Entered at the postoffice at Lincoln, Nebraska, as second class mail matter under the Act of Congress of March 3, 1879.

Can you go to a lecture and listen to every word the professor says and realize that he is speaking with some coherence, or must you watch the campus through the window, or think about the dance this week end? The power of concentration is a rare trait to develop and a profitable one.

Pride is one of the most valuable traits of character and one of the most expensive.

When things are lost or found on the campus, the fact should be advertised in The Daily Nebraskan, and the articles which are found should be turned in to the student activities office in the Administration building. The co-operation of the students with the University daily paper can create an efficiency in the lost and found world that will prove beneficial to all.

When we said that the Hughes meeting, Monday night, was a sign of the times, little did we think that those few words would inspire a search in Webster's dictionary and such eloquent flow of sarcasm.

What a dreary life this would be if all of us carried dictionaries around with us to aid in a common understanding of common ordinary words!

As for a discussion of politics, the Forum column will have all letters that come to the office and that are printable. We would remind the enthusiasts, too, that a debate on the present issue will be held in the near future, and plenty of opportunity for the display of differences will be given at that time.

One good friend is worth a million acquaintances.

FORUM

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 3, 1916.

To the Editor of The Daily Nebraskan:

The executive council of the Wilson club attacking your editorial, does not seem to care so much about the signs of the times as they do to refer sarcastically to those students whose convictions place them in the republican party. To hear them talk one must believe that he alone who votes for Wilson is without sin, while he who dares to express an opposite opinion merely shows the world how foolish he is.

Their objection is not so much that the editor called it a "sign of the times," but that there are people in the University who cannot possess the same caliber of judgment as themselves and actually dare to organize against them. If they would accept the Hughes club as a sign of the coming election and meet the club as men should meet men, it is all right, but to personally pick out one or two men who are good as themselves and deliberately pronounce their convictions as "poppycock" does not seem fair to me. All one needs is a paint brush to throw mud.

JOHN WENSTRAND.

Lincoln, Neb., Oct. 4, 1916.

To the Editor, Daily Nebraskan:

The Woodrow Wilson club in their editorial charge that the republicans have no "constructive policy." This is a common campaign argument. The following quotation from the republican platform will show whether their assertion is backed up by facts:

Rural Credits

We favor an effective system of rural credits as opposed to the ineffective law proposed by the present democratic administration.

START RIGHT

Have your eyes tested by our Registered Optometrist. If you don't need glasses he'll gladly tell you so.

Repairs promptly made.

Rural Free Delivery

We favor the extension of the rural free delivery system and condemn the democratic administration for curtailing and crippling it.

Merchant Marine

In view of the policies adopted by all the maritime nations to encourage their shipping interests, and in order to enable us to compete with them for the ocean-carrying trade, we favor the payment to ships engaged in the foreign trade a liberal compensation for services actually rendered in carrying the mails, and such further legislation as will build up an adequate American merchant marine and give us ships which may be requisitioned by the government in time of national emergency.

Railroads

Interstate and intrastate transportation have become so interwoven that the attempt to apply two and often several sets of laws to its regulation has produced conflicts of authority, embarrassment in operation and inconvenience and expense to the public.

The entire transportation system of the country has become essentially national. We, therefore, favor such action by legislation or if necessary, through an amendment to the constitution of the United States as will result in placing it under complete federal control.

Economy and a National Budget

The increasing cost of the national government and the need for the greatest economy of its resources in order to meet the growing demands of the people for government service call for the severest condemnation of the wasteful appropriations of this democratic administration, of its shameless raids on the treasury, and of its opposition to and rejection of President Taft's oft repeated proposals and earnest efforts to secure economy and efficiency through the establishment of a simple businesslike budget system to which we pledge our support and which we hold to be necessary to effect any real reform in the administration of national finances.

Conservation

We believe in a careful husbandry of all the natural resources of the nation—a husbandry which means development without waste; use without abuse.

Civil Service Reform

The Civil Service Law has always been sustained by the republican party, and we renew our repeated declarations that it shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended where ever practicable. The democratic party has created since March 4, 1913, thirty thousand offices outside of the civil service law at an annual cost of forty-four million dollars to the taxpayers of the country.

Respectfully,
M. LILLIFORS.
