

Regular arts and science students are permitted by an old law of the University, to take two hours of applied music per semester with a total not to exceed eight hours of credit. Only students who major in music in the fine arts course are allowed to take five hours work in applied music per semester.

EIGHTY STUDENTS TRY FOR PLACES ON DRAMATIC CLUB

Eighty people tried out for places on the University Dramatic club last night at the Temple theater. Miss Alice Howell, associate professor of dramatic art, and several of the club members acted as judges. The names of those who made the places will be announced in a short time in The Daily Nebraskan.

The tryouts last night were the largest in the history of the club, and indicate the increasing interest in dramatic study by the University students. At least one play will be given during the year by the club, and it will probably send a play on the road during University Week.

UNIVERSITY LIFE DEVELOPING TIME

Declares Dr. W. O. Allen of Doane College, Convocation Speaker Yesterday

That the four years of a university life form the period of greatest social and mental development of the student, is the belief of Dr. W. O. Allen of Doane college, expressed to the University students at convocation Tuesday morning.

"As you come into and go through this development learn this secret of life, to value things and events. Don't let your fellow students do your thinking. The university student who can develop balance and properly evaluate life is on the right path to success," Dr. Allen declared.

Dr. Allen urged care in the choice of friends. So many just take chances, and friendship is a priceless thing in life. The friendships that we make in our university life are the ones we carry through life, so be careful. Find the woman or man of your soul and then win the friendship.

Look out for the turns in the road, learn to evaluate life, for success comes by crisis safely passed, Dr. Allen concluded.

WALTER BLUNK NEW BUSINESS MANAGER

Elected by the Student Publication Board Tuesday Noon—Was On Cornhusker Staff

Walter A. Blunk, of Grand Island, a sophomore, was elected business manager of The Daily Nebraskan yesterday noon by the student publication board, to succeed M. L. Poteet, resigned.

Mr. Blunk took up the work of his new position immediately after his election. He comes to the stag of The Nebraskan as an experienced business manager, having managed the Cornhusker of 1916 after Paul Babson, its business manager, had left school.

The Daily Nebraskan staff is now complete for the first time this present semester.

DEMONSTRATION OF PRACTICAL TEACHING BEFORE STUDENTS

The first demonstration lessons before the seniors in the Teachers' college have been given by Miss Letta Clark, instructor in the teaching of English, and Miss Clara Nelson, instructor in the teaching of geography.

These two instructors received their degrees from the University, went out into the public schools and proved their ability to teach high school subjects. They were called back to the University to represent their respective departments in the teaching of their chosen subjects.

The demonstration lessons were given before one hundred students, who noted the excellencies and defects of the procedure and then wrote a careful criticism, applying the principles of philosophy and education to the teaching process. These criticisms are discussed in the classroom freely by the intending teachers.

This is one method used in the best colleges of education for improving the novice in the art of instruction.

SIGMA XI TO BANQUET AT FARM FRIDAY NIGHT

The active members of Sigma Xi will give a dinner in the Home Economics hall at the farm next Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

This meeting will be the first of the year and it is planned to have the active members and their wives present to discuss plans for the coming year.

Dean R. A. Lyman, president of the organization, urges that all of the active members be present.

CORRECT ADDRESSES FOR UNI DIRECTORY

Books for Students Will Be Placed on the Campus Today

Books for students to write in their addresses and telephone numbers, if these have been changed since registration week, will be placed on the campus today, in order that names and addresses may be listed correctly in the University Directory, now being prepared by the University Y. M. C. A.

Only those students who have changed their residence since they registered, or whose telephone number is not listed with the registrar, need place their corrected addresses and telephone numbers on the books on the campus. Two books will be placed on tables on the city campus, and one will be taken to the state University farm.

The directory will be issued before the end of the month. It will contain the name, address, phone number, home town, year in school, college and affiliations of every student, and every member of the faculty, as well as fraternity and sorority lists and other information. It will be sold for twenty cents.
